BASEBALL AVERAGES FOR 1902.

A Resume of the Work Done by Last Year's Team.

The baseball season of 1902 at Bucknell was more successful than many of those that have preceded it. Of 27 games played with both college and 11 professional teams, 16 were won and lost, a percentage of .583, or better than the average college team does. Bucknell made an excellent showing with teams in her class, but when she stepped into faster company, her work was far from satisfactory. Considered as being in Bucknell's class are Lehigh, Lafayette, Indiana, Manhattan, Fordham, Franklin and Marshall, Gettysburg, Dickinson, Bloomsburg, Gallandet and perhaps, Lebanon Valley. In contests with these teams, Bucknell won 11 and lost 5. Of these 5 three man from the time the candidates were called until the last game was played.

At least four games were lost that should have been won, those with Lafayette at Lewisburg, F. and M. at Lancaster; Bloomsburg at Bloomsburg. And they likely would have been won, had the players been taught the fine points of the game. The fact that but nine sacrifice hits were made in the 27 games is very significant. Time after time Bucknell would get a man on first only to have him forced at second.

The base running of the team was also poor. A total of 50 stolen bases is good, but the most of these were made in easy games.

The batting was a redeeming feature of the season's work. The eleven regular players, including pitchers, averaged .270, which is first class. The

OUR PROSPECTS IN FOOTBALL.

Coch Hoskins has an Abundance of Material this Year.

In response to the call of Coach Hoskins, nearly a score of students reported for preliminary football practice on September 9th. Since then there have been additions to the squad and by the middle of the week the number will probably pass 30.

There is an abundance of football material in the men Coach Hoskins has in charge, and one of the best eleven in Bucknell's history should be developed. The failure of Captain McMahon to return, or to at least notify the authorities of his intentions, placed the coach at a slight disadvantage, which, however, proved to be only temporary. With Wilcox as acting captain, Coach Hoskins has been able to make excellent progress with the squad. Last week was spent in teaching the men to tackle and in the working of the signals.

Of last year's line men, the centre trio, Wilcox, Taylor and Gillis, Shipple and Douglas, end, have returned. Smith, quarter, McCormick, full-back and Cockill, half, are also back in college. Those of last year's substitutes who are trying for positions this year are Johnson, Anderson, Vorse, and Bell. Johnson is being tried at tackle and full back, Anderson at quarter and end, Vorse at end and Bell at end. Cockill is also being tried at end.

The most promising new men are, Orosky, Cooper, Bovard, Wolfe, Shields, Phelps and Claypool. Orosky and Cooper are trying for tackle, Phelps and Bovard for half, Shields for fullback, Wolfe for end and Claypool for quarter. Pearce, who came during the winter term last year, is being tried at quarter and half.

On Friday, Wilcox was chosen Captain.

Two elevens, picked from the squad, lined up against each other on Saturday and neither side scored.

The following is the schedule for the season:

Sept. 27, Steelton Y. M. C. A., at Lewisburg.

Oct. 4, University of Buffalo, at Buffalo.

Oct. 11, Indians, at Williamsport.

Oct. 18, Muhlenberg College, at Lewisburg.

Oct. 25, University of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia.

Nov. 1, Villa Nova College, at Lewisburg.

Nov. 8, Yale, at New Haven.

Nov. 15, Naval Cadets, at Annapolis.

Nov. 22, W. and J., at Washington, Pa.

Nov. 27, (Thanksgiving Day) Baltimore Medical College, at Baltimore.

Negotiations are pending for a game with the Pittsburg league team at Pittsburg on October 18, and if the contest is arranged Muhlenberg will be given a mid-week game.

Dr. Harris gave an interesting and helpful address to the student body this morning. Lack of space prevents further notice.

Bucknellites Were Successful.

In the contests for positions as instructors in schools, Bucknell talent was recognized almost without exception. Graduates and former students were remarkably successful, as the following list, incomplete as it is, will show:

McCracken, '02, was elected to the principalship of the Greensburg High School, in a contest where the applicants numbered more than one hundred and fifty, representing thirty colleges and schools.

Edgar Reed, '00, was chosen principal of the Milton schools.

Ulmer, '02, was elected to the Department of Science in the Williamsport High School.

Snyder, '02, was elected principal of the Berwick schools.

Weaver, ex-'03, was chosen assistant principal of the Muncy schools.

Purdy, '98, was elected assistant science teacher of the Slippery Rock State Normal School.

Cooper, '02, secured the principalship of the schools in a town in Millin county.

Miss Halfpenny, '02, was elected to teach in the Milton public schools.

Heckert, '02, was chosen principal of a ward school in Mauch Chunk.

Martz, '02, was elected to the faculty of South Jersey Institute, Bridgeton, N. J.

Reilly, '02, was chosen as teacher in Hall Institute, Philadelphia.

Miss Martin, '00, has been chosen preceptress and teacher of German in Palmer Institute, on Lake Geneva, N. Y.

As is stated in the Institute items, Miss Halfpenny, '02, is teaching in the Milton schools; Miss Bacon, '02, at Bridgeton, N. J.; and Miss Runyan, '02, at Cumberland Gap, Tenn.

Bucknell and the Strike.

Bucknell was well represented in those regiments of the National Guard that were called out to quell disturbances in the coal regions.

On the staff of the 12th Regiment were Adjutant Gretzinger, Quarter master John V. Leisher, and Regimental Sergeant George D. Deppen.

In Company A, Lewisburg were the following: Capt. Follmer, Lieut. Petzer, Sergeants Elliott and T. M. Shorkley, Corporals Christ, '04, Chas. Shorkley, '03, Privates Bell, '00, Bliss, '03, Myers, '04, Sifer, '04, Moore, '06, Wolfe, '05, and James Groff.

Flack, '05, was a member of Company G, 12th Regiment.

General Miller's Gift.

As briefly announced during commencement last June, Major General Charles Miller presented the four graduates of highest standing with $50 each, and stated that each year, beginning in 1903, he would give a similar amount to each of the ten graduates standing highest in the class. The generosity of General Miller is appreciated alike by the faculty and the students. His latest gift will serve as an incentive to students to put forth their best efforts, and for this reason will work to the benefit of the benefit of the institution.

should have been won, having been lost by one run each.

The team was out of its class when it played Pennsylvania, Princeton and the Athletics. The showing made against Penn. and the Athletics was fair, but the game with the Tigers was the greatest disappointment of the season. The orange and blue was scored under 19 to 1. It was hoped that Bucknell would put up a good fight against the New Jersey college, but Princeton was at her best and Bucknell apparently at her worst.

The poor showing of the team at times can be attributed to two things, weakness in the box and lack of coaching, particularly the latter. There is not a follower of Bucknell athletics but will admit that never before did the college have better material, except, perhaps, in the pitching line. The weakness of the pitching corps could doubtless have been greatly remedied had the team been coached properly. "Eddie" Lee was engaged to coach the nine after the first five games had been lost and did good work; but what was needed was such a fielding of the team was not so good. The same eleven players averaging .802.

The figures given below, showing the work of the nine, will be found to contain much of interest. McCormick proved to be the premier batter, having the unusual average of .447. The big right fielder was not only a consistent hitter, but a hard hitter as well. He was followed closely by Waldensaul, who batted at .430. Both players were regular in their hitting, McCormick missing a hit in four games and Waldensaul in five. Both had the same number of hits. The only other player above the 300 mark was Cockill, who batted at .310. Anderson batted at .308, but as he played in only six games, most of them easy ones, his record should not be put into competition with the others. Milligan, who led the team with the stick in 1901, had an off-year and batted only .209. His duties as captain were no doubt largely responsible for the slump.

Smith hit in hard luck all season, but managed to pull up with .252, about about average for an infielder.

Assistant.

AT THE beginning of the seventh year of its existence and at the opening of another college year, the ORANGE AND BLUE offers its greetings. To both old and new students it extends a cordial welcome. We earnestly solicit the hearty support of the student body. It is the duty of every new student to keep in touch with all affairs pertaining to college life. A student who knows nothing of what transpires among his fellows and of the institution of which he is a member, is by no means an ideal student, and there is no better or quicker way of acquainting oneself with the institution and its various customs than by subscribing for the college publications.

The manager will be around to see you if he has not already done so. Do not fail to subscribe. College publications are always what the students make them and cannot be conducted successfully without their hearty support, financial and otherwise. The editors will do all in their power to please their patrons. If you have any suggestions to make, come to them and your suggestions will be gratefully received.

In another column the work of the base ball team of 1902 is set forth in figures. While the nine made a better showing than those of most colleges in Bucknell's class, the results were not as satisfactory as were hoped for; nor as good as they should have been. The orange and blue had better talent last year than perhaps she has ever had. That a better showing was not made can be attributed largely to the fact that the players were not properly coached. The captain was not at fault. It is too much to expect of an amateur that he develop all that is in the men under him. Such can be done only by a person of wider experience and higher authority. Base ball at Bucknell will never be successful until it is placed upon the same basis as football, track and field, and basket ball.

STUDENTS and other friends of Bucknell athletes have every reason to feel encouraged at the prospects of the football team, which no doubt will maintain the excellent record our athletic teams have made during the past few years. The college students should not fail to respond to any appeal for aid and encouragement that is made in its behalf.

The University enters upon the fifty-third year of its existence under the most encouraging conditions. The various departments are well-filled, and the corps of instructors better fitted than ever to carry on the work of the institution. The college year of 1902-3 is full of promise for Bucknell.

Bucknell is indeed fortunate in having among its patrons a man of such beneficence as Major General Charles Miller, whose latest act of generosity toward the institution is told in another column. General Miller is blessed with an unusual amount of the world's goods, and he is willing that others should enjoy them.

Among those who will not return this fall are Misses Mayne Davis, Belle Clark, Belle Hoover, Inez Elke, Marjorie Church, Lavinia Magee, Clara Cassel, Lola Burchinal, and Jessie Nixon.

Saturday evening the College Settlement Association gave an informal reception to the new students in the Institute parlors. During the evening games were played and a musical program was rendered by Misses Alken, Edleman and Gerhart. Light refreshments were served, after which there was a purely sociable time. This annual event proved very enjoyable and a good way for the new girls to become acquainted.

Bucknell's Large Attendance. Bucknell University opened with an accession of one hundred and thirty-nine to the College. The other departments are well filled. Total enrollment is over six hundred. There 110 in the Freshman class and a number of students entered from other colleges. The additional instructors and assistants took up their work.

The following additional announcements have been made: Maneval, '02, to be assistant science teacher in the college. Miss Davenport, of Peabody Institute and New England Conservatory of Music, to be instructor in the School of Music. Miss Unger, '02, to be a teacher in the Institute.

Besides having the highest batting average McCormick also led in long hits. His total of 90 bases will likely not be equaled at Bucknell in a long time. Weidensaul came next with 71. McCormick led in home runs and triples, and was a tie with Weidensaul and Cockill in doubles.

Weidensaul was the champion runner, scoring 37 times, to 36 by McCormick, his nearest competitor. Other good run getters were Smith and Grimsinger.

In base running Cockill led with a total of twenty steals. Grimsinger and Smith were close with 17 and 15 respectively.

Smith and Cockill were tied for honors in sacrifice hitting, each having three. The former got bumped the most by the pitcher, having been hit by a pitched ball six times. He was hit three times in the game at Lock Haven. Milligan proved to be the best water, securing free transportation to first eleven times. Jackel caused the greatest disturbance of the atmosphere, striking out thirteen times. He was followed closely by Smith, Stanton and Milligan.

Captain Milligan was at the head in fielding, with Stanton close behind. The other players were behind the average in their work.

The appended figures do not show the respective work of the pitchers. Of the regular twirlers Jackel and Eppler are tied for first honors, with Veil last. The latter, however, pitched in the most difficult games. The totals of Veil and Jackel are almost the same. The former was the only pitcher of the quintette to shut out his opponents.

The following table shows the individual work in batting and fielding:

BUCKNELL WAS VICTORIOUS

Steelton Defeated in a Fast and Snappy Game Saturday.

On a soggy field, under a threatening sky was fought one of the most stubborn contests ever seen at Bucknell, when Steelton Y. M. C. A. eleven was defeated by the score of 6-0 on Saturday afternoon. The visitors were nearly all former college men and have been playing together for the past four years; consequently their teamwork was almost perfect. They confidently expected to be the victors, and was evidenced by the large crowd of rooters that accompanied them and their desire to lay out considerable money to back their opinions.

Bucknell students ought to feel exceptionally proud of the showing made by the "varsity," inasmuch as they were greatly handicapped during the week by the inclement weather, which made out-door practice an impossibility; while in the gymnasium nothing but signal practice could be indulged in.

The game was marked by considerable roughness throughout, the visitors being the greatest offenders. Fortunately no serious injuries resulted and beyond the usual bumps and bruises, both teams fared remarkably well.

The work of Shannon and Roop of the visitors was of the star order. Both men played hard and made gains every time the ball was given them. The work of Metzentine was a disappointment to the Steeltonites. They expected him to antonish the spectators with some of his remarkable runs, but his speed counted for naught when pitted against the "varsity," and he was repeatedly thrown back for losses.

On the "varsity" every man played a strong steady game. But the manner in which Ozersky, Bovard, Shipp, Phelps and Johnson plowed holes in their opponents' line, augurs well for strong showings against the big teams later in the season. Cockill and Douglas were quick in getting down the field under kicks and could be relied upon to gain their ground upon every occasion. In the centre Capt. Wilcox, Gillis and Taylor proved invulnerable and made gains in the opposing line that a wagon could be driven through. The appearance of McCormick in the second half elicited vociferous applause. "Strenuous" played his usual good game and outdistanced Pearson with his kicks. Anderson's work was of the stellar order, his running and tackling having seldom been excelled. This being his initial game he was somewhat slow at giving the signals, but a little more experience will make him invaluable.

Bucknell won the toss and chose the west goal. Johnson kicked off to Roop, who was downed in short order by Anderson. Shannon made several gains through the line but the ball finally went to Bucknell on downs. Johnson and Shipp failed by a few inches in making the required distance, and the ball went to Steelton in mid-field. Clever defensive work by Cockill, Taylor and Ozersky prevented Steelton from advancing the ball, which again came to Bucknell on downs. Ozersky, Bovard and Phelps made first down twice, but Steelton finally held and got the ball. It came back to Bucknell on downs a minute later.

A penalty and gains by Shipp, Johnson and Ozersky gained Bucknell considerable distance, but the ball was lost on downs. Steelton was forced to kick and Johnson got the ball on his own 40-yard line and returned it ten yards. Bucknell lost the ball on a fumble, but soon got possession of it again on downs. Bucknell then went at the Steelton line and by plunges by Bovard, Ozersky, Shipp, Johnson, Phelps and Cockill carried the ball to the visitors' 20-yard line, when the whistle blew.

The second half found McCormick at fullback, and Johnson in Douglas' place at end. Douglas officiated in place of McCormick. Pearson kicked off to Anderson, who carried it back to Steelton's 40-yard line. The run was a sensational piece of work, and but for Pearson would have gone for a touchdown. Bucknell lost the ball on downs. Steelton carried it to mid-field, where they were held for downs. McCormick kicked on first down to Steelton's 20-yard line. The visitors were forced to kick, Bucknell getting the ball in the middle of the field. Bucknell couldn't gain and Steelton got the ball. Pearson kicked to Bucknell's 20-yard line, where the "varsity" lost it on a fumble.

At this stage Bucknell's stock took a drop. Line plunges, followed by a quarterback kick placed the ball on Bucknell's 5-yard line. The orange and blue held and the visitors were unable to advance the ball but two yards in three trials. Standing back of the goal McCormick made a clever punt to the middle of the field. Bucknell got the ball on downs. McCormick again punted and Bucknell again got the ball on downs. Then started the march for the goal. Line plunges by Bovard and Shipp and a clever end-run by Shields placed the ball over the line. McCormick kicked goal.

Following the next kick-off Bucknell gained repeatedly and would probably have forced another goal but for the blowing of the whistle.

Playing in Fast Company.

James Sebring, who was on the Bucknell base ball team in 1901, played with Worcester in the Eastern League a greater part of last season. In September he joined Pittsburg, in the National League, and has since been putting up a fine game. Jim is sure of a berth next season.

Weidensaul, '02, played with the Binghamton team in the New York State League until its season closed and then joined Toronto, in the Eastern League. In the State League he was among the top-notchers both in fielding and batting, and when he joined faster company he more than held his own. Yencer will likely begin playing in the Eastern League next season.

Doolin, of the 1900 base ball team, played Jersey City in the Eastern League, under the name of "Mack" during the past season, and did well.

New Football Rules.

The changes in the football rules this season have not been extensive, as will be seen from going over the alterations. The real methods of play are not materially affected by them. However, four decided changes have been made:

The two sides now change goals after a try at goal from a touchdown or after a successful field-kick goal.

Rule 16, Section (6) is another decided change. If in snapping back the ball the player so doing be off-side twice in the same down the opponents receive five yards. The penalty was formerly loss of the ball. Loss of five yards is considered less severe, and it gives the side an opportunity to still make its distance.

The rule respecting side-line coaching has been strengthened. It reads: "There shall be no coaching by substitutes or by any other persons not participating in the game. No one except the twenty-two players shall, under any circumstances, come upon the field of play, save only in the case of an accident to a player, and then but one official representative, and he previously designated to the umpire, shall have his right. Only five men shall be allowed to walk up and down on each side of the field, the rest, including substitutes, water carriers, and all who are admitted within the enclosure, must be seated throughout the entire game. None of those shall come on the field without permission of the umpire. The breaking of any part of this rule shall be considered a foul and be punished by loss of two yards to the side whose man infringes, the number of yards and the point to be gained remaining unchanged."

The alterations were made with the intention of preventing coaching by water carriers, and others who rush upon the field presumably to assist injured players, but in reality to coach the men.

The new wording of this rule puts it in the hands of the umpire to prevent this and to see that the field of play is kept clear.

By the old rules if a foul occurred while a run was being made the off-side received 15 yards no matter how far the ball had been carried. The penalty has been increased to 25 yards. The object in not allowing the entire distance gained by the run, if it were for instance 50 yards, is that the referee's whistle might, in some cases, prevent the opponents from tackling.

A Summer Marriage.

Creighton M. Konkle, '01, of Montoursville, and Miss Laura Allen, '01, of Oseola, were married on July 2 at the home of the bride. They have since made their home at Montoursville, but will move to New York City where Mr. Konkle resumes his position with the American Tinplate Company during the winter.

The union of this popular and worthy couple calls forth the hearty congratulations and best wishes of their many friends.

The Indian Game.

The student body is looking anxiously forward to the Bucknell-Indian game at Williamsport on October 11th, and the indications are that the pilgrimage from the college and town will be very large. Both Bucknell and the Indians have better teams than last year and the contest gives promise of being hard fought. Manager Dunlap has secured a rate of one fare for the round trip, over the Reading road. The tickets will be good returning on a special train immediately after the game or on the regular trains. Every student should feel it his duty to attend this game.

Blackwood, ex-'05, is employed on an engineering corps in New Jersey and will not return to college this year.

Elliott, '02, has been spending a few days in town. He will enter Medical Chi., Philadelphia, in October.

FRIDAY, 7 P. M. Eucopia Literary society meets in Eucopia Hall, main college.
SUNDAY, 9.30 A. M.—College Bible Class, Baptist church.

ON SATURDAY the term in athletics began in earnest with a glorious victory for Bucknell. The prospects are encouraging for a successful season; but with a good team and capable coaching success is not assured. The co-operation of the student body is an essential factor in capturing the football prize. Little can be accomplished without it; and in order to maintain the high standard of excellence which the team has gained in the past year, aid, financial or otherwise, is most earnestly solicited. A team is what the students make it, and judging from from practice work and the showing on Saturday, the team is deserving of the hearty support of every student. So, come out to the game, and cheer the boys on to victory. We haven't many games on the home grounds and those we are so fortunate in having should be well patronized.

In less than two weeks the game of the season at Williamsport between Carlisle Indians and Bucknell will take place; what the outcome will be remains to be seen. We expect the largest delegation of rooters at Williamsport on that day that has ever left Bucknell. Let everyone from now until the great decision is given, put forth an effort to make this a game long to be remembered in the history of Bucknell.

In last week's issue of the ORANGE AND BLUE attention was briefly called to the fact that in the contests for positions as instructors in schools, Bucknell talent was recognized almost without exception. This is gratifying to all Bucknellites and their friends.

Bucknell is forging ahead at a rapid pace; her graduates are being placed in the scale of ability and efficiency, and from all indications the great majority are not found wanting, which reflects most creditably on the work done at our institution. The proof of an assertion is the demonstration and the standing of a school is shown by its graduates, who are being tested continually in all departments of learning. Naturally the strongest survive and are given the preference. Competition for good position is keen but notwithstanding this fact Bucknell graduates, not by political pulls but through sheer force of merit, were successful in shaking the plums from the educational tree, which commends itself highly to all Bucknellites and also shows the supremacy of Bucknell over institutions of its kind.

A CORRESPONDENT of the New York Sun recently took that paper to task as follows:

"TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN:—Sir: Allow me to suggest that the use of the word (or rather, word slaughtered by decapitation) 'Varsity' in our newspapers is not justified either by etymology, authority or usage in this country."

"Because the Bow Bells boy speaks of a 'lolly,' a 'polper,' or a 'varsity' it does not seem that THE SUN should advocate the usage. Suppose, in the interests of philology, as well as abbreviations and picturesqueness, you use the word 'varsity.' Then some time in the future, we may see 'varsities' triumphing over 'varsities' over the chessboard, in field athletics, in rowing, sailing, polo, and, above all in purity of language."

"Incidentally the publication of this letter may lead to eliciting the fact that Oxford and Cambridge are universities while Harvard, Columbia, Yale and Princeton are universities."

The Sun made the following reply: "Do we advocate the use of 'varsity'?" We didn't know it. It seems to us that somewhere in the dark background and abyss of time the college crew, even when the college was a university in name, was simply and affectionately called 'the crew'; and the university baseball team was the 'nine.' Merely this, and nothing more. Are the under graduates more magnificent of language now? Has 'the eleven' been ousted by the 'Varsity eleven? From the heights of his audacity, the ancient graduate ventures to appeal to the fortunate youths of to-day. Surely 'the crew,' 'the nine,' 'the eleven,' the 'laccrosse team' and so on are still in good use in yard and campus."

"Varsity" is an importation and was an affectation. Still, if it is in general use in the colleges, what is the use of kicking against that use? We cannot slam the door in the face of every word we don't like. "Varsity" is better and more natural than "varsity" and should prevail. Let the better word beat. If it can and meanwhile lose no sleep."

Bowen, '95, who is now pursuing a course in philosophy at University of Pennsylvania, preached in the Baptist Church on Sunday morning.

Berollette, '93; Deats, '94; White, '94; Bacon, '94; Martz, '94; Wilcox, '94; McCain, '95; and Thomas, '96, attended the Bloomsburg-Pennsylvania game at Bloomsburg last Tuesday.

VOL. VII. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1902. No. 3

BUCKNELL EASILY DEFEATED

Bucknell Took the Bisons into Camp by a Large Score.

The University of Buffalo proved the easiest kind of game for Bucknell's sturdy representatives, on the former's grounds Saturday. The score was 29 to 0.

So completely were they outplayed and outclassed that the goal of Bucknell was never in danger.

The Bucknell players were much heavier than their opponents and expended little or no difficulty in breaking up interference and stopping plays before they were fairly started.

Buffalo was kept strictly on the defensive throughout the game, and only twice did she succeed in making a first down. However, they were not lacking in one of the essentials of the game—grit; and it was not until the referee's whistle blew at the end of the second half that they considered themselves defeated.

The improvement shown by Bucknell, both in offensive and defensive work, was noticeable. The men worked together and far exceeded the Bisons in team work.

A noticeable feature of the game was Bucknell's line-backing. Every man sent against the line made his distance, and it early became apparent that Bucknell would win by a large score, the only question being as to how many touchdowns would be made.

The work of the entire team was praiseworthy. The best ground gainers, however, were Phelps, Shipp, Ozersky and McCormick. For Buffalo, Trumbull, the left end, formerly of Cornell, put up a sensational game.

The game was called at three o'clock. Bucknell kicked off to Simpson. Deuce gained three yards through tackle. Lawrence fumbled and Anderson fell on the ball. Cockill skirled left for three yards. Phelps failed to gain the required distance and McCormick punted fifty yards for a touchback. Buffalo punted from the 25-yard line and Ozersky carried the ball twenty-five yards. Shipp and Ozersky carried it eight yards and Bovard dashed through for ten yards. Buffalo was penalized for off-side play. Shipp gained five yards and was followed by Bovard, who gained two yards. With a mighty rush of eight yards, Ozersky was shoved over the line for a touchdown four minutes after the game commenced. McCormick kicked goal.

Wilbur kicked off to Ozersky, who carried the ball back ten yards before he was bowled over by Trumbull. The ball went to Buffalo on downs. Simpson tried to circle right end, but was thrown for a loss by Douglas. Lawrence gained two yards through the line. Ozersky punted Deuce to the ground in his attempt to circle the end and Wilbur was forced to kick.

Then commenced a series of rushes by Phelps for fifteen yards, Bovard for ten yards, McCormick for ten yards, Shipp for five yards, and finally Phelps, by a clever twenty-five yard run, carried the ball over the line for a touchdown. McCormick kicked goal.

Buffalo kicked off to Anderson, who carried the ball back fifteen yards before he was downed by Trumbull. Bucknell was forced to punt. Lawrence carried the ball five yards, but when he essayed an end-run he was thrown for a loss of six yards. Buffalo punted. Anderson returned the ball twenty yards before being downed. Phelps, McCormick, Bovard and Cockill now smashed through the line and it looked as if another touchdown was imminent, but a fumble gave the ball to Cannon, who carried it eleven yards before he was grounded. Buffalo punted to Anderson. Bucknell lost the ball and time was called with Buffalo making a futile effort to break through tackle. Score 12-0.

In the second half Buffalo kicked off to Anderson, who returned it forty yards. Plunges and end runs by Ozersky, Bovard, Cockill, McCormick and finally a sprint for thirty yards by Phelps, carried the ball to Buffalo's five yard line, when Shipp was sent over for a touchdown. McCormick booted the leather between the posts for another goal.

At the kick-off Taylor returned the ball twenty yards. Cockill was sent through tackle for ten yards. A rush by Bovard brought the ball fifteen yards nearer his opponents' goal. Phelps fumbled and Rice, securing the ball, made a dash for the Bucknell goal; but Cockill threw him so hard that he dropped the ball. Cockill secured it and carried it to within a few inches of Buffalo's line where he was downed. Bovard essayed to carry the ball over, but the Bison's held him adamant. McCormick hurdled the line for a touchdown. He failed to kick goal.

On the next kick-off Anderson returned the ball ten yards. Phelps was sent around the end for ten yards. Shipp carried it seven and Cockill made six more. Phelps was tackled by Simpson after passing the rest of the Bisons. Ozersky carried it nine yards, Bovard four and Shipp tore through for nine yards. Shipp fumbled and Bovard got the ball on her 1-yard line. Wilbur kicked to the 30-yard line, where Cockill got the ball. Phelps failed to gain. A quarter-back kick was successfully worked, McCormick getting the ball. Phelps and McCormick gained two yards each. Bovard failed to gain. Buffalo was penalized for off-side play. Shipp with

Next Saturday's Game.

A meeting marked with much enthusiasm was held by the students in the gymnasium on Thursday night to make the preliminary arrangements for cheering at the Bucknell-Indian game at Williamsport on next Saturday.

Manager Dunlap of the football team called the meeting to order and stated that the object of the gathering was to organize the students for systematic rooting at the Williamsport game. McCabe, '04, was chosen to preside over the meeting. Bertolotto, '03, and Senn, '03, were elected chief marshals for the game. Speeches were made by several members of the team and enthusiasm ran high. After rehearsing a number of the yells the meeting adjourned until 9 o'clock on Monday evening. It was also decided to have another meeting on the evening before the game.

Manager Dunlap is having printed a number of Bucknell songs, including several parodies on up-to-date songs, which will be distributed among the students at the meeting Monday night. Everybody should turn out at the next two meetings and learn the yells and songs, for consistent rooting, especially at Williamsport where so many of the inhabitants are for the Indians, goes a long way toward winning games.

The chief marshals have appointed the following assistants: Sturges, '04; Reimer, '05; and Owens, '06.

The marshals especially request that all students be on the athletic field on Thursday and Friday afternoons to rehearse the cheering. They also request that no cowbells or tin horns be taken to Williamsport, as the cheering cannot be conducted systematically with such implements. It has also been requested that the students refrain from any demonstrations on the streets of Williamsport between the time the train arrives and the game. All energy will be needed for the cheering at the game. Bucknell's headquarters will be established at the Walford Hotel.

Manager Dunlap has secured excursion rates on all roads leading to Williamsport, the fare one way being charged for the round trip.

The Indians and Dickinson were scheduled to play, but the contest was declared off because Dickinson refused to agree to two 35-minute halves, which Coach Warner demanded. A despatch from Carlisle states that the incident will likely result in athletic relations between the two institutions being severed.

The Literary Societies.

THETA ALPHA.
Theta Alpha held its regular weekly meeting Friday evening. After the usual opening exercises, reports of committees, etc., a literary program was carried out as follows: Current Events, by Dershlimer, '03. These were given in an entertaining manner by the speaker, who mentioned numerous topics of current interest.

The debate was next taken up. The second speaker on each side being absent, the main speakers opened the discussion, and the debate was then made general. The main speakers were Robey, '04, affirmative; and Phillips, '06, negative, substitute for Ealy, '04. The question was, "Resolved: that it is for the best interests of the people for the Government to own and control the coal mines." The judges decided in favor of the negative.

Several members participated in general debate. Report of critic was then heard, after which society adjourned.

EUPHIA.

The regular meeting of Euphia Literary Society was held on Friday evening.
Coverdale, '05, was elected to membership.
Henry, '05, gave a select reading, "The Man with the Hoe." Robbins, '05, followed with an extemporaneous on "The Strike Question," and handled his subject very well.

Lively, '04, recited "How we Hunted the Moose," in a pleasing manner.
The question for debate, "Resolved that the United States Government should establish and maintain a National university at Washington," was discussed on the affirmative by Bartholomew, '03, and Renn, '04; on the negative by Robinson, '04, and Wood, '05. Decision was made in favor of the negative side.

The critic made his report and testified as to the good results obtained from the literary society.

The Bible Classes.

The Sophomore and Freshman Bible classes have reorganized for the year and have commenced active work. Each starts out with twenty members, with prospects of additions. The Senior and Junior Bible classes will likely be organized this week. The college professors, who formerly taught the classes, have asked to be relieved from teaching on Sunday afternoons and for that reason the meetings will be held on Monday evenings at 9 o'clock. Prof. Phillips will teach the Sophomore class and, for the present, Forbell, '03, the Freshman class.

The General Miller Scholarships.

Through the generosity of General Miller, the University will be enabled to give further aid to worthy students. General Miller will next year give ten scholarships to students in need of assistance, who may have attained high standing in their class-work. The scholarships awarded on Commencement Day.

Calendar for Week of October 6th.

Monday, 9 p. m.—Mass meeting of students in the Gymnasium.
Tuesday, 9 p. m.—Y. M. C. A. meeting in Y. M. C. A. room West College.

Tuesday, 1.15 p. m.—Meeting of the class of 1901 in Bucknell Hall.

Thursday, 4 p. m.—Rehearsal of yells and songs on the athletic field.
Friday, 4 p. m.—Second rehearsal on the athletic field.

7.30 p. m.—Meetings of the Euphonia and Theta Alpha literary societies in their respective halls.

9 p. m.—Mass meeting of students in the gymnasium.

Saturday.—Bucknell-Indian game at Williamsport.

Sunday, 9.30 a. m.—College Bible Class, Baptist church.

The numerous accessions to the ranks of the Young Men's Christian Association and bible classes is most gratifying, showing as it does that the spiritual side of the Bucknell student is not being neglected.

The editor of THE ORANGE AND BLUE desires to make the weekly calendar a permanent part of the paper, and all students are requested to assist by handing in such notices of meetings as will be of interest to the student body.

The faculty of Lehigh University has passed a ruling similar to that adopted at Bucknell three years ago, prohibiting students from joining fraternities until they become Sophomores in full standing. The new ruling goes into effect January 1st, 1903. Bucknell has, by experience, found this ruling to be a wise one, and it is doubtful if there is a fraternity in college desiring its repeal. It is a good thing alike for the fraternities and the men they seek.

THE ABSENCE of upperclassmen at the mass meeting held at the gymnasium last Thursday was very noticeable. This is a condition that should not exist. The members of the two upper classes should not regard their dignity too tenderly and remain passive to such affairs as preparing for the annual game at Williamsport. The greatest demonstration will be expected of the underclassmen, of course; but the assistance and encouragement of the Seniors and Juniors are needed to make it successful.

THE RESULT of the game at Buffalo on Saturday is extremely gratifying to all Bucknell students and augurs well for the success of the "orange and blue" in its contest with Indians at Williamsport next Saturday. The eleven under Coach Hoskins has shown its worth and it is now "up to" the students to do their share toward a victory by lending enthusiasm at the mass meeting to be held this week, and at the game next Saturday.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN said: "The way for a young man to advance is to improve himself in every way he can, never suspecting that anyone wishes to injure him." In college we find innumerable opportunities for self-improvement. It is to be regretted, however, that the opportunities, which mean so much for a man's success in life, are not made the most of by a large percentage of students, who cannot afford to deprive themselves of this training. Among the opportunities for improvement are the literary societies, which meet weekly and whose object is to train its members in debating, extemporaneous speaking, oratory, etc. No one for a moment will doubt the value of this work. A familiar remark by college graduates who were active in society work is, "The college literary societies did more for me than any other branch of college work." This remark made so frequently ought to inspire every student to take an active part in the literary societies. Furthermore it is a duty every college man owes to himself and to his Alma Mater that he be able to express himself in a clear and intelligent manner before an audience of whatever size and culture. There is no reason for a man going through college without obtaining this power, which, comparatively speaking, is given him "without money and without price."

This is an age of practicality,—an age which calls for men to talk as well as act. Man to a very great extent is rated by what he says and how he says it. Though we may have the gift of prophecy and understand all mysteries and all knowledge and yet haven't the power to express it, of what avail is it? We are simply handicapped in the race of life. The authorities, during the summer went to great expense in remodeling the society halls hard wood floors were put in and the halls; thoroughly renovated, which makes them very comfortable and gives them a decidedly inviting appearance. The societies need our presence and aid, but we need them more. Come to the meetings and do all you can to help this noble organization, and in turn they will aid you by giving you such training as can be obtained from no other source.

INDIANS WERE VANQUISHED

Bucknell Downs the Redmen in a Hotly Contested Game on Saturday
More than 2,500 enthusiastic devotees of football witnessed Bucknell defeat the Carlisle Indians in a highly interesting game at Williamsport on Saturday. The score was 16 to 0, the Orange and Blue scoring three touchdowns and kicking one goal.
The weather was anything but favorable for the sport. A drizzle which began in the morning developed into a steady downpour shortly after the game commenced, and converted the field into a veritable sea of mud. Anything but straight football was thus rendered impossible. The Indians tried a few trick plays but did not realize as much on them as they probably would have on a dry field. On account of the condition of the field fumbles were frequent, the Indians suffering the greatest in this respect.
Bucknell won because she outplayed the Indians at all points. The superiority of the Orange and Blue players over their opponents became apparent in the first few rushes, and, although the Redskins fought till the last, the contest was never in doubt from the time the first touchdown was made, four minutes after play had been called. In line plunging Bucknell did not have much the advantage of her opponent. Both teams seemed to be able to gain readily in this manner, neither side being often held for downs. In plays around the ends Bucknell had decidedly the advantage, although few of these were attempted, owing to the wet field. It was in passing the ball, in punting and in handling punts that Bucknell excelled chiefly. The team could scarcely have done better on a dry day, while the Indians were greatly out of form in these three respects. A redeeming feature of the Indians' work was their interference, which formed like clock-work, and which Bucknell had great difficulty in breaking up.
Only once did the Indians threaten the goal of their opponents. Near the end of the second half they rushed the ball to Bucknell's 3-yard line, where Anderson got it on a fumble and ran 107 yards for a touchdown. The play was the most spectacular piece of work during the game and brought forth prolonged cheers. The entire Bucknell team was on their mettle and to single out the work of any particular players would be doing an injustice to the others. For the Indians Captain Williams and Charles did the most effective work.
Bucknell won the toss and chose the north goal. Captain Williams kicked to Phelps, who returned the ball twenty yards. On the next rush Bucknell failed to gain and McCormick punted to the Indians' 30-yard line. On the second scrimmage the Indians fumbled and Bucknell got the ball. Phelps gained twenty yards around the end in three plays, which were followed by plunges by Bovard and Ozersky. Five yards from the goal line Phelps was given the ball, which he took for a touchdown. McCormick failed to kick goal.

On the next line-up McCormick caught the ball and returned the kick. The Indians made first down, but being unsuccessful in another attempt, punted. The oval was returned twenty yards by McCormick. Bucknell, failing to gain, also punted.
The Indians in two rushes made thirty yards, but in attempting a trick play lost ground and resorted to a punt. The kick was blocked by Shipp. McCormick and Cockill advanced the ball ten yards, but a foul gave the oval to the Indians. An off-side play brought it back to Bucknell. A quarterback kick was caught by Bovard, who carried the ball to the Indians' 5-yard mark. Ozersky took it over for a touchdown. McCormick failed at goal.
The ball remained in the middle of the field the rest of the half.
The second was more hotly contested than the first and as a result each side was compelled to put in a number of substitutes.
McCormick kicked to Cornelius. The Indians rushed the ball to their own 45-yard line, where Bucknell secured it on a fumble. Ozersky got through the Indian line and carried the ball within a few inches of the Indians' goal, but it was brought back to the 30-yard line and given to the Indians because of holding in the line. By hard, steady plunges the Indians carried the ball to Bucknell's 15-yard line. From this point Charles attempted to carry it over. He succeeded in getting it to the 3-yard line, where he fumbled. Anderson got the ball and ran for a touchdown. McCormick kicked goal.
This sudden piece of misfortune disheartened the Indians and they played on the defensive the remainder of the game. Bucknell had the ball on the Indians' 15-yard line when time was called.

The victory over the Indians on Saturday is perhaps the most notable success that Bucknell has achieved in many years. It has been freely admitted by all football experts that the Carlisle eleven is stronger this season than for many years, and in defeating them Bucknell is entitled to the distinction of being one of the leading teams of the country. There is no denying that some of the larger colleges with whom the Orange and Blue has games scheduled are looking our way with no little feeling of uneasiness. Coach Williams, of Pennsylvania, in an interview in the Philadelphia Press, states that Bucknell has one of the heaviest and fastest teams in the country and that to win from her, Pennsylvania must put forth her best effort.

The men who compose the team, along with Coach Hoskins, are entitled to much praise for the showing they have made, and to encouragement to continue the good work. By the term "team" is not meant the eleven regular players alone, but the list of substitutes as well, who get scant reward for the knocks and bruises they receive in practice. Good substitutes are as essential to success as good regulars. Credit must be given also to the faithfulness of the "scrubs," who get nothing but bruises for the indirect aid they render to the "varsity."

Finally, the players should not allow the brilliancy of Saturday's victory to dazzle them and cause them to rest on their oars, but should be spurred on by this great achievement to bring further glory to the Orange and Blue. The games with Pennsylvania, Washington and Jefferson, and the Navy should be won. Here's hoping that Captain Wilcox and his men may turn the trick.

In recent years there has been much discussion with respect to the shortening of the college course. It has been debated time and time again that the college course should consist of three, not four years. Now, President Butler, of Columbia, comes forth with the statement that the college course should consist of two years. He thinks that in the two-years' course practically as much of valuable education could be given as is now obtained in four years. He says, "The dean of Columbia College is of the opinion that such a shortened course of two years, as is contemplated by this suggestion, could readily be made at Columbia for candidates for the degree of bachelor of arts. This shortened course would therefore take on something of the definitiveness and purpose, which in many cases the rapid developments of recent years have removed from undergraduate study; for it goes without saying that no effort would be spared to make such a two years' course as valuable as possible, both for intellectual training and for the development of character. The student would be a galier, not a loser, by the change."

We can readily see that President Butler's theory means three things: first, thorough preparation, which is unusual in college; second, four terms of three months each in the year; and third, not ordinary, but extraordinary ability on the part of students. If a student is well prepared when he enters college, we know that he can save time; but how many are so fortunate? For some reason or other a vast majority of students are conditioned when they enter college and in order to work off these conditions much time and energy must be spent, which of necessity hampers a student's progress. And if a student has the disposition and vitality to work twelve months in the year, naturally he will gain time, but will he accomplish the best results? Will two years of college work satisfy the requirements of the human mind? The course of education, we believe, is this hurry to get through, regardless of mental training and development of character. The human mind is a plant of slow growth and it requires time to reach that growth and development which Dr. Butler thinks it can reach in two years. Again how many of us are of the extraordinary type? The brilliant man is an exception and even for the most brilliant we would say take the four-years' course. If a man can accomplish his lessons easily, make 100 per cent. in every subject, let him devote his spare time to study and reading, of a broadening character and he will develop avenues of thought and action which might probably have remained closed had he completed his course in two years. We also believe that the average graduate is none too well educated now. If he would be a galier by working two years instead of four in college, it follows that he has been made the victim of poor teaching and that anybody will be foolish who hereafter takes a four years' instead of a two years' course. President Butler brings a serious indictment against any college which he charges with not giving more intellectual training and development of character in four years than it could do in two if it tried.

Change in the Schedule

Manager Dunlap of the football team has cancelled the game with Muhlenberg College, which was scheduled for the college campus next Saturday, and in its stead has arranged a game with the Pittsburg National League eleven at Pittsburg. From a financial standpoint the change will prove a great benefit to Bucknell; and it also relieves the student body from witnessing what would doubtless have been a slaughter, since teams not so good as Bucknell succeeded in running up big scores on the Allentown eleven.

Bucknell can scarcely expect to win from the Pittsburgers since they comprise some of the best football talent in the country. Mathewson, ex-'02, has joined the squad and will play against the Orange and Blue next Saturday. Among the others are Donahue, Hay, McCutcheon, Kirkoff, McNulty, Lawler, Lang, Hare, Richardson, Miller, Collins and McChesney.

Death of S. E. Plack.

Samuel Eugene Plack, '05, died on Friday at the Williamsport hospital. Death was due to typhoid fever, which toward the last became complicated with diphtheria. Plack contracted fever while with Company I, 18th Regiment, N. G. P., in the coal regions, but his condition did not assume a serious aspect until after he had been in college a few days. Plack was aged 20 years and resided at Lairdsville, Lycoming county. He was a good student and commanded the respect of his fellow-students and the faculty alike. Interment took place at Muncy on Saturday.

LOCALS

Marsh, '05, was initiated into the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity on Friday night.

Capt. L. J. Fisher has made the announcement that a suitable marker will be placed at the grave of S. Eugene Plack, 1905, by his company in the National Guard.

At a meeting of the trustees of the South Jersey Institute held last week Rev. Raymond W. West, of Philadelphia, and Rev. F. H. Shermer, of Bridgeton, N. J., both graduates of Bucknell, were elected president and secretary respectively.

Rev. Charles Keene, Bucknell '99, and Rochester, '02, was tendered a farewell reception at the Grace Baptist Church, Camden, N. J., last week, previous to his departure for China, where he will serve as a missionary for five years.

Sophomore-Freshman Football.

Interest in the coming football game between the Sophomores and Freshmen, for the Hoskins cup, is already beginning to manifest itself. Last week Flash, '05, was elected manager of his class team and Taggart was chosen captain. It is expected that practice will commence in a few days. The Freshmen, as is annually the case, are displaying even more spirit than their rivals, a squad of men having been out for the past week. Neal is temporary captain and Waltz is manager.

The date has not been decided upon. It is to be hoped that it will take place at an earlier date than the game last year did.

PROFESSIONALS TOO STRONG

Pittsburg All-Stars Score Four Touchdowns on the Varsity Eleven.
The Varsity eleven was defeated by the Pittsburg All-Star team at Pittsburg on Saturday afternoon by a score of 24 to 0. The game was not as one-sided as the score indicates; in fact the Pittsburg papers characterize it as one of the best contests that has been played in that city in a long time, and state that the professionals were compelled to play hard at all stages to win. The cause of Bucknell's defeat is not hard to seek. The following lines from the Gazette size up the situation correctly:

"The college eleven from Lewisburg was simply outclassed. They were against a stronger and much better team, every member of which has had more experience in the great college game."

The All-Stars scored two touchdowns in each of 25-minute halves and Richardson kicked a goal on each. One touchdown was almost a gift. During the second half McCormick and Richardson exchanged several punts. The latter received one of McCormick's kicks and fainted to return it. Instead of kicking, however, he ran with the ball through the entire Bucknell team and scored a touchdown. The home team had to work for their other points. They scored their first touchdown only after eighteen minutes of play. In the second half thirteen minutes were required to make the third touch-down.

The nearest Bucknell came to scoring was shortly after the beginning of the first half. McCormick kicked to Richardson, who ran the ball back twenty-two yards. Kirkoff made six yards, but Lawler on the next pass fumbled, McCormick falling on the ball on Pittsburg's 32-yard line.

By successive plunges by McCormick, Bovard, Shippey and Phelps the ball was carried to the 7-yard line, where it was lost on downs. Bucknell made the necessary five yards, but the referee claimed that the ball was "down" at the fourth yard and gave the oval to Pittsburg. During the second half Bucknell got the ball within thirty yards of her opponent's goal, and twice tried for a goal from field, but both attempts failed.

Pittsburg's second touchdown was made without the All-stars losing the ball. The half ended with the ball on Bucknell's 28-yard line.

During the first half there was a lively exchange of punts between McCormick and Mathewson, in which the former Bucknellite excelled. Mathewson's punting was remarkable and several times the oval went over the heads of the men playing back.

Bucknell made three substitutions in the second half. Anderson relieved Smith; Johnson took Douglas' place at end, and Smiley replaced Cooper at tackle. Bovard caught Richardson's kick-off on the 12-yard line and ran it back thirty yards. An exchange of punts followed and Anderson, finally getting the ball, ran twenty-five yards to Pittsburg's 22-yard mark. A quarterback kick netted a few yards. Then a drop kick was attempted by Johnson. The ball was blocked, but Cockill fell on it. Johnson next tried a place kick, but the Bucknell line did not hold and the play failed. Securing the ball on their own 30-yard line, the All-Stars rushed it up the field for a touchdown. Their last touchdown resulted from Richardson's long run, as related above.

The line-up: Bucknell. Donohue, left end; Cockill, left tackle; Shippey, left guard; Taylor, right guard; Wilcox, right tackle; Cooper, right end; Douglas, quarterback; Smith, fullback; McCormick, left half; Phelps, right half; Bovard, right half; Bovard, Mathewson, fullback. McCormick Touchdowns, Crolius, Kirkoff, Miller, Richardson. Goals kicked, Richardson 4. Referee, Hamilton. Umpire, Arthur Poe. Time of halves, 25 minutes. Substitutions, Hare for Donohue, McChesney for Mathewson, Dishkare for Miller, Miller for Schronitz, McCutcheon for Kirkoff, Fetter for Lawler, Sherlock for McChesney, Johnson for Douglas, Anderson for Smith, Smiley for Cooper.

The Pennsylvania Game.
Our next football game is with University of Pennsylvania on Franklin Field, Philadelphia, on next Saturday. The belief prevails that the Orange and Blue has an excellent chance to win this game and Coach Hoskins will put the team through the hardest week of practice it has yet had. With the exception of Ozersky, the players are in fair physical condition. It is hoped that Ozersky will have recovered by Saturday and will be able to take his place at tackle.

A large number of students and alumni and others in town have arranged to attend the game. The Philadelphia Alumni Association is working to secure a large attendance of Bucknell alumni from that vicinity also. The Pennsylvania management will reserve a section of seats for the Bucknell contingent.

That the Philadelphians are expecting much of our team next Saturday is shown by the following from The Press: "But this only emphasizes one thing and that is that the minor college team which will size up nearest to the leaders this year is Bucknell. The Lewisburg eleven is one of the strongest in the East and defeated the Indians without serious trouble. Her schedule contains games with nearly all the big college eleven and there is trouble for each one of them to win the Bucknell game."

The Reserves Win.
The Reserves easily defeated the Milton Athletic Club on the latter's grounds on Saturday, the score being 10 to 0. The score does not indicate the superiority of the Reserves, who kept the ball in Milton's territory throughout the game. Not once was the goal of the reserve team in danger. Sheppard scored both touchdowns.

Cox, formerly '05, spent several days last week with friends at "the hill."

Our Athletic Trophies.

During the past two years Prof. Davis has spent much time toward collecting Bucknell's athletic trophies and securing a suitable place for exhibiting them. For several years prior to the time Prof. Davis undertook his present task, the matter of collecting trophies of our athletic achievements was sadly neglected and as a result the collection is far from complete. This neglect was the natural result of the fact that we did not, nor do yet, have a place suitable for displaying the memorials of our victories. The trophies that have been preserved are in the museum in the main college building, which is kept locked and which has been visited by a very small percentage of Bucknell's students. Prof. Davis is now seeking a room in West College, which has been partly promised him by the college authorities.

In addition to securing a trophy room, Prof. Davis work consists in collecting photographs of all the athletic teams Bucknell has ever had and is arranging in a systematic manner such trophies as are now in possession of the college. The amount of labor such a task requires may easily be imagined. Prof. Davis is not alone giving his time to the work, but he is also paying for the photographs of the various teams, trusting that the Athletic Association will reimburse him for his outlay.

Freshmen vs Academy.

The Freshman and Academy eleven had a battle royal on Athletic Field last Monday afternoon, the game resulting in a tie, 6 to 6. The contest abounded in brilliant plays and was very interesting to the spectators. Shields, of the Freshman team, and Bell, of the Academy, scored the touchdowns. Time in the second half was called with the ball within a foot of the Academy's goal, where it had been carried by a sensational run of 50 yards by Hennessey.

Meeting of Tennis Players.

A meeting of the students interested in tennis was held last week for the purpose of forming a tennis association. The matter of arranging a series of inter-collegiate contests, in addition to the regular inter-club games, was talked over and a committee was appointed to consider the matter. The same committee is also to report upon the suggestion that in the games among the students, the various clubs lose their identity and doubles be formed by choice or drawing of lots.

Bucknell's Growth.

The following is taken from an announcement sent out to the press by the University last week: "In the past twelve years the College has increased in the number of students from seventy-one to four hundred and twenty-one. The library has an increase in number of volumes from 6,250 to over 22,000." The total in all departments is now 620.

CO-EDUCATION.

WHETHER we admit it or not, the fact is that co-education is not growing in favor in the colleges. The prevailing sentiment is against it. The deans of all the junior colleges at Chicago are opposed to it, especially in the Freshman and Sophomore years. President Harper and his assistants are realizing the ill effects of co-education at Chicago, and are now bending every effort to solve the problem. It may be said, however, that the problem at Chicago is more complex than at Bucknell and other colleges, in that the majority of students there are women. The English courses are filled with women; the deeper and broader courses by them are shunned. The general opposition to co-education causes many students who hail from Chicago to go to Harvard and Yale, and this fact is causing no little uneasiness to President Harper.

We shall not attempt to solve this abstruse problem, but we wish to state that co-education at Bucknell is not altogether faultless. There are some things which should be remedied at once. It isn't necessary to enumerate the objections to co-education, but we notice that Commencement speakers are selected on the basis of scholarship. Out of ten members who are thus honored five are women. The percentage of women in each graduating class is one-fourth or less, yet they are allowed to carry away one-half the honors, which we believe is an injustice to the other three-fourths. They make better marks it is true; let us see why. It is universally conceded that languages are easy for women; they can master languages with comparative ease and thus receive higher grades than their class brothers, who learn a language with no little difficulty. Realizing that languages are easy and that they will be a means of enabling them to attain high rank in their classes, the women pursue them almost without a break throughout their course. Scientific and philosophical studies are not sought after, which should be studied as a means of development. We were told by our President in one of his lectures that when a subject becomes easy it should be discontinued, as it is no longer a factor in mental development. Evidently this truth is unheeded by women, as languages or studies in English are pursued almost constantly throughout the course.

But how is it with man? He delves deeply into philosophical subjects. He seeks breadth of view, an all-around development. In all functions pertaining to college—athletic, social, literary—he takes an active part. He does a great deal of outside work, which woman does not, and work which is absolutely essential for the welfare of the institution. Does he receive credit for it? Only in the consciousness of having done his duty. Yet no one will deny that he has developed thereby. We do not mean that this extra work should excuse him from making a good recitation. We believe that while in college he should subordinate everything to the regular work; but we also believe that he should receive credit for work done of a developing nature, be it social, intellectual or moral.

Then again in the class-room woman questions the omniscience of the teacher less than does man. It is man's nature to weigh the teacher's knowledge on all sides as far as he can, while woman attends strictly to the matter in hand. There are more distracting elements in his nature than in her's, yet there is nothing taken into consideration except the work in the class-room; that is the basis of promotion, that is the standard of development—a standard which we believe is defective. Bucknell is forging ahead at a rapid pace. We are proud of the fact, but unless existing conditions in our system of co-education are changed, Bucknell will realize as Chicago now does, that co-education is detrimental to the progress of the college.

The suggestion that a series of inter-collegiate tennis matches be arranged for the spring term will no doubt meet with the approval all students who incline to athletics. The game is a scientific one and interest in it is being revived throughout the country. Inter-collegiate games, with Bucknell as one of contestants, would certainly cause added interest here and would give Bucknell talent an opportunity to compare itself with that of other institutions.

We see no reason why it should not be made a regular branch of sports at Bucknell, the same as it is at many other colleges, and would suggest that steps be taken to alter the constitution of the Athletic Association to make it so.

The latest additions to our exchange list are The Pennsylvanian, of University of Pennsylvania, and the The Syracuse Weekly, of Syracuse University.

EDITORIAL

The result of the game at Pittsburg on Saturday was not surprising to those who are familiar with professional football. The home team was composed of players of national reputation, picked from the country at large, and the Bucknell eleven, selected from among three hundred students, was outclassed. Our only object in playing the professional team was to help our financial condition and the defeat therefore means nothing. On the other hand we have sufficient reason for congratulation in the fact that none of our players were injured, which, barring accidents in practice this week, leaves the team in good physical condition for the Pennsylvania game next Saturday.

The excellent showing made by the Orange and Blue thus far, and the corresponding poor form shown by Pennsylvania, have raised the hopes of Bucknell's supporters as to the outcome of the game this week, and nearly all are confidently looking for a victory. Comparing the work of the two elevens to date, Bucknell does seem to have at least an even chance to win. We sincerely hope the signs will not fail. But we should not reckon without our opponent. Pickle Fortune seems to have temporarily deserted Old Penn, but she may smile upon her at any time; and from a Pennsylvania standpoint next Saturday would be an opportune time for this smile.

Although feeling that we are encroaching upon the domain of Coach Hoskins in so doing, we would exhort the men on the team not to be misled by any idle predictions of success, but to bend an extra effort to accomplish the task now uppermost in the minds of nearly every Bucknellite—that of defeating one of the "Big Four."

In his effort to make as complete as possible the collection of Bucknell's athletic trophies and to secure a suitable room for displaying them, Prof. Davis will doubtless receive the hearty approbation of the student body. It is a task that should have been performed years ago. Bucknell has achieved many notable victories on gridiron, diamond and track, and it seems eminently proper that the cherished memorials should be placed where the sons and daughters of Bucknell might come in daily contact with them. It is to be hoped that the university authorities can soon see their way clear to give a room in West College for that purpose. In the meantime let every person, who can, assist Prof. Davis in accomplishing the arduous task he has in hand.

THE editor of the ORANGE AND BLUE desires to add a feature to the paper in the way of a column devoted to alumni news. Such a department cannot be conducted successfully without the co-operation of persons connected with the institution, particularly the faculty, whose assistance is earnestly solicited.

 We advertised the "Walkover" in this paper several seasons ago, since then we have sold large quantities of them, in fact the demand for these shoes all over the country has been so great that the manufacturers, although they have a capacity of 10,000 pairs a day are unable to supply the demand.  VOL. VII. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1902. No. 6

DOWNED BY PENNSYLVANIA
 Bucknell Does Not Play Up to Her Standard and is Defeated.
 Pennsylvania pluck and Pennsylvania luck were too much for Bucknell in the game with the Red and Blue at Philadelphia on Saturday and the Quakers won by the score of 6 to 5. It was a hard game for the Orange and Blue to lose. The visitors were in the lead up to within three minutes of the end of the game, when Penn rallied and took the game, simply because her attempt at the goal succeeded where ours failed. In our attempt had the ball gone three inches farther one way a goal would have resulted and the game ended in a tie.
 But Penn deserved her victory. She out-played and out-generated Bucknell. When Penn started into the contest the most sanguine of her supporters scarcely hoped for anything better than a tie. But the sturdy sons of Penn, without their captain and other regulars, fought valiantly against heavy odds, and it was this do-or-die spirit that won the game for them. They were more aggressive than Bucknell and kept the ball in our territory a greater part of the time. The wearers of the Red and Blue displayed better team-work than did their opponents and this was a big factor in winning the game.
 Be it known, however, that Bucknell also played some football and Pennsylvania and her supporters have more respect for the "smaller college" than they had before the game. Coach Hoskins' men were in almost as bad condition physically as Penn. Neither McCormick nor Oersky, two of our best ground gainers, were able to get into the game and Phelps was in such poor condition that he was of little service to the team. But in spite of this they played well. For the first ten minutes of the second half they tore Penn's line to pieces. Their work on the defence was equally noteworthy. Twice they held Penn for downs within the 5-yard mark, when the Red and Blue was fighting desperately at that.
 The game was played before a crowd estimated at 7,500. Two hundred Bucknell enthusiasts were present and they frequently made themselves known by their cheering.
 Bucknell won the toss. Bennett kicked off for Pennsylvania. Johnson caught the ball on the 15-yard line and was downed after an advance of five yards. Bucknell punted on her first play and Pennsylvania had the ball on her own 50-yard line. By a series of line plunges and tackle plays Penn carried the ball to her opponents' 35-yard line, where she lost it on a fumble. Here Penn's line showed its strength and held Bucknell for three downs. Johnson punted and Dale ran the ball back 25 yards. Line plunges by Torrey, Piekarski and Bennett noted three and five yards at a time and end plays by Fortner and Weschler brought the ball to the 10-yard line.
 Bennett hurdled the line for five yards. Weschler fumbled on the next play, but Metzger recovered the ball with a three-yard loss. Fortner was unable to gain on a tackle play and a quarter-back kick was tried. Cockill caught the kick and was downed for a touchback. Johnson kicked out from the 25-yard line, and Weschler ran the ball back to the centre of the field. Penn lost the ball on a foul. Bucknell then started a series of fast plunges, and for a time Penn's team were rushed off their feet. On the 30-yard line Bucknell was off side and penalized five yards. Bucknell tried a quarter-back kick, but Weschler caught the ball on the 30-yard line. Bennett gained seven yards through centre, and Torrey added three more in the same place.
 Weschler went outside of tackle for five, and Fortner hit the other side for the same distance. Weschler fumbled at midfield. Penn's line was firm, and after three vain attempts Johnson was forced to kick. Dale caught the ball on Penn's ten-yard line and was downed without a gain. Fortner tried an end run but lost two yards. Bennett hurdled for four yards and on the next play punted to midfield. Dale tackled Johnson so hard he dropped the ball and McCabe fell on it. Weschler made ten yards through left tackle, and Bennett was hurried through the centre for seven more. Torrey and Weschler advanced the ball to Bucknell's 35-yard line.
 Piekarski and Bennett each gained two yards, and on the next play Penn fumbled. Johnson rounded Metzger's end for twenty yards. Richardson broke through on the next play and Bovard was thrown for a loss of five yards. Bovard was forced to punt, and Fortner got the ball on the 25-yard line. Weschler gained ten yards on the left side. Penn was then penalized for offside play and Bennett punted. Time was called with the ball at the centre of the field. Score—Pennsylvania, 0; Bucknell, 0.
 Bucknell kicked and Mulford returned the ball to the 45-yard line. Penn fumbled but Bennett recovered the ball. Weschler rushed the ball eight yards and Bennett in a revolving mass play carried it ten more. A fake was tried for a loss of one yard and Bennett punted to the 25-yard line. From here Bucknell carried the ball 55 yards without surrendering it. Johnson and Phelps each made three yards on line plunges. Johnson was called upon repeatedly and generally made the required distance. Mitchell replaced Jones at right tackle. Bovard made ten yards on an end play and Johnson three through the centre. A mass on tackle added five more and on the next play Johnson made trial for a field goal. The kick was blocked but a Bucknell man fell on it. Johnson was pulled through left tackle for five yards. Bovard made three through centre. Taylor carried the ball on the next two plays across the line for a touchdown after ten minutes of play. Johnson missed goal. Score: Pennsylvania, 6; Bucknell, 5.
 Penn kicked and Bovard returned the ball 15-yards. Johnson punted on

New Trustee for Bucknell.
 Hon. Francis J. Torrance, of Pittsburgh, has been elected a trustee of Bucknell University and has accepted the position. Mr. Torrance was granted the degree of Master of Arts from Bucknell in 1901.
 Mr. Torrance was born in Allegheny City, Pa., June 27, 1859, son of Francis and Jane (Waddell) Torrance. His education was obtained in the public schools of his native city and the Western University of Pennsylvania. He entered business life in 1875 as a clerk in the employ of the Standard Manufacturing Co., of which his father was president. Subsequently he became its treasurer and general manager, and he is now (1901) chairman of the executive committee and vice-president of the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Co., into which the former concern has been merged. This company manufactures porcelain enameled baths and bath-room appliances, and sanitary plumbing goods for every known use. It is probably the largest establishment of its kind in the world, having a capital of $5,000,000, an authorized bond issue of $2,500,000, with factories, branch stores and offices in Pittsburgh, Pa., New York City, Louisville, Philadelphia, Chicago, New Orleans, St. Louis, Montreal, Honolulu, Mexico City, London, Paris, Hamburg, St. Petersburg, Cape Town, Sydney, Buenos Ayres, and Havana. In 1892 Mr. Torrance represented his congressional district in the Minneapolis convention, which nominated Benjamin Harrison for President, and he was delegate-at-large from Pennsylvania to the national convention at St. Louis, which nominated McKinley. He has been a select councillor for nine years, and for seven years president of that body. In 1894 he was appointed by Gov. Hastings a commissioner of public charities; was reappointed in 1899 for five years. For six years he has been a member of the committee on Lunacy of the Board of Public Charities; this board has entire control of all the institutions in Pennsylvania classed as criminal, penal, correctional and charitable. He has also been appointed delegate-at-large and special delegate to numerous conferences concerning prisons and charities. Mr. Torrance is president of the Washington (Pa.) Electric Street Railway Co., the Indiana Railway Co., the Standard Ice Co., of Pittsburgh, the Monongahela and Ohio River Transportation Co., the Western Pennsylvania Exposition Society; the Pittsburgh Natatorium Co., and the Iron City Brick and Stone Co. He is a director of the Mechanics' National Bank, Pittsburgh; the Third National Bank, Allegheny; the National Union Fire Insurance Co., Pittsburgh; and the Sewickley Valley Trust Co., and chairman of the national committee of Confederate Supply Associations, which has control of nearly all the plumbing and sanitary supplies in the United States. For two terms he has been president of the American Republican Club, Pittsburgh, and he is chairman of the Republican city committee of Allegheny. Socially he is a member

The Schedule Changed.
 The date of the Washington and Jefferson College game has been changed from November 22nd to the following Thursday, Thanksgiving Day. The game will be played at Washington and will be a big event in Western Pennsylvania. It therefore behooves the Orange and Blue to win.
 In order to give the W. and J. college this date, Manager Dunlap was compelled to cancel with Baltimore Medical College, who have been offered November 22nd instead. If they do not accept this date, it is likely that no game will be played, and the players given a chance to rest up for the contest the following week.

Senator Quay's Gift.
 Several days ago the financial representative of Bucknell University called to see Senator M. S. Quay at his rooms at the Hotel Walton, Philadelphia, to solicit a contribution for the support of our great school. After listening a few minutes to the narration of the institution's merits, Senator Quay drew out his check book and wrote out a $500 subscription. The Senator has since expressed his surprise and gratification that Lewisburg has such an extensive and important seat of learning.

Next Saturday's Game.
 The Varsity's next football game will be with Villa Nova on Athletic Field on next Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. Villa Nova has a fair team and she can be depended upon to put up a strong game against Bucknell. However, Bucknell should win by a good margin. All students should turn out and witness the contest.

THE October number of the Bucknell Bulletin was issued during the week. It is devoted chiefly to the address of General Charles Miller, delivered at the Corporation Dinner last June.

The election of Hon. Francis J. Torrance as trustee of Bucknell will doubtless work to the good of the institution. Mr. Torrance wields a wide influence and his connection with the University cannot help but benefit it in many ways.

We are frequently asked to publish resolutions on the death of some student or some near relative and thus far we have complied. But hereafter we shall refuse all requests of this nature. First, because of lack of space; secondly, because the practice is antiquated. The best newspapers have long since discontinued the publication of such matter and we do not think we should be asked to do something that is both inexpedient and in bad taste. We shall be glad to publish notices of any deaths, but beyond that we shall not attempt to go.

Saturday's defeat of the football team, while disappointing to the majority of Bucknell's supporters, is no disgrace. Penn. beaten and disgraced in the two previous contests, was sworn to redeem herself and it was our misfortune to be pitted against her under these circumstances. Besides Bucknell did not have her full playing strength. The eleven that opposed the Indians two weeks before would have defeated Penn eighteen points.

The contest was of value to Bucknell in that it demonstrated that we are no longer to be considered a "minor college." Witness the following from the editorial columns of the Philadelphia Press:

"In the splendid fight yesterday with Bucknell, whose men were equal to their new place and position in the football world, the home team won a deserved victory."

The players should not feel discouraged at the result of this game, but should work harder than ever in the contests to come to win back lost laurels. Important games are yet to be played and we should win the most of them.

There is a high tone of morality involved in maintaining a state of physical training which will bring a football player into the best possible condition. The word necessity plays such a large part in changing the ordinary student, with sufficient lung power to last perhaps a hundred yards of jogging, into a student who can be turned into a battering ram for two twenty-five minutes halves.

This obligation to bring the body under the will includes something more than the mere eating at a training table. Real training does not permit irregular eating outside of meal time, nor does it mean late hours—nor, in fact, excess in any way. The man who would become physically able to play a hard game of football must be temperate; he must look beyond mere present gratification and pleasure to that larger satisfaction of knowing that he is becoming and is a better man than before; and this decision and the attempt to maintain such an ideal strengthens the moral stamina.—Ursinus Weekly.

first down. Mulford returned the kick to Bucknell's 50-yard line. Marshall went outside tackle for eight yards and Weschler in the next two plays carried the ball ten yards more. Marshall added eight more and Ben not on a delayed pass planted the ball on the 24-yard line. Bucknell braced and held Penn for downs. Johnson punted to Mulford who returned the ball to the 40-yard line. Penn. now became determined in her play and by eight rushes by Bennett, Weschler and Marshall carried the ball over for a touchdown. Mitchell kicked an easy goal. Score: Pennsylvania, 8; Bucknell, 5. Just before Penn scored Anderson replaced Smith.

Bucknell kicked and Weschler returned the ball to Penn's 25-yard line. On the first down Penn was penalized and Bennett punted. The kick was good and Bucknell had the ball on Penn's 35-yard line. Bucknell lost 3 yards on a delayed pass but on a fake gained ten yards. Time was called with the ball on Penn's 30-yard line. The line-up:

Hall Calne at the Game.

Hall Calne, the novelist, was an interested spectator at the football game at Franklin Field Saturday. During the first half he occupied a box in the south stand and during the intermission accompanied Dr. J. William White on a visit to the players, who gave him a rousing cheer. During the second half Calne went down on the side lines and followed the play closely under the tuition of Dr. White and Dr. Huston. When Pennsylvania scored the winning touchdown he waved his black felt hat like a schoolboy. Mr. Calne has a good knowledge of the English football game, and though he confessed that he found the American style more interesting he thought it was decidedly rough.

Academy Suffers Defeat.

In a hard and fast game at Williamsport on Saturday, the Williamsport High School defeated the Academy by the score of 16 to 0. In the first half the Academy could do nothing with the end rushes of the High School and when time was called, the score stood 16 to 0 in favor of the latter team. In the second half the Academy took a brace, and put up a fine game. They were greatly outwitted by the High School team. The line-up: Williamsport H. S. Academy.

Mrs. StaFord, the new matron, arrived on Thursday evening.
Miss Haverstick is visiting her sister, Miss Mildred Haverstick.
Misses Bacon, Innes, Parsons, Seebold, Long and Roberts were home over Sunday.
Several of the girls from the Seminary attended the Episcopal church at Milton on Sunday morning.
Zeta Literary Society held a very interesting meeting Thursday evening. A noticeable feature was the review of St. Elmo given by Miss Hall, '04.

The two plays, acknowledged to be the most successful ever given by the Girls' Dramatic Club, were presented Friday evening. Though the club is only two years old, there has been a marked improvement and dramatic ability of the highest rank was shown. A welcome addition to the stage settings was the foot-lights, presented by Dr. Aviragnet. The cast of characters was as follows:
"SUNSET,"..... Jerome K. Jerome
Lola..... Emily Ehling
Joan..... Irene Barton
Aunt Drucella..... Elsie Payne
Aunt Stoddard..... Ruth Stephens
Mr. Rivers..... Maudie Schubert
Lawrence..... Laura Sharp
"A BOX OF MONKEYS," Grace Purdie

Between the plays Miss Lucile Cook recited very charmingly.

Samuel E. Flack.
Whereas, Almighty God in His infinite wisdom and power, has taken from us our brother in the class of 1905, Samuel E. Flack; be it Resolved, That the class of 1905 has suffered an irreparable loss in that it has been deprived of a most loyal and honored member.
Resolved, that we, in this sorrow and grief, extend to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy.
Resolved, That, as a token of our respect, a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family; that they be entered upon the minutes of the class and published in the ORANGE AND BLUE. H. J. JONES, JAMES TAGGART, R. G. HOSWICK, Committee.

Whereas: It has pleased Almighty God to again invade our ranks within a month and remove from this earth Conrad S. Eugene Flack, of Lairds-ville, Lycoming County, Pa., a student in Bucknell University, at Lewisburg, from illness contracted while in the service of the State at Shenandoah, Pa.
Whereas, it was unanimously resolved at a special meeting of Company I, 12th Regiment, Infantry N. G. P., held in camp at North Scranton, Pa., October 12, 1902, That in the death of S. Eugene Flack this company has met an almost irreparable loss. He was a faithful and true soldier, and a consistent Christian, who performed every duty as he saw it, conscientiously and well.
That we mourn the death of this estimable young man and share with his parents and relatives his loss to the community.
That while unable to attend the funeral in a body on account of the peculiar duties here, we shall on our return pay him a fitting tribute.

VILLA NOVA OVER WHELMED.

Bucknell Scores almost at will, running up a total of 61 points.

Had not Coach Hoskins taken compassion on Villa Nova's foot-ball team on Saturday, by shortening the length of the second to thirteen minutes, Bucknell, in all probability, would have scored a hundred points. Villa Nova is unquestionably the easiest proposition Bucknell has encountered this year. The visitors at no time were able to withstand our rushes and line plunges, and they succeeded in securing the ball but three times during the entire game and then to lose it by a fumble or to be thrown for a loss.

If Bucknell manifests such aggressiveness in next Saturday's game with Yale at New Haven, we can not assure that old Eli will be compelled to play her best in order to score. Both in the offensive and defensive the bravo taken by the varsity was commendable. The visitors at no time held for more than one down. Villa Nova, however, played a plucky game, fighting heavily throughout the first half, when their poor physical condition became evident, by the number of men who were compelled to cease playing. As the Varsity gained almost at will during the second half, the question which arose in everybody's mind was, how many will Bucknell score? The coach, however, alleviated the agony of the visitors by having the game called after thirteen minutes of what was to be a twenty-five minute half.

In the first half some alarm was created by an eighty yard run for a touchdown by Greene. This was accomplished in a neatly executed double pass by Doolin and Greene. The trick is old but it caught the Bucknell backs unawares. For the visitors, Captain O'Rourke, played splendid game. He is a plucky fellow, having played the entire game with two broken ribs. "Micky" Doolin, a former Bucknell man, played a strong game. Greene's run for eighty and another for twenty yards were among the features of the game. For Bucknell, every man played a hard game. The long runs by Phelps and Bovard elicited much applause. McCormick, Taylor and Shipp tore through the visitors' line for long gains. Johnson and Cockill played their usually strong game on the ends. Smith's return of punts was of the spectacular order. Max Ozersky, who has been incapacitated with a sprained ankle since the Indian game, celebrated his return to the game with most excellent work. Gillis and Captain Wilcox were in every play and repeatedly threw the Villa Nova runners in their tracks.
The game was called at three o'clock. Power carried off to McCormick who carried it twenty yards. Rushes by Bovard and Taylor brought the ball to Villa Nova's five yard line, where Taylor was sent over for a touchdown. McCormick missed the goal. On the next line-up, a repetition of the previous plays took place and Taylor was sent over for a touchdown. McCormick kicked the goal. In the kick-off, Smith carried it forty yards. Taylor and Shipp followed with big gains, putting the ball on the visitors' 20-yard line. Here Powers, their famous punter, was disabled and Cassidy took his place. Villa Nova secured the ball on a fumble, and on a double pass, Greene dashed eighty yards for a touchdown. McCormick kicked to Graham who fumbled, Cockill falling on the ball. Taylor ploughed through center for fifteen yards. Phelps followed with a 20-yard dash which brought him between the goal posts. McCormick kicked the goal. Villa Nova kicked off to McCormick. In the first line-up a fumble gave the ball to the visitors, who lost it on a quarter-back kick. A series of plunges by Bovard, McCormick and Shipp brought the ball to Villa Nova's 10-yard line, where McCormick hurdled for a touchdown. Johnson failed to kick the goal. In less than three minutes, Bucknell again had the ball on Villa Nova's 20-yard line. Phelps skirted the end for another touchdown. "Strenuous" kicked the goal. In the next line-up, Bovard broke through for an 80-yard run. McCormick in two line plunges again placed the pigskin behind the goal posts. Johnson missed the goal. The half ended with the ball in Bucknell's possession on the visitors' 20-yard line.

In the second half, Johnson took Bovard's place at half back, Douglas taking Johnson's place at end. McCormick kicked to Doolin, who immediately fell into the clutches of Gillis. A fumble gave the ball to Bucknell and a 40-yard run by Phelps increased the score another five points. Johnson kicked the goal. Phelps was injured in another 40-yard run and Anderson took his place. Bucknell lost the ball on a fumble. Villa Nova was compelled to kick. Smith caught the ball and ran 20 yards for another touchdown. Ozersky took Cooper's place at guard and Vorse relieved Douglass at end. A few more rushes by Ozersky, Shipp and Johnson landed another touchdown. McCormick kicked the goal. Again it required but a few rushes to bring the oval within close proximity of the visitors' goal and Ozersky ploughed through for another tally. McCormick sent the pigskin between the goal posts. In less time than it takes to write, Johnson dashed over the line for another touchdown. "Stren" kicked the goal. The visitors were so badly used up that Coach Hoskins kindly consented to call the game, which move met with the approval of the spectators.

The Ideal Student.
President Swain, the former president of Indiana University, who is now serving in a similar capacity at Swarthmore, gave expression to his conception of an ideal college student in his address at the opening of the scholastic year. His words invite quotation. He said in part:
"The ideal student is not a snob in any sense of the word. He is not dependent upon his good looks or his bad looks, on the part of his hair, the style of his eye-glass, the cut of his coat, the size of the head of his cane, the shape of his boot, the presence or absence of the shirtwaist. Neither is he dependent upon the size of his muscles, the distance of his jump, his speed in running, the curve of his ball or his agility and strength in football. Neither does he become a bookworm. He is fond of outdoor sports, but looks upon them only as a means of recreation, in order to put himself in condition for the more serious duties of life. He is systematic in his work, having regular hours for study, pleasure and recreation and allows nothing to interfere with his work. He has ideals of morals, and does everything in his power to make the moral standing of his college better than ever before. He has high standards of work, always a higher standard than he has been able to reach, and which becomes higher with each day and year."

The Yale Game.
Bucknell's next game is with Yale at New Haven next Saturday. Since Yale is in her prime and all her men are trying for places on the team for the big games that follow, it is a foregone conclusion that the Blue will win. But Bucknell can be counted on to put up a good game. If the team enters the contest with its full playing strength a touchdown is not out of the question. At any rate the team can be depended upon to keep the score of its opponents within reasonable limits.

Basket Ball Games.
Franklin and Marshall will have a basketball game the coming season, the first in many years. Manager Bertolotto has granted their request for games and one game will be played here and another at Lancaster. Manager Bertolotto has also received a challenge from Lafayette, and it is likely that contests at here and at Easton will be arranged. If these games are arranged it will be the first time we have ever met Lafayette in basketball. The schedule is fast assuming definiteness. Among the games already arranged is one with Princeton at Princeton.
At a recent meeting of the National basketball league several important changes were made in the rulings. The recent ruling of the referees in calling out time on every offense caused a lot of discussion. The referees were instructed not to call out time on every offense, but to hurry the game along and not permit the players to cause delay. They were also instructed that when an offense is called the referee shall pick up the ball and carry it to the free throw mark, and the player who is to try for the free throw must be there simultaneously with the referee.
This will tend to over come those tire some waits that rob many games of their interest.

Entertainments.
The students are fortunate this year in being enabled to enjoy some truly first class entertainments. At Eugene Cowles recital last Wednesday evening those who were fortunate enough to attend were given a rare treat. Mr. Cowles has one of the finest bass voices before the public.
On November 17th, and 18th, Willard D. How the famous impersonator will present David Garrick and Christopher Jr. He comes here under the auspices of the College Settlement Association and will appear in Bucknell Hall.

DR. MOSS, one of the lecturers of the institution, was with us last week and delivered some of his most helpful lectures on the subject of Christian Sociology. The Dr. offers an honor which consists of notes on his lectures, a translation of the Sermon on the Mount from one of the ancient or modern languages with notes on the same. Judging from the interest manifested in his talks many students will avail themselves of the honor.

If the playing of our team on Saturday forms a criterion, we can rest assured that Yale will be unable to run up a large score and Bucknell will have one touchdown, at least, to her credit. Old Eli is in her prime but if Bucknell manifests the same aggressiveness next Saturday that she did last, beyond all doubt Bucknell will score. Let all scrubs turn out this week to practice so as to give the team every possible chance to distinguish themselves when competing with one of the largest college teams of the country.

ONE fact we believe which accounts for the superiority of athletics at our larger colleges is the large number of assistants who help coach the respective teams. Every aid and encouragement is given the chief coach to bring the team into the best possible condition. Here is one point where Bucknell is lacking. There is only one competent man to train eleven or more men to meet on the gridiron the stars from our larger colleges. Notwithstanding the fact that our team has distinguished itself most creditably and reflected great credit on Coach Hoskins, yet we believe that an assistant to the coach in the fall term would be productive of good results. Since Bucknell has reached a stage where she is no longer a mean factor in the football world, by a little extra effort we would be able to scalp not only the Indians but Pennsylvania, Yale and Harvard.

But, you say, an assistant will have to be paid. Very true. The expenses of the team and salaries of the coaches can be met and have a surplus in the treasury by taxing every student in college five dollars for the support of athletics. Add five dollars to the tuition fee of every student and give him or her a season ticket which will give admission to all games—football, basketball and baseball. By so doing a larger percentage of students will witness the games, there will be a better quality of work, more games on our home grounds, and a larger income realized than by the present method.

It may be argued that it is not fair to assess a student who has no interest in athletics. Every student should be interested in athletics. Athletics is a part of college life, and if a student is not interested he should be made to pay the required sum for his disinterestedness. What Bucknell needs is a team second to neither Yale, Harvard nor the University of Pennsylvania, and one step towards the accomplishment of this is a change in our method of obtaining finances.

The most amazing thing about the present academic agitation for a shorter college course is that college presidents like Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia, and others are proposing this surrender at the very time when practical men are realizing and seeing the importance of a college course.

We quote in another and adjacent column a vigorous editorial from the "Electrical World," which records the growing opinion of men directing the wide business affairs of trusts. Where there is one man like President Schwab to direct college education there are ten men in trusts ready to bear witness to the value of the college course in its old condition as a means of drill, discipline and preparation for any work which may lie in the future. What the "Electrical World" says of the great electrical companies is equally true of the technical branches of our great railroads. The head of one of the greatest manufacturing trusts in the country recently declared that after having tried college men he had finally settled in his choice of young men to the graduates of the colleges that preserved the old system, apparently because under electives men did not develop persistence, industry or concentration.

The truth is there never was a time when the ranks of great enterprises more swarmed with young men. They are to be found in the various posts of the mammoth corporations, in the service of companies like the United Gas Improvement Company, the General Electric and the greater financial enterprises by the score and hundred.

They are wanted. They are wanted because it is necessary after a man has gained a general training of elementary grammar and preparatory schools to have his mind braced, strengthened, stimulated and concentrated by a college course. If there is anything in liberal studies they can accomplish this. If there is nothing in liberal studies the sooner president

dents and colleges are swept away together the better. We commend to timorous educators like Nicholas Murray Butler the vigorous utterance of a technical journal which we print elsewhere, and which is confirmed from every side by the man of observation and contact with current business.

"The following taken from the 'Electrical World' is a very clear statement of the effect of shortening the College course from the standpoint of the technical man of to-day. We have spoken of this in another column and herewith reproduced the article.

"The American college has been for many years the backbone of our whole educational system. Of its immense usefulness and high importance the achievements of its graduates bear witness. Of late it has been decelerated by that class of our fellow-countrymen which holds that a finer and more valuable ethical training is to be found in apprenticeship in a broker's office, but those who thus protest furnish their own sufficient condemnation.

In our profession such doubts are settled once for all by the great electrical companies in demanding a college education in those who cast their lot with them for technical training. But the present anomalous status of the college is due perhaps more to its own laudable but ill-judged ambition than to the pressure of the times. For many years President Eliot, one of the most able and progressive educators of this generation, bent every energy toward lifting the college by its bootstraps to the plane of the foreign university. The chief effect has been to push the college into the existing dilemma. It is crowded from above by the necessity for more time in the professional schools, and for a nether millstone it finds the secondary school that its own hands have fashioned. And truth to tell, the college is losing heart.

It has virtually surrendered its last year to professional electives, but the sacrifice has not served its purpose. The latest suggestion from no less eminent a source than President Butler, of Columbia, is for a two-year college course leading to post-graduate training, and a parallel four-year course for such as may desire it. We hope this experiment may not be tried, for its success would mean the disintegration of the college as it has been, and the introduction of nothing to take its place. The American student is not to fit for post-graduate university work at the end of his Sophomore year, and will not be until his training in the secondary schools is more thorough and less diffuse than it ever yet has been or is likely to be for some time to come. Nor can one successfully serve two masters, college and university. If the American college is still to remain a part of our educational system, it must stand by its old ideals and neither retreat or compromise. It is capable of giving splendid training for professional study, or in the so-called humanities, but it cannot do either in two years now any more than it could a quarter of a century ago. It cannot turn out well-grounded men by the simple process of tagging them A. B. at the end of three years, and it would do its noblest work in repressing the tendency to hurry instead of encouraging it. If the college would do the 'greatest possible service to education it should sharpen its ax, not to decapitate itself according to the present program, but to hew out of its present curriculum the courses that demand a diffuse preparation in the secondary schools, and out of these latter the time wasting requirements. The student who knows a few things thoroughly when he enters college is better fitted than he who has a smattering of many. This is the secret of the success of the German gymnasium."

OUTCLASSED BY YALE

The Elis Play a Fast Game Against Bucknell and Make Six Touchdowns.

Bucknell went down before Yale at New Haven on Saturday in what is acknowledged by Yale herself to have been the fiercest game that the Blue has taken part in this season. The score was 36 to 5, Yale scoring six touchdowns and kicking a goal on each. Bucknell scored a touchdown, the result of a fumble, but failed to kick goal.

This week commences Yale's series of games to decide the college championship, and since Saturday's game with Bucknell was to determine the make-up of the eleven as it will appear in the first contest, the sons of Eli played a fast and furious game. They put into the contest all their weight and skill. Every play that the coaches had thought worthy of trial was attempted. Every man except the center and quarter-back was used in advancing the ball. But Bucknell fought valiantly in the face of it all. Every inch of ground was contested by the Orange and Blue. More than a dozen times the Blue was forced to punt. On the offense Bucknell was very weak, the ball not being advanced by them more than thirty yards, excluding Smith's run.

Bucknell excelled in the punting game. The work of McCormick has not been equaled on the Yale gridiron this season, each one of his kicks surpassing those of Bowman.

Five thousand people saw the game, which was full of importance for Yale as it was the last appearance of her team prior to the championship games. Yale had her brass band out and her cheering sections going with almost as much regularity as though it had been a championship struggle. When the teams did play football there were some thrilling seconds and enthusiasm ran high.

The game opened with a kick-off by Yale to Bucknell's 10-yard line. The ball was speedily punned back to Metcalf, who was downed at his 45-yard line after a ten-yard run. Chadwick went by Bucknell's left tackle for fifteen yards before Yale had to punt.

Shelvin threw McCormick in his tracks as he caught at his 10-yard line. Then there was an exchange of kicks, after which Yale lost five yards for off-side play, and Bucknell after being crowded back to her 10-yard line called upon McCormick for a punt.

Then Yale tried Glass at running with the ball for the first time this season. By two plunges Glass literally walked through Bucknell's line for twenty yards. Bucknell fought hard for the remaining five yards, but Metcalf was finally shoved over. Bowman kicked the goal.

Metcalf caught the kick-off at his 10-yard line and carried it out to his 30, from which point Bowman punned to McCormick, who caught at his 40 and advanced the ball to his 50 before he was downed. Bucknell kicked out of bounds at Yale's 30-yard line and Yale at once called upon Bowman for a center play. Bowman smashed into the line and the scrimmage closed around him. Suddenly the ball popped out of the scrimmage straight into the arms of Smith, just as though it had been passed to him. Smith made a dash around Yale's right end, and had practically a clear field for a touchdown. McCormick failed for the goal, which left the score 6 to 5 in Yale's favor.

Before the half closed Yale had made the score 18 to 5. Yale's second score was made within a minute and a half after Bucknell got her touchdown. Bucknell returned Bowman's punt to the center of the field, Metcalf advanced the ball seven yards, and then Glass smashed through the line for a touchdown.

The touchdowns in the second half were the result of straight, hard football.

Another Game At Home.

The students will have another opportunity of witnessing a football contest on the Athletic Field before the close of the season. By transferring the game with W. and J. from Nov. 22 to Thanksgiving Day, the former date is left open, and Manager Dunlap has promised us a game here. He is negotiating with several good college teams and feels confident of securing one of them. He is most desirous of getting Trinitas, which has not lost a game this season and has won eight from such teams as Dickinson, Swarthmore and Haverford.

COLLEGE STATISTICS.

There are about 350 colleges and universities scattered throughout the United States. Of this number, 140 are universities, 200 of the institutions are coeducational, 15 are for the education of women, only, and 11 are for colored students. Harvard is the oldest university, having been founded at Newtown, afterwards Cambridge, Mass., in 1630. Of the men presiding over these institutions, 102 are clergymen. The attendance comprises an army of 112,000 men and women. The University of Michigan heads the colleges with the greatest number of living graduates, having over 15,000. Harvard has graduated in her 206 years of existence, 25,000.

Bucknell Tennis Association.

The Bucknell Tennis Association met on Friday and after adopting a constitution and by-laws, elected the following officers:

President—H. K. Williams, '03.
 Vice President—Bliss, '03.
 Secretary—Bartol, '05.
 Treasurer—Williamson, '05.
 Manager—Kalp, '03.

A series of inter-class and inter-club games will be arranged each year and if possible a series of inter-college contests. In case the latter cannot be arranged several tournaments will be held during the year. Any person may contest in the inter-class games, but in the inter-club games none but members of the association may take part. It has also been proposed to have mixed sets of doubles, young ladies from the Institute taking part.

Next Saturday's Game.

The 'Varsity eleven will meet the team of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis on next Saturday. The two elevens are evenly matched and the game is sure to be hotly contested. Although the Middies were beaten by State and Dickinson and tried by Lehigh, they are not weak by any means. They defeated Pennsylvania three weeks ago and on Saturday surprised the football world by downing Lafayette, the first defeat of the Eastonians this season. The Navy team is rounding to form for the annual contest with West Point and they can be expected to play a good game next Saturday. However, Coach Hoskins has determined to infuse some new life into the 'Varsity this week and barring accidents will have the eleven good shape for Saturday's contest.

A Good Entertainment.

The College Settlement Association promises a good attraction next week in Willard D. Howe, the impersonator, who appears in Bucknell Hall on next Monday and Tuesday evenings, November 18th and 19th. His subject for Monday is "David Garrick," and for Tuesday "Christopher, Jr." An admission of 35 cents will be charged.

The Dover, Del., Index has the following to say of Mr. Howe: "One of the best entertainments ever given in this town was given under the auspices of the Century Club on last Tuesday evening, when Willard D. Howe presented the play of 'David Garrick' as a monologue. Every character in the play is good, and it requires a good actor to render any of them well. But on Tuesday evening Mr. Howe took the whole of them in hand and rendered the play as well as a capable company of players would have done. Each part was well acted, the characters clearly drawn, and the grouping of the characters capitally done. It required but little stretch of imagination to people the stage with the various performers so perfectly and easily did Mr. Howe drop out of one character and into another. It was a most artistic performance and Mr. Howe merits the highest praise for his work."

Academy Was Victorious.

In a fast and exciting game on Athletic field last Saturday, the Academy defeated the Buffaloes of Sunbury by the score of 12 to 0. The Bisons were kept strictly on the defensive throughout the game, and not one was the Academy goal in danger. The Academy made large gains around the ends and at times literally walked through the Buffaloes' line. The work of the entire team was praiseworthy and the victory was all the more creditable to Coach Morris' team, when we consider the fact that this was the first game the Bisons have lost in two years.

The line-up:

WE ARE glad to note improvement in one of the college publications, The Mirror, which appeared last week. It is well worth the perusal of every student. Its subjects are practical and are treated in an interesting and profitable manner.

This decision to dedicate the coming issue of L'Agenzia to Colonel Weaver, '01, a trustee of Bucknell, who has done much for the institution, is a fitting compliment to that gentleman and will doubtless meet with the approval of all friends of the University.

COMMENTING on the Harvard-Pennsylvania game, the Press of Sunday says: "The Pennsylvania football eleven in yesterday's Harvard game was defeated, but the team played a strong, plucky uphill game which reflects infinite credit on all concerned. This is what football is here for. Not tawdry games, but to remind everybody in a rather soft and easy life there is nothing quite so fine as playing up against odds, holding the score down whether victory comes or not and putting out every ounce there is in a man and facing every risk there is in the game; for of such are the winners in the great game of life."

ALTHOUGH a grain of comfort can be taken from the fact that Bucknell scored a touchdown on Yale on Saturday, it was undeniably a disappointment to many supporters of the Orange and Blue that Yale ran up such a large score. The cause, however, was not in the weakness of Bucknell but in the strength of the Blue. It was Yale's last game before the Princeton contest and the coaches were determined to bring out all that was in the team. Besides the game was largely to determine who should play in the coming games with Princeton and Harvard and as a result every man put forth his best effort. Football authorities, who witnessed the game, state that Yale played harder than in any previous contest.

Two great advantages possessed by the larger colleges over their smaller neighbors were clearly brought out in this game. The Yale men had a greater variety of plays and executed them more neatly because the men had had the benefit of the ideas and ingenuity of not one coach, like Bucknell, but of a dozen or more men. Moreover, as cited above, many of the Yale men played hard because upon their work depended whether or not they should play in the contests to come. On these big teams it is often not decided who shall fill the positions until the week preceding the important contests. How different with the eleven of the smaller college! Practically every man is decided upon during the first two weeks of the season. This abundance of material in the large college also results in the men keeping themselves in better physical condition and in providing many competent substitutes. The day is earnestly looked forward to when Bucknell shall be able to muster more than scant eleven good men for its football team.

AS WE have before had occasion to state, it is undeniably true that a first-class 'Varsity eleven is impossible without a good "scrub" team. It is evident to every person that without something to line up against the first eleven can develop neither offensive or defensive play. Last week Coach Hoskins posted an impassioned plea for students to turn out for the second team in order that there might be a line-up. It went almost wholly unheeded and it was necessary for the manager to search along the side lines for a sufficient number of players for the "scrub" eleven. This lack of spirit is to be deprecated. It is disloyal to the college, the Varsity team and to Coach Hoskins. A man who can play football even on the second team and does not do so, especially when his services are badly needed, is not a true college man and as long as this spirit of indifference exists among those whose services are essential to the development of the 'Varsity team, there can be little hope of success on the gridiron. We do not wish to find fault but we deplore the fact that among four hundred students we were not able to have one hard line-up during the week, owing to indifference and lack of college spirit in those who can play. This state of affairs to say the least is discreditable and should not be allowed. We are prone to complain when the team fails to keep the score of its opponents within reasonable limit, but considering the support that is given the team nothing else could be expected.

Important games are yet to be played; and to win them Bucknell must continue to improve. But this improvement will not come without the aid of a second team. Permit us then to urge the "scrubs" not to pass this article heedlessly by, but from now on to come out and give the 'Varsity the best practice they have had this season. By so doing you will contribute greatly to the success of the team and reflect honor on the 'Varsity, yourselves and on the college.

Class Football Game.

The Sophomore and Freshman football teams will meet in the annual contest for the Hoskins cup on Athletic Field at 3 o'clock on next Saturday afternoon. Both elevens have been hard at work for more than a week and a good contest is promised. A small admission fee will be charged.

It is to be hoped that the managers will arrange to have competent officials and to see that the spectators observe the regular rules as to staying back of the side-lines. There is bound to be much class spirit displayed, which is apt to interfere with the game unless kept within bounds.

Col. Weaver Honored.

L'Agenzia, to be published by the class of 1904, will be dedicated to Colonel J. K. Weaver, M. D., of Norristown, class of 1861. Col. Weaver has been a Trustee of the University since 1891 and has always been interested in the institution and its development.

Vell Signs With Pittsburg.
Fred W. Vell, who was a member of the "Varsity" baseball team of 1901 and 1902, has signed a contract to play with the Pittsburg National League team, which has won the championship in that organization two years in succession. After the coldest season closed last spring Vell joined the Altoona semi-professional team and it was there that the Pittsburg officials witnessed his work, although he had previously been recommended as fast enough for the big league by James Scheiring, who is a member of the Pittsburg team. Vell will have to work hard to keep his position, as Pittsburg has ten twirlers on her staff, of whom at least four will be dropped after the season opens.

Vell makes the fourth Bucknell man now playing in the National League, the others being Mathewson, of New York; Scheiring, of Pittsburg; Barclay, of St. Louis.
A gentleman, who is interested in Bucknell athletics, suggests a team made up of former Bucknell players, as follows: Catcher, Stanton or Graham; pitchers, Mathewson and Vell; first base, Barclay; second base, Doolin, of Jersey City Eastern League;
short stop, Natress, of Cleveland
American League; third base, H.
Smith, retired, but formerly of Washington National League; left field, Scheiring; center field, Weidensaul, of Toronto Eastern League; right field, McCormick. Although weak in one or two respects, perhaps, this team would be very formidable.

VICTORY OVER THE MIDDIES

Bucknell Shows Rare Form and Wins A Fine Game.

Bucknell on Saturday scored one of its chief successes of the season in defeating the Navy 22 to 0. The victory was rather unexpected and for that reason is the more welcome. During the week the eleven practiced listlessly and Coach Hoskins was doubtful of its chances against a team that the week before had downed Lafayette.
It was the first time since the Indian game that Bucknell put up the game she is capable of. Every man played with a vim and snap and the Navy, although having a strong team in the field, was simply outclassed. The Navy was on the defensive most of the time, and never seriously threatened Bucknell's goal. The Bucknell eleven was unusually aggressive. The men helped each other more than in the preceding games. Often a Bucknell runner would be dragged by one of his own men after he had been tackled.
Once Gillis actually pulled McCormick out of the heap and over the line for a touchdown. Taylor's work was one of the features of the game. He was Bucknell's best ground gainer and succeeded in making two of the four touchdowns. Anderson distinguished himself by a pretty 70-yard run through the Navy team. McCormick kicked in splendid form, his punts averaging over 60 yards each.
Captain Wilcox won the toss. Belknap kicked to Smith, who returned the ball ten yards. Ozerky and Johnson carried the ball seven yards when the Sailors compelled Bucknell to kick. McCormick punting fifty-one yards to McNair. Cockill downed the little quarterback before he moved an inch. McNair punted to McCormick, who fumbled; but Smith fell on the ball. Shipp made five yards through tackle, but on the next play a fumble gave the ball to the Cadets, who also fumbled. McCormick made a magnificent dash, from one end of the field to the other. But he was brought back, the referee claiming that the ball was down before McCormick got it. Now the superior weight of Bucknell became apparent; Taylor, Shipp, Johnson and Ozerky crashed through their opponents' line until Taylor with a plunge for eleven yards launched the ball behind the goal posts for a touchdown.
Belknap kicked off to Johnson. The ball was given to the Navy for holding and on a fake kick, McNair made forty yards. This run was one of the redemptive features of the Navy's work and was cheered to the echo. For the remainder of the half honors were about even.
McCormick kicked off. McNair brought the ball back 10 yards, when Cockill brought him to earth. The Navy tried a fake kick again, but this time it failed miserably. Smith's ankle was injured and he was compelled to retire from the game, Anderson taking his place. The Navy punted to Anderson. Bucknell failed to gain, so McCormick punted to Mc-Nair, who was tackled by Gillis. The Freshmen Win the Cup.

It is seldom that the devotees of football in and around Bucknell are treated to such a fine exhibition of the game as that given by the Sophomores and Freshmen in the annual contest for the Hoskins cup on Saturday afternoon.
Had the members of the two teams been veterans at the game it is doubtful if a finer exhibition of grit, consistent and scientific football would have been presented. The Freshmen were victorious by the score of 17-0, but it was not until the referee's whistles sounded at the end of the second half that the Sophs ceased to fight.
Several hundred people, enthused by the delightful weather and the snap of the game, cheered each play vociferously.
The game commenced with Chees-man kicking off for the Sophomores.
The fiercest kind of line-bucking and some very pretty end-runs brought the ball to the Sophomores, 30-yard line, where Howell secured it on a fumble and dashed through the entire team for a touchdown. Goal was kicked.
During the remainder of the half, fierce aggressiveness on either side was met by a correspondingly stubborn resistance on the other and the ball was kept in mid-field.
In second half the Sophomores took a decided brace, and by short but consistent games by Groff, Cheesman, Sheppard, Hess and Marsh, succeeded in carrying the ball to the Freshmen's 5-yard line. But the latter's line here became invulnerable, Goldsmith proving a tower of strength in himself, and the Sophomores lost the ball on downs.
Line-plunges by Goldsmith, Neill, Owens, Munro, Claypool, and Howell's brilliant end-runs soon had the ball out of danger.
The Freshmen were beginning to taste victory and in a few dashes succeeded in sending Munro across the line for the second touchdown. Claypool missed goal.
With but a few minutes to play the Freshmen started in with a determination to score another touchdown. The Sophs, sore and bruised, were equally bent upon preventing it. The former, however, were equal to the occasion and after a few plays, Howell went around the end for a touchdown. Claypool kicked a difficult goal.
To single out individual playing is difficult, but it must be said that the work of Goldsmith, Neill, Owens, Howell, Taylor and Munro, for the Freshmen, and Jones, Cheesman, Hess, McMurray and Fry, for the Sophs, has not been equalled heretofore of Varsity games.

Susquehanna Reserves met defeat at the hands of Bucknell Academy at Sellsgrove last Saturday by the score of 11 to 0. The Reserves played very well but were unable to withstand the fierce charges of coach Morris' on the defensive and only once did their opponents succeed in making a first down. In the second half Bell received the ball on the kick-off and carried it a hundred yards for a touch-

At the class football game on Saturday and after the receipt of the news of victory at Annapolis in the evening, more enthusiasm was shown than had previously been displayed this year. We are glad of it, for it was a matter of comment that the student body had fallen into a lethargic state.

There was a ring of genuineness to the celebration Saturday night. It was enthusiastic and thoroughly college-like. Besides it was fitting; and had the victorious Bucknell eleven been present they would have received the homage due them.

The Sophomore and Freshman football teams on Saturday gave us one of the best contests we have had on Athletic Field this season. The Freshmen won because they outplayed their opponents, and they are entitled to all the credit there is in such a victory. However, the Sophomore team put up a fight of which they and their classmates may well feel proud. And in reflecting upon this game the fact should not be lost sight of that the class of 1905 contributes to the Varsity squad as many men as the other classes in college together furnish. That may explain why the class team was not a match for the Freshmen.

The victory of the Varsity eleven at Annapolis on Saturday was one of the most brilliant successes the men under Coach Hoskins have achieved this season. It was not a "chance" victory but one of the clear-cut variety, in which the victor won because of better playing. Although the Middies have met with reverses this season they are a very dangerous foe, and this year number among their victims Pennsylvania and Lafayette. The victory is all the more glorious to us because it came unexpectedly and at a time when the impression prevailed that the team had taken a slump. All credit to Coach Hoskins and the eleven!

of all previous classes was one dollar—a very reasonable price for the book. But in order to keep pace with other colleges and with the progress of our own college, in all lines there is need of improvement in our annuals. L'Agenda does not compare favorably with the annuals of some of the colleges of Bucknell's class. The fact that we asked only one dollar for ours to a certain extent accounts for its inferiority. It is impossible to produce a book for one dollar equal to annuals that sell from one dollar and a half to three dollars. The price of a book generally conditions its value; and in order to improve it in quantity and quality there must be an increase in the price formerly asked. The staff has begun its work and will do all in its power to produce a L'Agenda well worth the price and a book worthy of the standing and advancement of our institution. The class is to be commended for its new move and we trust it will receive the hearty support and approval of the entire student body.

MANY minds are so constituted as to require a stimulus to enable them to bring forth their best efforts. Faculties that lie dormant would die of their own accord and the possessor would not know of their existence unless some pressure were brought to bear so that they would act and develop. One inducement to better work and greater achievements we find in the prize system. This system may have its defects—few systems are without defects. But this much can be said in its favor, that without this system, the striving for intellectual as well as physical eminence would be lessened to a very great degree.

Through the influence of this system we have the Junior debate—a contest which calls forth the best efforts of the mind by engaging in an intellectual battle, not on the gridiron but on the rostrum. There is no accomplishment greater than that of being able to combat an opponent successfully on the public stage. He who can take a subject, treat it intelligently in all its phases, hold firmly the reins of argument and drive well home the cardinal points at issue has gained no less a victory than the greatest hero of the gridiron. The ability to do that implies careful research, extensive knowledge, and complete control over subject and of self when standing before an audience. And this power, it must be borne in mind, comes by exercise in debate. Apart from these acquirements an honor will be given each one of the four debaters who will compete for prizes at Commencement. The prizes offered are two—first prize, thirty dollars; second prize, twenty dollars. The inducements are sufficiently great to cause all who have been appointed, to take part in the contest. Let every one appear on December 9 when the first preliminary debate will be held and thus increase enthusiasm and make those who will be held for the final debate work for their position.

The President's Physician.
It will doubtless be of interest to the student body to know that Surgeon George A. Lung, U. S. N., the President's Physician, is a Bucknell man. He was a student here for three years and six months, going from here to Rochester University, where he was graduated. Later he was graduated from University of Pennsylvania, and after two years' private practice, entered the Navy.

Dr. Lung has seen service in nearly every portion of the world. He has distinguished himself in the West Indies, on the Philippines, in Samoa and in China, where he served as Brigade Surgeon on the famous march to Peking. At Cavite he was health officer, having charge of plague patients.

Last summer Dr. Lung paid Lewisburg a visit. He had intended spending his vacation here, but made a mistake as to his leave of absence. In a recent letter he says, "At heart I am a loyal son of Bucknell."

A New York paper recently spoke of Dr. Lung as follows:

"Dr. Lung is known throughout the service as the 'fighting surgeon.' He is a magnificent specimen of the American soldier, being six feet tall, broad-shouldered, smiling-faced and as gentle as a woman in speech and action.

"In the ambulance of British and American sailors near Apia, Samoa, on April 1, 1899, Dr. Lung gave exhibition of coolness and daring. He accompanied the sixty odd American officers and men who left Apia with a detachment of British marines for the purpose of breaking up a camp of rebellious natives in the vicinity of Vailala.

"This force was commanded by Lieutenant F. V. Lanesdale and Ensign Monaghan. When the combined force was ambushed, Lanesdale and Monaghan were killed, and no officer was left to command the American force. So soon as he had completed the work he had in hand attending to the wounded Dr. Lung assumed command of the bluejackets and rallied the company. He conducted the force, fighting at every step, to the American consulate and then to the harbor, where the Philadelphia was boarded. Captain Edwin White, in reporting upon the case commended in the strongest terms the work of Dr. Lung. Captain White said:

"At times when the fire from the concealed natives was thickest and at all times by his example he encouraged the young and inexperienced men to the proper performance of duty."

"Dr. Lung was under fire throughout the several hours in which the natives were trying to pot the British and American forces. After bringing off the American force he again engaged in attending to the wounded."

"In May, 1900, Dr. Lung was detailed to the Asiatic squadron, and when the American forces started for China at the outbreak of hostilities in that country, Dr. Lung was made brigade surgeon of the contingent. He proved himself not only an able and skilled surgeon, but also a cool and brave man under all circumstances."

"After returning to Manila from China, Dr. Lung was associated with the insular board of health at Manila during the plague outbreak and was placed in medical charge of the province Cavite. Under his direction houses and towns and streets were cleaned as they had never been cleaned before, and an inoculation hospital was established for the treatment of plague cases."

Dr. Lung was greatly interested in the handling of the plague cases and did nothing to protect himself from danger beyond the usual medical precautions. His handling of the work in Cavite secured for him the unstinted praise of his superiors."

LOCALS.
Dr. Perrine is booked for a lecture at Poddie Institute, Friday evening, December 5th. Subject, "A Summer Outing in Europe."

The Cleveland American League baseball club has forwarded a contract to Yencer Weidensaul, '02, for the next season, and it is possible that Yencer will play with that team next year. He was also sought for by the Toledo club in the Western League.

It was decided at a meeting of the class of 1904 last week to make the coming issue of L'Agenda larger than those that have preceded it and to increase it in quality also. To this end a motion to change $1.50 for the book was carried and two additional members were added to the literary committee. They are Sturgis and Miss Eddelmann.

Washington and Jefferson Cancels.
 The Bucknell eleven is without a game for either next Saturday or Thanksgiving Day, the only remaining dates of the season. The former date was left open by reason of the action of Baltimore Medical College in declining to accept the 22nd in place of Thanksgiving Day, which was given to Washington and Jefferson. During the week Wash-Jeff cancelled the holiday date, giving as a reason that the players were disheartened after being defeated by Cornell 50 to 0 and that the student body had lost interest in the game. By losing this game Bucknell suffers a great financial loss, as a big guarantee had been promised. Besides it will deprive the Orange and Blue of an opportunity to avenge the defeat suffered last year at the hands of the Washingtonians.

Manager Dunlap is exerting every effort to fill both open dates and he hopes to succeed early this week. He is endeavoring to get a home game for next Saturday and a game on foreign grounds for Thanksgiving Day.

The action of the Wash-Jeff management in cancelling will deprive the eleven a banquet, which the management had arranged to give in Pittsburgh after the game.

Last week Manager Dunlap received a flattering offer from Brown University to play at Providence on the 15th, but of course was compelled to decline.

AN INTERESTING CONTEST

The Baltimore Medicals Give Bucknell a Hard Game.

The Baltimore Medical College team was defeated by Bucknell on Athletic Field on Saturday afternoon by a score of 17 to 5. The game, especially in the second half, was hotly contested and proved to be the most interesting game at home in several seasons.

The visitors were a husky lot of men and they knew the game of football. Among them were Cure, formerly of State and Lafayette; Jennings, formerly of Bucknell; Gessler, formerly of W. and J.; McQuade, formerly of Georgetown. The week before coming here the Baltimoreans won the championship of Maryland by defeating Maryland Athletic Club. The playing of the visitors in the first half was loose at times, and Bucknell by hard, aggressive work scored three touchdowns, and kicked two goals.

In the second half the medical students braced, and put up as good a game as the Orange and Blue. After Bucknell had made her first touchdown, Baltimore got the ball on her own 10-yard line on a fumble, from which point Cure kicked a neat goal from placement.

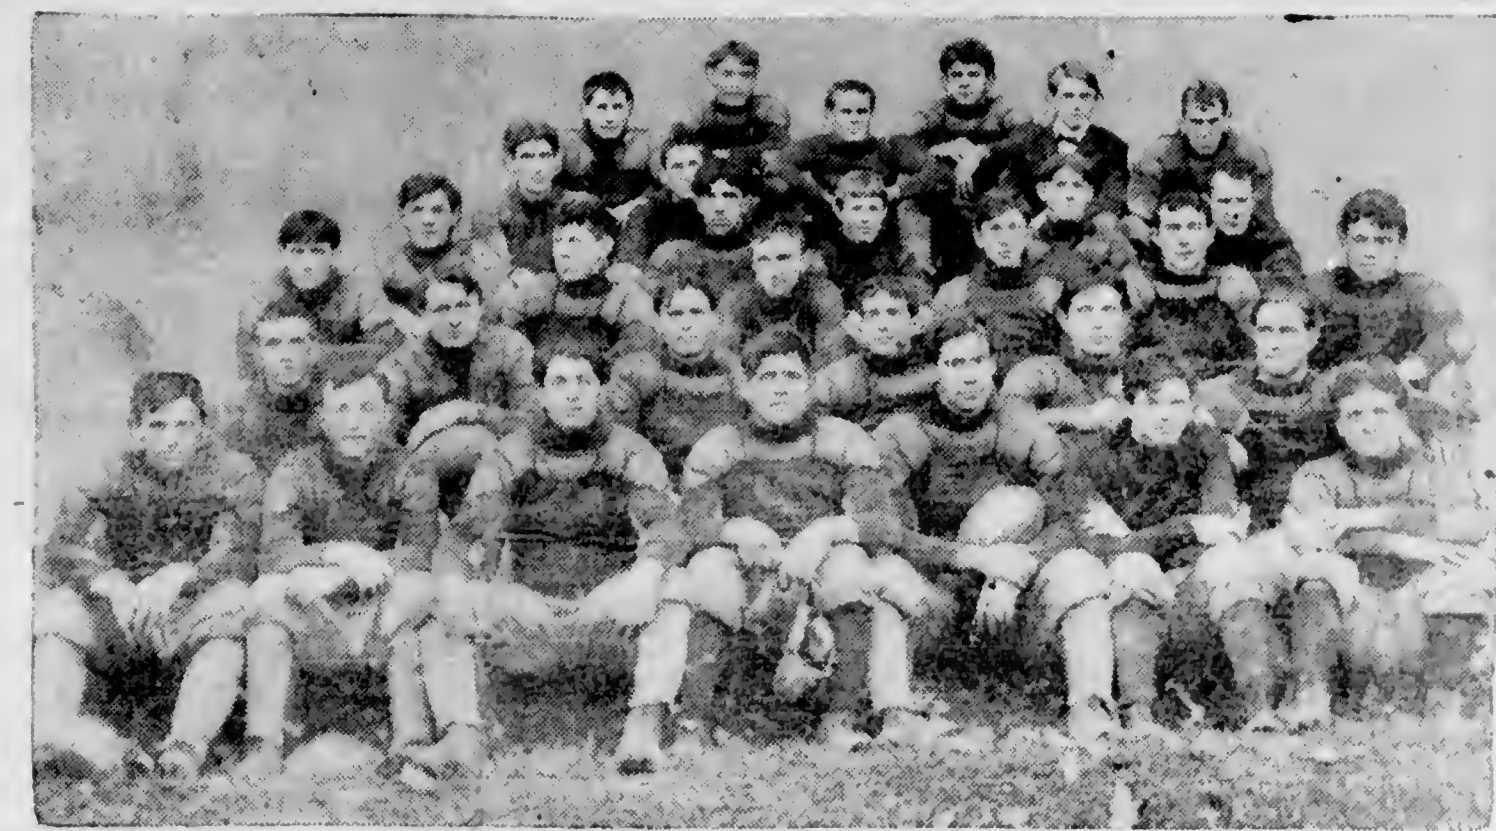

The spectacular work of Cockill and Taylor was unquestionably the feature of the game. Cockill's run of 60 yards for a touchdown was a clever piece of work. In getting down the field under punts and in tackling in the line he was also a star. Taylor was irresistible to the Medicals. He was given the ball repeatedly and never failed to make his distance. Johnson played well at half back, breaking up the interference in fine style. Douglas' defensive work was first class, and Anderson as usual put up a fast game and ran the team well. For the visitors the best playing was done by Cure, Jennings and Gessler. The offensive work of Gessler in the second half was excellent. He made gains of three, five, eight and ten yards through the line, and if the Medicals could have alternated another man with him they might have scored a touchdown.

The field was muddy and fumbles were frequent. Bucknell was the greatest offender in this respect. Had not the Orange and Blue line held well these fumbles would have been more costly than they were.

During the first half Captain Wilcox received injuries that compelled him to retire. During the second half McCormick acted as temporary captain. Captain Wilcox won the toss and chose the north goal. Cure kicked to Anderson, who returned the ball fifteen yards. Phelps gained twelve and Cockill 13 yards when the ball went to Baltimore on a fumble. They failed to gain and were compelled to resort to a quarter-back kick. Shipp getting the ball. Rushes by Johnson, Phelps and McCormick brought the ball to mid-field. Taylor plunged through right tackle and with splendid interference by McCormick and Phelps, carried the ball sixty yards to the goal line.

The success of a football team depends nearly as much upon the loyalty of the student body as upon the spirit of the individual players. Unless a team has the support and encouragement of the other students in college it will not do well. Too much emphasis cannot be put upon this point. Devotion

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY FOOTBALL SQUAD.

REVIEW OF THE SEASON.

BY GEORGE H. HOSKINS.

The football team of Bucknell University this year showed decided improvement over those of former years. The work as a whole was creditable to the University and to the players themselves. Bucknell by its excellent work forced itself up among the leaders and from now on will be a factor in college football. The team played nine games of which it won six and lost three. Our principal victories were those over the Indians, the Navy and University of Buffalo. The victory which gave us the most prestige perhaps was that over the Indians, as the redmen defeated Cornell the following week and afterwards downed Penn. The game with the Navy was perhaps the most gratifying to the friends of the team. The victory over University of Buffalo was the first in the history of the institution. The practice game with Steelton, which was won by Bucknell, should not be passed over too lightly, as this team afterwards defeated both Dickinson and Gettysburg.

The biggest disappointment of the season was the contest with Pennsylvania, which was lost to Bucknell by the narrow margin of one point. In a sense the defeat at Yale was also a disappointment, as we had expected to keep the score down better than we did. It was simply a case of Bucknell being afraid of the "Y." Had the game been played on neutral grounds, the score would have been much lower. We can take some satisfaction from the fact that we were one of three teams to cross the goal-line of the champion football team.

The success of a football team depends nearly as much upon the loyalty of the student body as upon the spirit of the individual players. Unless a team has the support and encouragement of the other students in college it will not do well. Too much emphasis cannot be put upon this point. Devotion whether defeat or victory be the lot of the team will have a wonderful effect upon the men who work to uphold the reputation of the college on the gridiron. A study of the conditions at the larger colleges of the country, such as Yale, Harvard, Princeton and Pennsylvania, will convince one of this fact. At these colleges, as well as at others, the eleven receive the same support whether it wins or loses. If it loses away from home it is met at the train on its return with nearly the same enthusiasm that would have marked a victory.

At the games at home the nearer the opponents get to the home goal the more spirited the cheering becomes; and if the goal-line is crossed the cheering continues. An instance of this was given when Bucknell played at Pennsylvania this year. I believe the cheering of the Pennsylvania students had as much to do with the winning of that game as anything else. At Lehigh last year we won by only 10 to 0 when we had a team twenty-four points better than theirs; and for no other reason than that the cheering of the student body not only encouraged the Lehigh players but gave ours a case of "rattles."

Can such loyalty be attributed to the students of Bucknell? Decidedly. No. They are neither sufficiently devoted in time of victory nor generous in time of defeat. There seems to be a lack of spirit, for which no person is responsible. At the home games, instead of staying in a body and cheering, they scatter all over the hillside. As a result the cheering is not in unison and the effect is lost. When the eleven is defeated they are prone to criticize, which works evil to the team. I am sure there would be an improvement if the students would only stop to consider the matter.

There is another point I wish to make in this regard. What Bucknell needs most to foster this spirit of loyalty is an alma mater song, one that will stand for ages and will always be a source of pride to all loyal Bucknellites even after they leave college. I think some alumnus or friend of the university should offer a prize, say of $15 or $20, for a composition of this sort.

Bucknell is traveling in fast company and from now on our squads must be larger. There must be more candidates for the team. I hope next year to see more men try for the eleven than have ever come out before.

Thanksgiving Day Game.

Manager Dunlap has arranged to go to Watertown, N. Y., for a game of football on Thanksgiving Day. Every effort was made to get a college game but without avail. The management was aware of the sentiment against playing athletic teams and the game was arranged with Watertown only an account of the financial inducements they offered.

The Watertown team is one of the strongest in New York state and Bucknell can scarcely be expected to win, although Coach Hoskins is hopeful of victory. Of eight games played the New Yorkers have won seven. Their only loss was to the Philadelphia Athletics, who won by a score of 11 to 5.

By the change in the allowance made for a fourth study in class, a student can do all his work for the Master's degree while pursuing the work for the Bachelor's degree. In order to take a fourth study, the student must have made on an average nine in the studies of the preceding term and in the term in which the fourth study is taken. If the student attains summa cum laude standing in his work for the Bachelor's degree and the same average grade in the work for the Master's degree, and if no one of the studies offered for the degrees falls below nine, the student may receive his Master's degree in connection with his Bachelor's degree; otherwise, one year must intervene between the degrees.

THE young ladies of the college, through the College Girls' Association, have accepted the proposal to assume the editorial management of the ORANGE AND BLUE for one issue. They will have charge of some issue in December.

THE differentiation of the Course in Science, begun by Bucknell this year, is in harmony with the general tendency of educational institutions. In the University of California, for instance, there are seven differentiations, and in Harvard, eleven, in the Bachelor of Science degree. The diploma in each case specifies the line in which the student has specialized. Thus in Bucknell the student who completes the course in Engineering will receive the degree of Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering.

The requirements for admission are the same as to the General Science course, with the addition of Solid Geometry. As the students in this course are specialists, they will be expected to do more work and attain a higher standing than a student in the Course. No student will be graduated if his average standing for the course is below min. The course is prescribed, but students of ability and industry may take optional studies in the Liberal Arts Courses.

THE football season for Bucknell practically closed on Saturday. One game remains to be played with an athletic club on Thanksgiving Day.

The season was the most successful ever experienced by Bucknell. The decisive defeat administered to Buffalo, the Indians and the Navy, all factors in the football world, were achievements for which we scarcely dared to hope when the season opened. Besides the Orange and Blue crossed the goal line of both Pennsylvania and Yale. Nothing but rank misfortune prevented us from defeating the Red and Blue; but these disappointments go to make up football life.

The work of Bucknell on the grid-iron renders the term "minor college" a misnomer when applied in an athletic sense to this institution. As long as we maintain the present standard we shall be a factor to be reckoned with. The fact is recognized and it found expression in various way during the fall.

The success of the team is due to the untiring efforts of Coach Hoskins and the faithfulness of the men under him. All have worked with a common aim and they are entitled to all the praise a successful season merits. Mr. Dunlap's management of the team has been faultless and he too is deserving of credit for his arduous task.

An Interesting Contest.

Within a half a yard of Baltimore's goal. Shipp crashed through for a touchdown. Johnson failed at goal. Cure kicked to Johnson. The Baltimore team took a brace and McCormick was compelled to kick. Noland gained eight yards. Cure got five and Gessler four, when Bucknell held. Cure kicked to Anderson, the kick was long and hard to handle. In attempting to evade a Baltimore tackle Anderson slipped on Bucknell's ten-yard line. A fumble gave the ball to the visitors. When an attempt to rush the ball across the goal line failed, Cure booted the leather between the goal posts from placement.

McCormick kicked to Gessler, who returned the oval five yards, before being tackled. In two plunges he brought the ball twelve yards nearer to Bucknell's goal. Here, however, Bucknell held for downs. On a right wing shift Johnson gained thirty-five yards. Taylor plunged through for ten yards. Three successful plunges by Shipp, placed the ball behind the Medical's line. Johnson kicked goal.

Cure kicked to Phelps, who returned the ball forty yards before he was downed. On the next line-up Cockrell circled the end and ran sixty yards for a touchdown. Johnson kicked goal.

Cure kicked to Shipp. The latter returned the ball fifteen yards. Phelps got five more, when Bucknell lost the ball on a fumble. Cure failed in an attempt at a field goal from the forty yard line. McCormick caught the ball and by splendid hurdling carried it to mid-field. Time was called with the ball in Bucknell's possession.

In the second half, Shipp, took Capt. Wilcox's place at centre. Ozerky going to tackle. This half was stubbornly contested, neither goal being in danger at any time. Gessler's line-plugging in this half caused the wearers of the Orange and Blue to fear that another touchdown would be added to the score, but Bucknell held at critical times.

The Irresistible Barrett.

The playing of Barrett, '02, in the Athletic-Pittsburg game at Philadelphia on Saturday was the feature of the contest. He was a large factor in both touchdowns.

The following comment on his work will be of interest:

Press. Washburne and Barrett skirted around Poe without the least trouble, and although the former Princeton star changed from one end to the other at intervals the Philadelphia players did not loose track of him and easily avoided his attempts to tackle them. Barrett was the principal offender in this respect and the brilliant work of this player won him the cheers of the crowd, who voted him another Daily. Barrett gained ground every time he was asked to and his runs were always sensational.

North American. From his team's thirty-five-yard line Barrett ran forty yards. After line plunging had failed to gain, the ball was again given to Barrett, and he made fifteen yards more. The clever little half wormed through the line like an eel, and although often tackled, he managed to break away before being downed.

FOOTBALL SEASON CLOSES

Bucknell Defeated by Watertown Professionals in a Good Game.

Between 4,000 and 5,000 enthusiastic spectators sat in a cold, raw north wind at Riverside Park, Watertown, N. Y., on Thanksgiving Day and saw Bucknell and the Watertown professional eleven battle for gridiron honors. The latter won, 6 to 0.

As the score indicates, the contest was exceedingly close, being at times replete with brilliant open field plays, again wholly confined to heavy bruising line-plunges by the tackles and backs. The first half ended with neither team in the advantage. Although the Orange and Blue gained ground continually and held their opponents at critical times, the college eleven could not cross the home team's goal-line.

The last half opened with a rush, Watertown carrying the ball by short two, three and five-yard advances toward Bucknell's goal. At opportune moments, however, the visiting team's line held like a wall of steel. At this point, quarter-back Hosmer began running Watertown's heavy speedy tackles from their positions in the line just outside the opposing tackle.

This play is similar to that used by Yale when Glass is given the ball. Capt. White and Baxter, the former greatly resembling the famous Yale guard, tore off large distances and by continual hammering of the line, interspersed by end runs by the backs, the home team placed the ball on Bucknell's 22-yard line. Here Capt. Wilcox's men threw Watertown back for a loss of three yards. On the next scrimmage not an inch was made, but with eight yards to gain and third down, Capt. White called his men back, instructing Hosmer to give the ball to Bottiger. The big half-back proved equal to the occasion and terminated his football career in the Garden City in a blaze of glory. Bottiger aided by magnificent interference, swept around Bucknell's right wing for the necessary eight yards and fourteen additional ones. Nor did he hesitate after he had brushed aside Anderson, the only obstacle between him and the coveted goal line, but straight on he sped until the ball was planted squarely beneath the goal posts.

When Bottiger made his sensational sprint for a touchdown the immense throng went wild. Hats, umbrellas, cushions and wearing apparel went up from the filled grandstand into the chilled autumn air while prolonged cheers echoed back and forth from hill to hill in the surrounding valley. The crack Fourth Battalion Band was in attendance and rendered music throughout the afternoon.

The Orange and Blue eleven made an excellent impression on all Watertown and the men loud in their praises of treatment accorded them. Every man on the team declares the game one of the cleanest that he ever participated in and expressed himself as willing to return next season.

When the train bearing the visiting eleven pulled into the depot at Watertown on Wednesday night it seemed as if the entire population had turned out to greet them, for the platform was so crowded by the eager, expectant throng that it was almost an impossibility to force ones self through the mass. Finally a narrow passage was formed and through this aisle, as it were, lined on either side by a conglomeration of curious men, women and children, Coach Hoskins and his brave little band reached Hotel Otis, where another crowd greeted them. Small boys fought with each other in endeavoring to reach the baggage of the Bucknell men and vied among themselves in trying to be of as much service to the visitors as possible.

Preparations had been made for a joint banquet of both teams at Hotel Otis following the game, but owing to the necessity of leaving at 6.30 in order to make the proper train connections, Bucknell dined early by itself. Neat souvenirs of the game bound with colors of both teams, containing yells of the respective organizations and the menu, were found at the plate of each one.

The reception tendered Bucknell on her arrival was insignificant compared to the demonstrations made at the time of departure. Immense multitudes of people turned out to bid farewell to the defeated team. Everywhere were heard expressions of regret at the close of the early leave-taking. Assurances were given of a game for next season.

Umpire Mason said after the game that had Watertown played the game against the Philadelphia Athletics, that she did on Thanksgiving Day, Wilcox's team played a strong game, as it was the score stood 11-5, the Athletics winning.

While, perhaps the same spirit was not shown, had the contest been a college one, every man on Captain Wilcox's team played a strong game. Captain Wilcox himself played the game of his life and although seriously hindered by a severe muscle bruise, held together in the center, tackled on the end and ran his team with superb generalship. Smith played a clever game until he was compelled to retire in favor of Anderson. The latter ran back punts in excellent style Phelps advanced the ball well, but his interference was too loose to permit large gains. Shipp smashed interference and threw the runner repeatedly. In the second half he was about the only man who could advance the ball for Bucknell. Cockill tackled well, frequently throwing Phil Draper, the professionals speedily left half-back, formerly half-back on Williams college, for a loss. For Watertown, the backs men easily the stars. Mason circled Bucknell's end for several long gains, as did Draper and Bottiger. Captain White and Baxter advanced the ball well. Right guard Edgell was a tower of strength, it being impossible to move him a foot.

Shipp Gains Prominence.

For the next few days the leading sporting writers of the country will be engaged in picking All-American football teams on the basis of this season's work.

The following choice of John Dennis Mahoney, sporting writer on the Philadelphia Press, will be of interest to Bucknellites since the second team contains a wearer of the Orange and Blue:

What College Spirit Is.

A good idea of what is meant by the term "college spirit" may be had from the following extract from an editorial in the Syracuse University Weekly:

"Nothing will arouse enthusiasm so much as a winning football team, but this enthusiasm does not necessarily imply college spirit unless it survives defeat. It is one thing to cheer one's self hoarse when the ball is going over an opponent's goal line; it is another thing to be at the railroad station early in the morning to greet the team after they have suffered an overwhelming defeat. Twice this year have the students turned out en masse to send off their football players, and twice have they gathered at the station to greet them after decisive defeats."

Registrar Gretzinger, Coach Hoskins, Jaekel, '03, and Anderson, '05, witnessed the Army-Navy game at Philadelphia on Saturday.

Basket-ball Outlook.

Within the next few days Captain Anderson of the basket-ball team will issue his call for candidates. There are three positions to be filled owing to the departure of Davis, Elliott and must be developed. The Freshman class is said to contain but little basket-ball material, which will make it necessary to look to the reserve and class teams for players. Of last year's reserve team Cheesman and year's reserve will be candidates and one of them will likely make the five.

The most promising players of the class teams who will compete for positions are Sheppard, '04, Griffith, '05, Grier, '05, Marsh, '05, Pearce, '05, and Smith, '05. Griffith has shown unusual ability in the past and bids fair to make one of the guard positions. Douglas and Ozersky will also join the squad.

Assistant Manager Browning hopes to create more than usual interest in the reserve team this year by preparing a good schedule for those who fall short of making the 'Varsity. This should serve as an incentive for all who have any ability at all to turn out and try for one team or the other.

Manager Bertolotto has not yet completed his schedule. It is likely that he will arrange a practice game with some nearby team to take place before the holiday vacation.

ALUMNI NOTES.

'03. A special from Harrisburg under the date of Nov. 28 says: "Governor Stone-to-day received the resignation of Judge John I. Mitchell as a member of the Superior Court, and will tomorrow notify Judge Mitchell of its acceptance. There are innumerable applicants for the place on the bench made vacant by Judge Mitchell's resignation, but it is generally supposed that ex-Judge Cameron, of Tioga county, will be appointed, as Governor Stone intimated his intention to appoint Mr. Cameron in conversation with a friend who called on him to urge another's claims."

'73. Former Congressman Hawley gave a dinner Tuesday night of last week, in Havana, Cuba, in honor of General Tasker Bliss, who is to arrange a basis for a reciprocity treaty between Cuba and the United States, in order that the general might meet prominent Cubans.

'90. Rev. J. Henry Haslam, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Williamsport, who was given a call by the congregation of Gethsemane Baptist Church, Eighteenth street and Columbia avenue, Philadelphia, announced in his church Sunday that he had decided to accept the call. His resignation was tendered at once, and will go into effect on January 1.

Next Year's Captain.

George Cockill, '05, left end on the 'Varsity football team, has been elected captain for the season of 1903. The election was held at Syracuse, N. Y., after the game with Watertown on Thanksgiving Day. Cockill has played on the 'Varsity two successive seasons and with his knowledge of the game should make a good leader.

The criticism of Coach Hoskins on the support given the football team by the student body contained in this paper last week, is severe, but none the less deserved. He calls the truth when he states that the cheering at games is poor and without effect. This was especially noticeable this year, when the cheering at Williamsport was not much short of a farce, and that at the games here wholly so. The cheering was poor because an unorganized body of perhaps fifty students in a college of more than four hundred essayed to do it.

This lamentable state of affairs is clearly indicative of absence of college spirit. This year we had the best football eleven in our history, which shows that a winning team alone cannot arouse enthusiasm, at least the kind that asserts itself in effective cheering; as Coach Hoskins points out, converted cheering is an essential factor in bringing out the best there is in a team. Contemplate the result of the Penn-Bucknell game, had the Bucknell eleven represented the Red and Blue, and Penn the Orange and Blue!

This lack of spirit is directly chargeable to the upper-classes. It is their duty to take the initiative in all the activities of college life. Through certain chosen ones they should have organized the students into a body for cheering, and seen that the cheering was done.

This year with a winning team, the task would not have been difficult, and the results would have been felt not alone this year but in years to come; for the present under-classes become the future upper-classes, and it is to the latter that the incoming class each year looks for its example. The upper-classes have been guilty almost of disloyalty—disinterestedness, at least—in allowing this opportunity to pass. The reputation of the college has suffered to that extent as a consequence.

It might also be pointed out that the matters of our schedule could assist greatly in fostering this spirit of loyalty by finding for us some common rival, to meet whom would arouse great enthusiasm. We have our annual Indian game, but because the two institutions are not similar in character the contest fails to awaken genuine college spirit. Our recent victory over the redmen, for instance, was allowed to pass without a celebration.

This is an important matter and should be seriously considered. If we have failed to hit upon the real causes for lack of enthusiasm over athletics at Bucknell we should like to know what they are.

It may be said without fearing contradiction that the chances for success for the average student are not as great now as they were in the past. Never was there a time when the race of life was so intense—"the runners are treading on each others heels and woe be to him who stops to tie his shoe-strings." Increase in competition and the demand for skilled workmen have made the bill of success rather difficult for the average student to climb. The demands made by employers in all lines, intellectual as well as industrial, involve more than average ability and preparation. With increased educational facilities come increased demands, and he who hasn't made the best use of his opportunities so as to raise himself above the average will have to be content with an average position unless he is favored with a political "pull" or demonstrate ability for something better.

A man's college career is a beacon light on which the eyes of those in authority are fixed; it serves as a guide in determining whether or not he is capable of assuming responsibility, and a student will generally find that he will receive a position of responsibility and power only to the extent his life and work in college will warrant it. Let his work as a student be moderate, average or excellent, and his measure of success and influence will be of the same grade. In the light of these facts it behooves those of us who are of the average type—and we are many—to so improve our time that we will exemplify those traits which are essential to success and which are embodied in the character of every good student.

The football season having ended, the student body will next look to basketball for diversion. Basketball has come into favor among colleges during the past few years and in the institutions of the East is recognized as one of the leading branches of sport. It is a game helpful in developing the mental and physical faculties in a growing man and when properly played is a source of interest and entertainment to the spectators. Here at Bucknell it is especially popular.

mened, Bucknell prospects in basketball cannot be intelligently touched upon. A new team must be built up around a nucleus of but two of last season's regular five. It will be no small task to develop a team capable of competing with those of other institutions of our class. Especially will it be difficult to turn out a team comparable with those that represented Bucknell in 1900 and 1901. Those teams were far above the average, as the fact that but three games were lost in two seasons will testify; and to expect that another such team will be developed this season is a little unreasonable. Yet such a task is possible of accomplishment and Coach Hoskins and Capt. Anderson can be depended upon to give us a first-class five.

ON Saturday next the election of assistant football manager and officers of the Athletic Association will take place. This election, as all athletic elections, should be a matter of vital interest to every student. It is one of the important functions of college life, on the faithful performance of which depends, to a very great degree, the success of our athletic association. A manager and officers are to be elected upon whom will devolve the responsibility of representing our institution creditably before the athletic world. It is, therefore, essential that every student who has an interest in his college be present at the election and cast his vote for the men best fitted for the office.

For the nominal sum of one dollar we become members of the association and have the privilege of voting at the Fall and Spring elections. Apart from these privileges, each man when he casts his vote has the consciousness of doing his duty, while the man who stays away through pure selfishness, lack of interest or for any other reason, other than unavoidable circumstances, will be held morally accountable for any failure that may arise on the part of the management. To all new students and those who are not yet members, we beseech you to be true to your manhood, join the association and thus show that you are interested not only in the intellectual activities of your college, but in the athletic activities as well. Let the registration book at the next election show a larger number of interested than has ever been recorded in the history of Bucknell.

THE addition of the "Teachers' Course," or "Course in Education," as presented in this number of the ORANGE AND BLUE, is another evidence that Bucknell is wide-awake and ready to meet the needs of the day.

For years among our matriculates we have a goodly number of teachers of from two to ten years' experience. These have doubtless felt the need of more extended work along professional lines, and we feel sure the "Course

In Education" will be favorably received by them.

The value of the course is apparent. Not alone are the fundamental studies offered—the psychology and the history of education—but the practical administration of a system of schools as well as the teachers' courses in History, Greek and Latin. These are inestimable values to the man expecting to do supervisory work or department teaching in high schools or academies. Considered as a whole, it is an exceptionally strong course and will fill a long felt want in better fitting the men who go out each year from Bucknell into the public school work of the State. Students and alumni should unite in giving the course the needed publicity.

As bearing on the subject of college spirit, discussed in last week's issue, the following from the pen of Casper Whitney in the Outing for December may be of interest:

"Pennsylvania, after extremely ragged work at the beginning, braced up and made a highly creditable showing against Harvard, especially, considering it was outweighed by about fifteen pounds to the man. I never saw better spirit, than Pennsylvania has shown this year among both players and undergraduates. Certain defeat was inevitable at Cambridge, and they know it, yet five hundred Pennsylvania students made the somewhat expensive journey to cheer their team, and remained to cheer their conquerors as well.

"That's what I call sportsmanship. Good work, Penn!"

Cecil Rhodes' Scholarships.

The trustees of the Cecil Rhodes' will recently referred the question of the manner of nomination of candidates for scholarships from the United States to the District Board of Education of Washington, and as a result the following recommendation been submitted to Secretary of State Hay:

"That the trustees of the will of the Hon. Cecil John Rhodes be invited to appoint an American commission, to consist of the Commissioners of Education of the United States and other eminent educators representing public institutions of secondary and of college grade, who shall, under the trustees, be empowered to make and carry into effect all needful regulations respecting the selection of qualified students from the several States and Territories of the United States in accordance with the terms of the said will."

Cecil Rhodes provided in his will for two American scholarships, to be awarded to each of the present States and Territories of the United States. The holders of each are to study for three years at Oxford, and to receive $1,500 per annum. In selection of the students for these scholarships character and scholarship are to count as much as scholarship.

President Harper, of Chicago University, says there is no truth in the statement that Rush Medical College is to be combined with the University of Chicago.

Wolfe and Claypool have been elected manager and captain, respectively, of the Freshman basketball team.

Plans have been prepared for improvements on the ground floor of the gymnasium. Among other things an office will be fitted up for Coach Hoskins.

Kase, who played on the Bucknell eleven in 1899, is a student in the dental department of the University of Pennsylvania, and next season will be a candidate for Penn's football team. He was ineligible this year because he took part in athletics at Gettysburg College last year.

The formal matriculation of the new students of the college took place in Bucknell Hall on Wednesday afternoon. The matriculates were welcomed to the college in a very interesting address by Dr. Hulley, after which they were introduced to the individual members of the faculty.

Shipp, the variety tackle, who was chosen on the second All-American team of Mahoney of the Philadelphia Press, was accorded like distinction by George H. Brooks, the former Pennsylvania player, who is acknowledged to be one of the leading experts of the country on college sports. The Philadelphia Bulletin gives Bucknell eighth place among the college elevens.

George Brooke on "Slugging." George H. Brooke, the well known sporting writer, recently contributed an interesting article to the North American on "slugging" in football. He says that before 1894 fists were used by players for no other reason than to disable their opponents, but now they do it for an altogether different purpose.

"The sole idea of slugging nowadays is to anger, rattle or unnerve an opponent, and thereby reduce his efficiency as a player anywhere from 10 to 40 per cent," says Mr. Brooke. "There are many new points in lineplay, and instantaneous charging is so all-important, that a man must have all of his wits about him or he will be out-generated."

"Good judgement must be used in slugging or the wrong man will be slugged. With some men the more they are slugged the cooler they fight. Others are not so fortunately constituted and they are the victims."

"Football is a more civilized and scientific game in these days. Good men get hurt fast enough in hard, straight play, without deliberate disablement. The influence of public sentiment has raised the code among players."

"The recipient of the present slugging is taught to control himself. If he becomes angered and rattled he loses efficiency, but if he loses his head to such an extent that he retaliates openly and is disqualified, then his cooler opponent laughs in his face."

"The talk of football losing popularity because of roughness is all bosh." Julian Curtiss, who managed the great crowd at New Haven on November 22, has said that if the vast amphitheatre, which seated 30,000 persons, could have held 40,000 more, that number would have been there at $2 per seat. "As for the players themselves, they glory in the roughness of the hurly-burly and old-timers love to tell of the fierce games of their college days."

 '85. Rev. J. E. Sagebeer, Ph. D., has resigned the pastorate of the Second Baptist church of Germantown.
 '87. The subject of "Christianity and Evolution" provoked a lively discussion at the Baptist ministerial meeting in Griffith Hall, Philadelphia, last Monday morning. An essay with that title was read by Rev. W. E. Straub, 1887, Ph. D., who claimed that the old materialistic evolution has given way to theistic evolution, so that the old conflict between evolution and Christianity is practically at an end. Christianity, he believed, had won the day, as against evolution.

COLLEGE NOTES.
 The only woman's college in western Asia and southeastern Europe is the American College for Women in Constantinople. It was founded in 1871.
 The past season has been most successful one for all the big colleges from a financial standpoint. Yale received nearly $400,000 from the Princeton and Harvard games.
 The cornerstone of the Hearst Memorial Mining Building has been laid by Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst. This is the first of many buildings to be erected for the new California University.
 Western critics who are saying that the Michigan team is as strong as Yale will be interested to know that in selecting an All-American eleven Coach Yost, of Michigan, named but two members of his own team and five of Yale's.

INDIAN GAME SECURED.
 Bucknell Will Meet The Redmen again Next Season.
 Registrar Gretzinger last week made the final arrangements for playing the Carlisle Indians at Williamsport next fall. This announcement will set at rest the fears of some that another college would succeed in its effort to secure the Indian team as its opponent at Williamsport, and will therefore will be welcome news. The date of the game has not yet been determined upon, but will be either the 3rd or 10th of October, depending upon whether the Indians play Cornell or some other strong team on the 17th. Should the Indians have a hard game on the 17th, Bucknell will be given the 3rd. Athletic Park, Williamsport, has already been engaged for the game.
 The annual contest next year should be one of the greatest athletic events ever held in this vicinity. Each team has won one game and the "rubber" will doubtless be hotly contested.
 In his letter accepting Bucknell's terms, Coach Warner of the Indian team asks for dates suitable to us for the annual track and field meet at Carlisle next spring. These will be submitted at once.
 Coach Warner also makes the unpleasant announcement that the Indians will have no baseball team the coming season. This will be disappointing to all friends of Bucknell athletics, as this annual contest was one of the features of our schedule as well as one of the main attractions of our commencement.

'VARSITY VS. RESERVES.
 Bucknell Basketball Material Shows Up Well.
 Last Friday evening the 'Varsity basketball team lined up against the Reserves for the first game of the season, and won by a score of 47 to 22. Owing to the loss of two forwards last year sentiment was afloat about the college that this year's team would not be as good as formerly. All who witnessed the game will unite in saying that we have the material for as good a team as ever represented Bucknell in basketball.
 A meagre attendance greeted the team, accountable perhaps to the fact that so much was going on Friday evening.
 The team appeared in new suits and presented a good appearance. The suits consist of the usual blue jersey with the 'Varsity "B," white running trousers and blue stockings with the orange tops.
 The game abounded in clever plays and the score reflects much credit upon the Reserves. The 'Varsity lacks, in its customary team work but later will doubtless get down to hard, earnest work. At present Captain Anderson is giving especial attention to passing, the all-essential to the highest success.
 To speak of the individual work of each man, space will not permit, but Anderson's usual brilliant goal shooting was the special feature of the 'Varsity's work. Johnston and Griffith showed up well at guard.
 For the Reserves, Smith played an excellent game, scoring three beautiful goals from the field. We have a strong reserve team and as a consequence, the 'Varsity men will have to work hard to hold their positions. This is exactly what is needed to insure a first class team.

ANNOUNCEMENT.
 To those preparing for college attention is directed to the number of units required for entrance in addition to the general and particular requirements. For full information see the catalogue.

Physical Measurements.
 Coach Hoskins is preparing his schedule for the required work in Tustin Gymnasium during the winter term. Physical measurements of the college men were made this term and those of the Academy students will be made during the first week of next term.

Death of Mrs. Mary E. Griffith.
 Mrs. Mary Evans Griffith, wife of Rev. D. W. Griffith, died at her home in Bedford, Iowa, on Nov. 18th. Mrs. Griffith was a native of Pennsylvania and was graduated from Bucknell Institute in 1874. She later taught in her Alma Mater.

ANNUAL A. A. ELECTION.
 Charles S. Marsh, '05, Chosen Assistant Football Manager.
 The annual fall election of the Athletic Association took place in Tustin Gymnasium on Saturday forenoon. The enrollment was the largest in the history of the college—217.
 The meeting was called to order by Vice President Cule.
 Manager Dunlap, of the football team, read his report, which appears in another column.
 The report of Treasurer Eisenminger was read, showing the finances of the association to be in good condition. Mr. Eisenminger also outlined the policy adopted to secure a new athletic field for Bucknell. He stated that $100 was placed in a Philadelphia bank two years ago, that $100 of the profits of this season, together with the money realized on the sale of membership certificates, would be added to the fund at once.
 A motion that the association should encourage Prof. Davis in his effort to collect photographs and trophies of athletic teams by instructing each manager to hand over to Prof. Davis all trophies along with photographs of his respective team, was unanimously carried.
 The chairman appointed the following auditing committee: Christ, '04; Roby, '04; White, '04.
 The following officers of the association were elected without opposition:
 President—McCabe, '04.
 Vice President—Hayes, '04.
 Secretary—Gilbert, '04.
 Treasurer—Gerhart, '04.
 Finance Committee—Steinhilper, '05; Karge, '04.

In presenting this report, I beg to state that of the amount earned, $156.11 was expended in paying back bills of other departments; one hundred dollars was placed in the Centennial Savings Fund, Philadelphia, and the balance is in the hands of the Treasurer.

Attention is also directed to the fact that it was not necessary this year to call upon the student body for subscriptions, only $80.00 in subscriptions having been received, and this from sources outside of college; also that the expenses this year in point of equipment, etc., were heavier than heretofore.

In closing this report, I desire to thank all who contributed in any way to the success of the season.

Respectfully submitted,
S. B. DUNLAP, Manager.

With this issue of the ORANGE AND BLUE the present staff ceases its labors. If we failed in giving the student body what it had a right to expect in the way of a representative college publication it wasn't because we didn't try. We did the best we could.

Candor impels the statement, however, that this paper is not what it should be: not up to the standard of the best college weeklies, although it is better than some. Three years observation and one term's experience lead us to believe that the fault lies, not in the individual members of the staff, but in the fact that it is too limited as to numbers. Especially is this true of that portion of the staff whose duty it is to report the varied activities of the college. To serve its function as a college weekly should touch upon everything that transpires in and about college. As the staff is at present constituted two persons must do this work, which is most unreasonably.

So small a number cannot handle intelligently all the affairs of a college the size of ours, however versatile they may be. We think, therefore, that the reportorial force should be increased and we intend to embody this idea in a formal recommendation to the Board of Directors, which meets this week.

This is the wall of Director Quin of the Milwaukee School Board:
"Within a few years there has been injected into the curriculum of the colleges and universities of our country, our own included, a new study, based not on intellect but upon muscle. So completely does this branch of modern high education overshadow all others that the titles of A. M. and LL. D. are in a fair way to be superseded by the title of F. B.—full back."

Which brings this rejoinder from the satirical New York Sun:
"A. M.'s and LL. D.'s are as common as warts; but the world has few great full backs. The estimation in which the few gifted full backs are held proves how difficult their profession is. The question is one of supply and demand. There is an imperious need, a famine, of great full backs; but of A. M.'s and LL. D.'s there are enough and to spare."

At a meeting of the Freshman class last week, Whitaker was chosen to represent the class on the ORANGE AND BLUE board.

The need of a new athletic field is too apparent to invite comment.

MANAGER Dunlap of the football team retires from office with distinction. Besides having given us one of the best schedules we ever had and being at the head of the best eleven that ever wore the Orange and Blue, he has finished the season with a surplus of over two hundred dollars, and this in the face of the fact that the expenses of the season were heavier than ever before and that no subscriptions were taken from the students. This is an achievement of which any student-manager might well feel proud. In this the Executive Committee and Mr. Gretzinger had a part, and they too are entitled to credit.

STUDENTS should be builders of bodies as well as builders of characters and intellect. During the winter term an opportunity is given for healthful indoor exercise. The catalogue states that this work is "required" of ALL college students, but there is a tendency among the three upper classes to shirk this duty imposed by Nature and sanctioned by faculty legislation. No student who realizes his mission here will neglect the opportunity afforded by the Tustin Gymnasium for physical development next term.

In view of the claims made by another college as to a football attraction it would have at Williamsport next fall, Bucknell is to be congratulated on securing a game with the Indians in the Lumber City for the season of 1903. The student body should consider itself indebted to our energetic Registrar for his efforts in this matter.

The attention of all students is called to the fact no excuses are given for absences during the first two weeks of any term. It therefore behooves all those who desire to have any standing in their classes to return to college next term in time for recitations on the opening day.

This is the wall of Director Quin of the Milwaukee School Board:

"Within a few years there has been injected into the curriculum of the colleges and universities of our country, our own included, a new study, based not on intellect but upon muscle. COLLEGE NOTES.

The class of temporary politics at Princeton has been organized into a chamber of deputies modeled exactly after the French chamber. The Seniors constitute the conservative and the Juniors the radical element. The ministry has been chosen from the conservatives.

It is reported that Henry C. Frick, former partner of Andrew Carnegie, will present to Pittsburg a university which will out rival the Polytechnic School offered by Mr. Carnegie to that city. He will not only provide the site and erect the buildings, but will endow the school with $2,500,000.

The new Chicago dormitory, Hitchcock Hall, is intended to be one of the most luxurious of its kind in the country. It is finished in marble and Flemish oak and has a library, diet kitchen, hospital ward, breakfast room, and training quarters, besides all the usual conveniences and fittings. A Delightful Performance.
 On Friday night last the Girls' Dramatic Club rendered the "Bird's Christmas Carol." The scenic part was very effectively acted in pantomime, the story being read by Miss Schillig. The chief features of the play were the parts taken by the children whose actions were very natural. In several of the scenes Christmas carols were sung by Misses Knox, Gerhart, Duncan and Cobb.

Between the scenes the audience was entertained by a dialogue given by Messrs Black and Langhorn; recitations by Misses Barton and Shaffer and instrumental selections by Miss Coleman.

The good attention and enthusiastic applause during the evening left no doubt as to the appreciation of the audience.

PRAISE FOR 'VARSITY ELEVEN

Bucknell Achieves Distinction on the Gridiron.

Echoes of the football seasons are full of praise for Bucknell's eleven. Football authorities all over the country considered her a factor in determining the standing of the leading college teams and the recognized leaders among these critics have given Bucknell a rating above many larger institutions of learning that have always been regarded as leaders in football. It was indeed Bucknell's best year in football; and to maintain the high standard accorded to us this year it will be necessary to bring into play in the future every resource at our command.

Walter Camp, perhaps the leading football authority of the country, presented his review of the season of 1902 in two recent numbers of Collier's Weekly. Mr. Camp gives Bucknell the following mention:

"Bucknell, as has been the case in former years, put a very strong, aggressive team into the field and took the scalps of the Indians, defeating them no less than 16 to 0. Bucknell also played a close game with Pennsylvania, the score being 6 to 5 in the latter's favor."

Mr. Camp concludes his very interesting article with the following table showing the relative standing of the first fifteen teams:

First Division.—Yale, Princeton, Harvard and West Point.
Second Division.—Dartmouth, Pennsylvania and Cornell.
Third Division.—Brown, Carlisle, Amherst and Bucknell.

Fourth Division.—Lehigh, Lafayette, Syracuse and Columbia.

Dartmouth is accorded a place in the second division on account of her decisive defeat of Brown and the fact that she lost but two games, one of these to Harvard.

In explanation of the third division Mr. Camp says:

"Brown was plucky enough to play both Yale and Harvard, suffered four defeats and her score was three times that of her opponents. Carlisle played Harvard, suffered three defeats and her score was five times that of her opponents. But as Brown goes down in this division because she was beaten by Dartmouth in her important game, so Carlisle goes down on account of comparison with Dartmouth and Pennsylvania scores against Harvard. Carlisle being beaten 23 to 0 by Harvard, while Penn. was beaten only 11 to 0 and Dartmouth 16 to 6 by the same opponent. Amherst suffered only three defeats, although, like Brown, she played both Yale and Harvard, and in spite of this schedule her score was two and one-half times that of her opponents. Bucknell played Yale, suffered three defeats and her total was two and one-fifth times that of her opponents."

The New York Sun, rates Yale, first; Princeton, second; Harvard, third; West Point, fourth, Pennsylvania, fifth; Cornell, sixth. It then says:

"This leaves for the other places an array of colleges whose work for the season entitles them to good places. Brown displayed splendid form all through the season and would follow Cornell in rating, though the claims of Bucknell, Amherst and Dartmouth for that position are all strong. Notwithstanding that Dartmouth beat Brown, it must be conceded that for consistent and steady work for the season the Providence eleven proved itself superior. Dartmouth beat Brown and gave Harvard a good scare, but was defeated by Amherst in decisive style; nevertheless the New Hampshire team was quite the equal of Amherst. Bucknell had a splendid team on the field and earned a good rating. Lafayette and Lehigh also deserve creditable places on the list."

Cox-Sechler Nuptials.

An event of interest to Bucknell students occurred in Lewisburg during the Christmas holidays, when William H. Cox, Jr., ex-'05, and Miss Helen Sechler, of Lewisburg, were united in marriage.

The ceremony occurred on Christmas evening, at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on Market St. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Ephraim Cox, while the Misses Martin and Cornelius were maids of honor. Frank Daniels, '04, and Harry Remer, ex-'05, were ushers. Many costly and elaborate gifts were received by the young couple which goes to show the esteem in which they are held.

After an elaborate dinner the young couple left over the Reading for an extended eastern trip. They will reside in New Castle. The ORANGE AND BLUE wish them a long and happy married life.

Basket Ball.

The candidates for the basket-ball team returned early this term and were given good hard practice by coach Hoskins in preparation for the coming season which opens next Friday night in the Tustin Gymnasium with Philadelphia college of Pharmacy.

This game will be an interesting one, for P. C. P. has a strong team. Our new men will be tried at their various positions, and the students will have an opportunity to see what kind of material will represent the Orange and Blue in the coming season.

It is earnestly hoped that Bucknell will have a large representation at the game to encourage the boys and help them on to victory by their presence and cheers.

Dr. Hulley's Lecture.

After chapel exercise this morning, Dr. Hulley delivered the regular term lecture to the students of the University. His subject was "Education and Life." The speaker showed very clearly the relation of education to life and laid special stress upon the proper early training of the child and the care of its nervous system. In conclusion he showed plainly the opportunities of the student of ordinary means now as compared with those of a few decades ago, and urged most earnestly that all students make the most of their opportunities.

Cornell will have a good opportunity to select a fine baseball team inasmuch as fifty-five candidates have reported.

With this issue the new staff begins its work of editing THE ORANGE AND BLUE for one term. Our predecessors will bear witness to the fact that the task is not an easy one, and it is for this reason as well as many other good motives that we beseech your assistance and kind thoughts.

We desire to extend a cordial greeting to the return of the students to their work, and especially to the new students who have entered the ranks at Bucknell. It is to be hoped that all have entered upon their work with the firm resolution that the work for the remainder of the year shall surpass all previous efforts towards development.

Let the student bear in mind, however, that poring over books for hours at a time does not alone bring about the highest development. The most essential factor, in this excellent training which is offered to the students at Bucknell, is a systematic planning of work and recreation, and a thorough execution of this plan.

A schedule of the courses of study offered this term was published in a previous issue of the ORANGE AND BLUE, and most of the students, if not all, have planned this part of their work. In this issue appears the schedule of work offered in physical training. This work should by all means receive the hearty co-operation of every student at the hill, and should, of course, be found in this systematic scheme of every student. We earnestly plead with you that in arranging this plan you reserve a brief space each week for the writing of short articles for our college periodicals. Remember that you stand in need of the practice, and we are in very great need of your assistance. Your help will always be highly appreciated.

All unpaid subscriptions to the ORANGE AND BLUE are due. A prompt payment of same will be highly appreciated.

With reference to the recent successful completion of the additional $100,000, endowment, the following article, written by Dr. Perrine for the Baptist Commonwealth, deserves the careful attention of every student:

"Those who are intimately connected with the University on boards of control, administration and instruction, as well as its friends who are more numerous and enthusiastic than ever before, are to be congratulated on the fact that another hundred thousand dollars has been added to its endowment. This makes the value of the University's property about one million dollars.

With these additional funds the University is placed still further beyond the vicissitudes of fortune, is enabled to be more helpful to a larger number of students, and to provide better facilities in those days when the demand often grows much faster than the supply. It cannot be too often asserted that the educational is not standing still; that it is moving more rapidly than in any other day in the history of education; and that those institutions which aspire to keep abreast of the time must be on the alert to improve in all possible ways. The new courses—especially those in engineering and in the history of education, child psychology, American history, mathematics, Latin and Greek for teachers, in literature and economics, in New Testament Greek—indicate the wide field of knowledge which is now covered. They could not be offered and little progress would be made if generous assistance were not given from time to time. As a result of this recent effort to secure an additional endowment, those who have not been especially interested will become more ardent as they see that so many people have felt such confidence in the institution as to give of their substance, and denominational pride will be increased to witness the success of a foundation where the teachings of the Christian religion are presented in a reverent spirit. ENOCH PERKINS."

Bucknell Leaguers Do Well.

The batting averages of the National League baseball players have recently been made public. The former Bucknell players new in that organization showed up well.

Sebring with Pittsburgh stood fourth, with the excellent average of .335. His record was as follows: 19 games; 80 times at bat; 15 runs; 27 hits; 40 total bases; 1 sacrifice hit; 2 stolen bases. Barclay with St. Louis, stood thirteenth, being within the charmed circle of those who bat over 300. His record was as follows: 137 games; 542 times at bat; 81 runs; 163 hits; 186 total bases; 8 sacrifice hits; 36 stolen bases; average .301. Barclay was third among the base stealers. The leader having 7 more than he. Mathewson with New York, like most pitchers, batted poorly, his average being .200.

These three players will be with the same teams next year that they were with last year.

M. J. Zoulet of the College de France has translated President Roosevelt's late work, "The Strenuous Life," into the French. "La Vie Intense." Professor Aviragnet's class in Colloquial French is now reading this work.

THE LITERARY SOCIETIES

Eupelia.

The opening meeting of the "Eupelia Literary Society" was of a decidedly informal type; the programme, not having been posted until too late for constant preparation, consisted entirely of extemporaneous work. Different members were asked to relate the experiences of their vacation; and these comprised tales ranging from the sentimental to the ridiculous. At the conclusion of the literary programme, a short discussion was held concerning the proposed improvements in the "Hall." The old constitution also was spoken of, and as it seemed to have been a hindrance rather than a help, it was decided to revise it.

The president urgently requests all worthy Eupelians to attend regularly, and execute their duties carefully and earnestly, as this is the term when our literary work becomes of vital importance.

Theta Alpha.

The first meeting of the term was held on Friday evening. President Taylor being absent, Vice President Ealy occupied the chair. The proceedings of the meeting were entirely extemporaneous, inasmuch as the time for preparation of a formal programme was rather brief. The society at large selected a subject for debate and Sheldon '03 and Rhodes, '03 were appointed to lead the discussion.

The general debate was quite interesting and enthusiastic. The critic, in concluding his remarks, made a very urgent appeal to all members to uphold the honor and dignity which has so long characterized the society.

LOCALS.

Gill, '05, has returned to college.
Leshner, '05, has returned to college.
Madden, ex-'05, has entered Allegheny College.

Remer, ex-'05, will not return to college.

Shoemaker, ex-'06, will not return to college.

Thels, '02, spent a few days in town last week.

Ammon, '05, has resumed his studies with his class.

Douglas, academy, has accepted a position in Bradford.

Taylor, '05, was called home to attend the funeral of a friend.

Royer, '05, was called home to attend the funeral of his father.

Mancoral, '02, has accepted Prof. Bell's position in the academy.

Hunter, ex-'05, has accepted a position as principal of Ralston schools.

Kester, ex-'04, spent a few days with his brother at the opening of the term.

Davis, '02, has been engaged to coach the South Jersey Institute basket ball team this season.

An inter-collegiate debate between the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Virginia will take place this year.

Barrett, '04, who played half-back on the Philadelphia National league team last season, visited friends on the hill last week.

The Senior class at its meeting this morning, elected Miss Helen Sellinger as poetess to fill the office made vacant by the resignation of Miss Anna Stephens.

Education Conference Council.

An International Educational Conference Council has been established, consisting of prominent men from the United States and Canada.

The object of this council is to discuss questions of economy in school expenditures, traveling schools, vacations, health, libraries, books, school taxation and degrees.

Pennsylvania is entitled to three representatives on this council.

The students who remember the pleasant visit of Dr. B. L. Whitman last spring term, and his very helpful lectures, will be interested in reading his kind thoughts of our institution. We refer you to his article which appeared in the Baptist Commonwealth of Jan. 8th.

McMahon at Yale.
William McMahon, who attended Bucknell last year and played on the varsity football team during the season of 1901, and who is now in attendance at Yale Law School, is picked as one of the most likely candidates for the Blue eleven next fall and for the crew the following spring. Having played on the Bucknell team in 1901, McMahon was not eligible for the Yale eleven last fall, but he did not escape the notice of Mike Murphy, Yale's famous trainer. McMahon wanted to play on the Yale School team; but Murphy advised him to keep out of the game entirely until the fall of 1903, when he will try for the varsity. Murphy is quoted as saying that the Pittsburgher should make the team.

McMahon's experience on the crew of the Columbia Club at Pittsburgh will give him a decided advantage as a candidate for the Yale crew in the spring of 1904. He is almost sure to make the Freshman crew next spring.
He will probably be chosen captain.
Each fall two Freshman crews are taken to Lake Whitney for a race.
McMahon was among the number taken along last September, and the showing made was highly pleasing to the coaches.

LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JANUARY 19, 1903.

YARSITY VICTORIOUS.

Bucknell too strong for Philadelphia College of Pharmacy.

The Philadelphia College of Pharmacy basket ball team was defeated by the one-sided score of 159 to 5 on Tuesday evening in the Tustin Gymnasium.

A large and appreciative audience greeted the boys as they came upon the floor for this their first game. In a short time the referee's whistle called the players to their positions and the game was on, and another season was opened for Bucknell.

The representatives of the orange and blue started right in for business and in less than a minute Captain Anderson landed a goal for Bucknell.

In was evident from the start that Bucknell would win by a good score for the players continued to drop them into the basket in almost a stream.

Captain Anderson's men set such a pace that it was absolutely impossible for the visitors to keep up. At no time of the game was Bucknell's goal in danger.

Bucknell did all of her scoring from the field with the exception of one goal from a foul, which Grier secured, while on the other hand our opponents succeeded in getting only one, which was made by the center during the first half.

In spite of the fact that the score was one-sided the game abounded in sensational plays. The center and forwards seemed to be able to locate the basket from almost any position.

Several difficult and long shots being made by Anderson. But to attempt to say who was the star would be impossible as well as an injustice to the other men, for they all put up a star game. Not only was the individual work up to the standard but the team work was also beyond reproach. The manner in which the team worked together was pleasing to all interested for this was the first time they have been together and Bucknell proved to be as strong on the defensive as she was on the aggressive, for P. C. P. was given very few opportunities for goals.

Anderson was first man in number of goals, securing 40 out of 79, while Cheesman was second in landing 20.
The work of the forwards and centre was beyond reproach as the score will show and in them Bucknell has three men whom it would be hard to replace. They are thoroughly acquainted with the game and never allow an opportunity for a goal to pass.

The work of the defense was of first-class order, though this was practically the first game in which they have played.

Great credit is due them for the manner in which they guarded their opponents.

Grier and Smith, who replaced Mc-Cormick and Johnson, showed that they knew what basket ball is from the number of goals secured by them during the game.

THETA ALPHA.

After President Taylor called the Society to order, Friday evening, Goldsmith, '06, gave an interesting talk on current events. He was followed by Rank, '05, who delivered several selections from W. C. Bryant, prefacing the reading with some carefully prepared and thoughtful introductory remarks concerning Bryant and his works. On account of the basket ball game the debate was omitted, but Cook,
'03, gave a short discussion of the question scheduled for the evening.
A motion was carried providing for the insertion of a group photograph of the society in the L'Agenda, after which the society adjourned.

THETA ALPHA.

The Eupha was called to order by President Tiffany promptly at seven o'clock on Friday evening. The first selection on the programme was a recitation by Cule, '04, which was so well rendered that he was encored until he took the floor a second time. The second selection was the reading by Cule,
'06, of "Those Evening Bells" by Thomas More, and "Those Annual Bills" by Mark Twain. Hess, '05, then gave a talk on the "Prospects of Eupha" which was very much to the point. The last number on the programme was an essay by Henry, '05.
The article was very well written.

lacrosse championship of Canada for two years.

Cornell University is still anxious to have a meeting on the gridiron with Harvard and as Harvard will not play at Ithaca, New York City has been suggested as a meeting place. There is little or no chance that Harvard will consent to play in New York.

The debating teams representing Lehigh University, Franklin and Marshall college will meet during the present Academic year to debate the following topic: Resolved, That for a government of a free people, the English Cabinet system is prefer-

The year of 1902 closed with Bucknell's athletic standard a notch higher. Her successful work in all departments has given her a leading place among the smaller colleges. The result has made the student body more enthusiastic and more loyal. The college is proud of its members who have won distinction and honors them by permitting them to wear a "B."

The literary periodicals have been a leading factor in keeping up athletic interest. They mention the good plays; they appeal to the student body to support the team in many ways; and they keep the alumni in touch with the college spirit.

Not many are aware of the amount of time and labor the editors spend in trying to make their respective periodicals true representatives of college life. Their efforts, not like the men practicing on the field, are done in secret. The college body knows only the result of their struggles.

Now those who have won a place in athletics are permitted to wear a "B," which is proper and just. But why not go farther and credit each of the editors-in-chief in a similar way. Let them be honored with a "B," an old English "B." Michigan has adopted this plan and other colleges are following the same method. It will add dignity to the office and will give a token of honor where honor is due.

For the remaining places on the staff it would be well to adopt the competitive plan such as Cornell has. No student's name is permitted to be on the staff until he has earned a place there. The highest position is given to the one who stands first in his literary work; and the other places are filled in their order according to the literary standing. The order of the names on the staff indicate the rank of each student thereon.

Since journalism has been adopted as a regular branch, the approval of such a plan would be in perfect harmony and would be a stimulus to it.

We believe if the above plan were carefully followed out it would cause a literary revival and be a great benefit to the college at large.

IN the department of college news, February number of "The Delinquent" appears a photograph of the Bucknell Dramatic Club 1902. It is gratifying to know that Bucknell should be accorded distinction in a prominent magazine having such an extensive circulation.

In the same department of the "Delinquent" appears an article by Carolyn Halstead on "The College Woman Versus The Non-College Woman." The following is an excerpt. "It is claimed that only one out of every five hundred girls goes to college, and yet what an important factor in modern civilization the college-bred woman has become as one writer says: 'She is a merciless iconoclast, as well as an inveterate optimist, a ruthless destroyer of time honored traditions. Woman has always been man's moral superior; the college-bred woman is pushing her way to the front of the ranks as his mental equal.'"

The January number of the Monthly "Maroon" (University of Chicago) contains an article on "Some Considerations Not Irrelevant to the Education of Women," by Itae Baldwin. We quote the following excerpt:

"Some fifty years ago we discovered that our girls were not properly educated, and cast about to find a means of bettering their condition. The schools and colleges already among us were the outgrowths of several centuries' experience in training boys into men. These seemed, on the whole, satisfactory, for the men who were educated in them usually accomplished more in their lives than those who were not. 'Now woman is man's equal,' reasoned the parents and guardians of our grandmothers, therefore she ought to be educated as he is. Consequently the girls, regardless of the fact that equality is not similarity, were sent either to their brothers' schools, or to others exactly like them. And we are still making this strangely illogical attempt to use identically the same process in bringing to the highest possible perfection two creatures differing in essential points and destined for different ends. No alternation in method—elective system, individual research inductive methods—has been made that does not apply to both; we still suffer from the reversed application of the old theory that 'What's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander.'"

The above mentioned articles represent very careful and thoughtful consideration, and will well repay the students for the reading. The periodicals mentioned will appear on the reading table in the library on Tuesday.

The attendance at the game on Friday evening was good. Let it be very much better next time.

The University of Pennsylvania has severed all athletic relation with Georgetown by refusing to meet the Southern Union. In any branch of athletics this year. No reason is given but it is thought to be on account of Georgetown's lax eligibility rules.

The list of one hundred and fifty students at Columbia University recognized for their standing in scholarship, recently announced by the dean included the names of forty men who took an active part in athletics. Several of the larger dailies of the country commented on the fact that the percentage of athletes was so large and some of them expressed surprise that an athlete should be a good student.

There may be some occasion for surprise that more than a fourth of the best students in Columbia are athletes, but that a man who excels on the gridiron or diamond should also be a leader in the class room should not be a matter of wonder. There are those who, being opposed to college athletics, would put forward the argument that athletic sports conflict with a man's college work, but they cannot produce the facts to support it. It is admitted that the man who is both a good athlete and a good student, is the exception rather than the rule, but it is not because his athletics interferes with his studies; he would be a poor student anyway. College, or rather, that important adjunct, athletics, does not make loafers or drones; it develops them. A student who inclines to athletics and who also has the ambition and ability to learn will do so in spite of his devotion to the particular team he may be on.

Of course there are exceptions to this rule; but as a general principle it must stand. It can be verified by applying it to Bucknell.

Two years ago he had a fever which resulted in a diseased limb, and of late it was found necessary to have the knee-cap taken out in order to save his life. The operation was very successful, but for about two hours it was thought he would not survive the ether. It is expected that he will be obliged to remain in bed four weeks. A POLICY OF EXPANSION.

Dr. Harris Wants a Million and a Quarter Dollars to Meet Needs

The semi-annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the University was recently held in Philadelphia. The endowment effort authorized a year ago was reported completed, $100,000 having been secured in good and legally binding subscriptions. About $40,000 of this amount will be paid in this month, and four-fifths of it this present year.
 The President of the University presented plans for the immediate future, involving the raising of one and a quarter million dollars. About a quarter of a million is needed for the improvement of the realty, and a million for additional endowment. It is proposed to secure the funds along three lines:

1. General Canvass. With the increasing constituency of Bucknell large sums can be raised by general subscription, as in the effort just closed. These subscriptions can be raised at intervals, as the needs of the school, in the judgement of the Board of Trustees demand it. They must not follow too closely upon each other, so as to discourage the liberal minded, and yet should be near enough together so that the constituency may keep the college in mind.

2. Large gifts from individuals. With a school as large as Bucknell, and with as good a financial basis, some large gifts from individuals may be expected. Men of means are turning more and more to colleges, as the best place to bestow money, in order to benefit individuals, and secure the stability of the social order.

3. Legacies. An indefinitely large sum of money can be secured in this way. While it is better that a man should disburse his money while living, yet in many cases persons without heirs need their money during their life-time, but can leave it to the Bucknell University by will.

Endowment is needed for the general purposes of the school, and all legacies, unless otherwise specified by the testator, should be added to the general endowment fund. Besides the general endowment, there may be certain specific endowments, which would bear and perpetuate the name of the donor, or of some person designated by him.

(a) A department could be endowed for $100,000 and upward. A department of language, for instance, could be endowed for $100,000, while that of chemistry would require twice as much.

(b) Professors could be endowed for $50,000 each.

(c) Fellowships could be endowed for $10,000 each. One fellowship has been established by one of the trustees of Bucknell University, Major-General Charles Miller, in connection with the University of Chicago, and has proved useful in preparing students of ability for the profession of teaching.

(d) Scholarships could be established by a gift of from $1000 to $5000, the income to be given toward the expenses of the student. The income could be estimated from the average income of the institution.

(e.) A loan fund could be established. The interest from this fund could be loaned to students, the principal being kept intact. In this way a large active loan fund would accumulate.

The board, after consideration, endorsed the plan, and authorized the president of the university to undertake the work, employing such agencies as he might deem necessary. Rev. Calvin A. Hare will be retained as financial secretary, and the work will be entered upon at once and pushed with vigor.

Class Banquet of 1905.

The annual banquet of the class of 1905 was held at the Park Hotel, Williamsport, on Saturday night and is said by non-partisans to have been a complete success. Every detail of the elaborate plans was carefully executed. Covers were laid for seventy, which included in addition to the members of the class, a senior representative of each fraternity and a chaplain, Miss Hanna, of the Institute faculty.

The banquet table in the shape of an "L," groined under its burden of good things, which were served in six courses. During the dinner an orchestra of eight pieces discoursed varied musical selections.

Paul G. Smith, president of the class gracefully performed the duties of toastmaster for the after-dinner speaking. The titles of toasts were taken from the names of well-known books and were handled in a manner denoting that the cultivation of the very desirable faculty of speech making had not been neglected in the college course thus far. It is to be regretted that lack of space will not permit a synopsis of the toasts to be given; the list can only be reproduced. It is as follows: "The Seats of the Mighty," Clifford V. Williamson; "Wild Animals I Have Known," Lynn S. Goodman; "The Battle of the Strong," George W. Cockill; "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," Miss Goddard; "The Shadow of the Rope," J. Fred McFurray; "When Nighthood was in Flower," Miss Blanche Stoner; "Wanted a Chaplain," Earl A. Morton; "In the Fog," Miss Ruth Shorley; "The Sky Pilot," Chas. H. Sheick; "Soldiers of Fortune," John C. Anderson; "The Long Straight Road," Anthony Stulshilper.

The banquet committee consisted of Messrs. Smith, Bostwick, Morton and R. J. Hess.

Football Team Dined.

In consideration of the fact that the Bucknell football eleven scored on Yale last season, Clarence Mabius, of Lewisburg, tendered a banquet to the members of the team at his home on Market street on last Tuesday evening. After a dinner of five courses Coach Hoskins, as toastmaster, called on the following members of the team for speeches: Manager Dunlap, Captain Wilcox, Captain elect Cockill, Taylor, McCormick and Smiley.

Freshman Banquet.

The first annual banquet of the class of 1905, held at the Park Hotel, Williamsport, Friday evening, January 23, was a decided success. All the officers, speakers and nearly the entire class were present besides a few of the members of the class of 1904.

At 8.30 p. m., the class entered the banquet hall, which was profusely and artistically decorated with American flags and the class colors, blue and white. After a most excellent menu was served the following toasts were eloquently delivered: Toast master, Samuel J. Black, "The Tocsin of the Soul," Lila C. Drake, "Ourselves," Mary M. Mall, "Alma Mater," A. Loomis Taylor, "Our Guardian Angels," Frank L. Yost, "Class Poem," Grace L. Meek, "The Faculty," Samuel C. Wolf, Bucknell's Co-eds," Edith A. Bally, "The Boys," John J. Owens, "Our Football contest," J. P. Smithgall, "Our Future." Following this Miss Carrie McCaskie rendered most excellent piano solo. This was followed by a few impromptu addresses from several who were present.

One of the marked features of the banquet was the courtesy shown each speaker by giving the class yell. Space will not permit individual comment, but all the speakers deserve great credit for so ably executing their parts.

Miss Stanton of the Institute chaperoned the ladies and enjoyed the humor and festivities of the evening.

At 2.30 a. m., all left on a special train for old Bucknell, feeling that they had a most enjoyable time.

An Important Ruling.

The college faculty has adopted the following ruling:
 1. No one shall be eligible to serve as editor on any of the recognized college publications—THE ORANGE AND BLUE, the Mirror, or Commencement News, unless he shall have passed, and passed with credit, in the rhetorical work of the Freshman year and the rhetorical work of the first term of the Sophomore; and the Professor of Rhetoric shall present to the faculty, at the opening of the winter term a list of all persons who have attained high standing, and have shown competency for such work and from such list, when approved by the faculty, all editors for the college periodicals shall be taken.

2. No one shall be eligible to serve as editor-in-chief, or as literary editor of said publications, until he shall have taken in addition to the work specified in Article 1, the course in journalism, and the course in advanced composition, and the professors shall make out a like list of eligibles, regard being had to the general standing of the student as well as to his standing in these branches; provided that no one shall be eligible to the position of editor-in-chief or literary editor until he has completed the work of the course to the end of the second term of the Junior year.

Don't forget the Sophomore-Junior game on Friday night.

ANOTHER VICTORY

Gettysburg Loses to Bucknell in a Fast Game.

Bucknell's second victory was achieved in an easy manner over Gettysburg on Friday evening by the score of 55 to 22.

The game proved to be all it had promised. Although not a close game yet it was interesting from the start, being hard fought throughout and several difficult plays being made.

At times during the first half the team work of Bucknell was exceedingly ragged, while that of the visitors was somewhat superior, though they were unable to locate the basket. Bucknell's passing was, especially poor during this half, too much individual work being the cause.

Gettysburg secured five of her seven goals during this half while Bucknell succeeded in putting nine to her credit.

In the second half both teams took a decided brace and started in with a vim and a dash that surprised the spectators and in less than a minute Bucknell threw three goals. The improved work of the teams showed Bucknell up to advantage. She not only showed better form and team work but did far better passing which Gettysburg was unable to break up.

On the other hand Bucknell found little difficulty in breaking up her opponents team work, which at times was exceedingly well executed.

In this half several difficult goals were made by Anderson, McCormick and Cheesman while Sieber and White did the shooting for Gettysburg. The work of the defense men is to be commended for not allowing their opponents more opportunities for scoring.

Several fouls were called during the game on account of unnecessary roughness and Bucknell proved to be the worst offender but Coach Hoskins was not backward in penalizing the offenders.

The line-up:

Bucknell.	Gettysburg.
Cheesman	Forward
McCormick	Forward
Anderson, capt. </td <td>Center</td>	Center
Johnson	Defense
Griffiths	Defense
Strohmeier	Defense

Goals—Anderson, (12.) Cheesman, (6.) McCormick, (4.) Johnson, (3.) Sieber, (2.) Rowe, (2.) White, (2.) Diehl, Griffiths. From Fouls—White, (5.) McCormick, (3.) Referee and Umpire Hoskins. Time—Bertolotte. Length of halves 20 min.

Interesting Game Promised.

Indications point to an interesting and exciting game of basket ball when the Juniors and Sophomores line up against each other next Friday night. It will be remembered that 1904 treated 1905 to a surprise last year by decisively defeating them, and this year the '05 men threaten to avenge themselves. The Juniors have two varsity men and the Sophomores three.

A Pierce Walitz, '06, was called to Pine Station last week, his brother, J. E. Walitz, a farmer at that place, having been killed by a train on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

DONALD SPANGLER.

Dr. HARRIS has announced to the Board of Trustees of Bucknell that he needs one and a quarter million dollars to meet the needs of the University in the "immediate future." A million is wanted for the endowment, and one-fourth that amount it is proposed to devote toward improving the realty. The plans as to improvements were not given out, but they doubtless include the erection of necessary buildings which have been in contemplation for some time.

There could be no better evidence that the University is growing than that so much money is needed to conduct it. If we were not extending our field of usefulness we would not need so much capital. Every dollar added to the endowment fund or the equipment increases our usefulness just that much; one and a quarter million dollars increase it to a point happy to contemplate.

To raise the sum of money will be no small task; but the successful conclusion to which Dr. Harris and his assistants have brought similar efforts augurs well for the success of this one also.

The action of the faculty in establishing eligibility regulations in regard to the editorships of the ORANGE AND BLUE, the Mirror and the Commencement News was taken with a view to raising the standard of these publications and for that reason should be welcomed by all who have any interest in them. Too much laxity has heretofore been displayed in choosing editors and while no marked degree of incompetency has been shown by any of them, their productions were not the best the institution was capable of turning out. The new ruling places the choice on a more equitable and substantial basis. Besides, it should stimulate literary activity to a degree heretofore not reached; indeed we can see naught but good in the step the faculty has taken.

We hope the boards of the various publications will follow up the work by making the other positions on the staff competitive. In that way the best talent will be placed where it can be best seen and where it will reflect much credit upon the college. The task of improving our publications should not stop here.

On the Matter of Insignia.

Registrar Gretzinger is in receipt of the following letter from an alumnus of Bucknell, who did not intend it for publication, but since it relates to an engaging subject, it is deemed timely to present it to the readers of the ORANGE AND BLUE:

"In the ORANGE AND BLUE, dated January 19th, I note that they are considering the advisability of awarding a 'B' to the editors-in-chief of the various college publications.

"I feel that these men are deserving of the greatest credit and highest reward, but there are some other ways of rewarding them than by giving them the 'B'. This letter is for the athlete who has worked for and dreamed of it. He has suffered to get it and has gloried in the realization of his dream. This is a traditional distinction which should never be modified. It is a time-honored custom which should always be adhered to.

"Let there be competition for the places on the various magazines and let the successful ones be awarded a valuable watch-chain or some other prize of jewelry, inscribed accordingly. This with the praise of the active college men and alumni would always be appreciated by a true Bucknell man.

"Don't let the 'B' be distributed universally—weigh this matter thoroughly before acting."

Regulation of Athletics.

At a meeting of the college faculty held last week plans were adopted regarding the number of games to be played by the various athletic teams. The football department was restricted to eleven games; basketball to twenty games; not more than ten of which may be played away from home; basketball, twelve games, not more than five of which may be played on foreign floors. It was not regarded as necessary to restrict the track and field team; nor was the maximum number of football games to be played away from home indicated, inasmuch as this schedule is regulated more by financial considerations than by choice. In baseball a trip of more than two days may not be taken.

The Junior Prom.

The Junior Prom to be given in Company A. armory on Friday evening, February 6th, promises to be a success. The invitations were sent out last week. The celebrated Stopper and Piske orchestra, of Williamsport, has been secured for the occasion. Chairman White has arranged his committees as follows:

Invitation and Programme—Griffiths, Perrine, McCormick, Christ.
Reception—Perrine, Johnson, Murodock.
Refreshment—Edwards, Carruthers, Elliott.

The Student and the Newspaper.

When the expression College World was first used it had an almost literal meaning. The college then stood as the representative of the liberal arts and its students were those who had withdrawn from material interests. To-day the college includes so many technical or scientific courses that it has almost ceased to be considered the representative of liberal culture. Its students keep themselves in close touch with the world into whose activities they expect soon to enter.

Because of this condition it seems scarcely necessary to urge college men to avail themselves of so important a medium of information as the newspaper. But experience proves that college students as a class derive little or no profit or value from it.

As a result of an investigation among his classes a distinguished teacher in a large eastern college found that while the majority were well informed on all sporting matters few of them had definite information concerning any of the great educational or political questions of the day. The opinions expressed were usually intensely partisan and a large majority admitted a preference for journals of the "Yellow" class.

It is to be hoped that college men in general would make a better showing than those just mentioned. But it must be confessed that while there are notable exceptions college graduates have shown little independence in political matters. The majority being unaccustomed to think seriously upon public questions are entirely content to devote themselves to their work, leaving to those politically interested the task of running the government.

We believe that the judicious use of a newspaper will do much to remedy this indifference. But the newspaper consulted must be clear and independent. It may be the champion of certain political principles but it must not be partisan in judgment.

Since the college man's time for general reading is limited he must select the really important news, let him read this carefully so that he may have a definite idea of the event; three-fourths of the matter may profitably remain unread. If the paper be one, and there are a few such, in which the editorial columns are not controlled by the other departments, the editorials ought to be read with the attention due to the utterance of a vigorous and independent mind.

The habit of careless or indiscriminate newspaper reading cannot be too strongly condemned. Such readers naturally read to forget and this slipshod thoughtless method quickly becomes the one used in all reading. On the other hand, the thoughtful consideration of great questions and events must lead to independence in thought and action. EZRA LEHMAN, '98.

Day of Prayer for Colleges.

The Day of Prayer will be observed on Thursday the 29th. The sermon in the morning, at 10.30, will be delivered by the President that in the afternoon at 3 by Prof. Phillips, and in the evening, at 7.30 by Prof. Hulley. Attendance upon the morning service is required, upon the others it is recommended. All the services this year will be in Bucknell Hall.

Mr. W. Bruce Storer, who formerly attended Bucknell, conducted the civil service examination for letter carriers in Lewisburg, on Saturday. Mr. Storer holds a responsible position in the mail service at Sunbury.

Championship Baseball Cup.

It is proposed that the Seniors establish a new custom in the form of an annual baseball game between the Freshman and Sophomore classes to be played the Saturday of each commencement week. A valuable cup will be presented to the University to be left in the University trophy room and the numerals of the winning team to be engraved thereon after each contest. The cup will be engraved accordingly stating that it was presented by the class of 1903 to the University trophy room. Eligibility rules will be promulgated satisfactory. A regular admission fee will be charged, benefits to go to the athletic association. It is hoped that this custom will prove one of the interesting features of commencement week. Any senior wishing to contribute towards the purchase of this cup will kindly see W. B. Keister, the present manager.

Sophomores Revenged.
Probably the most interesting game of the season was played in the Tus-tin Gymnasium on Friday evening between the Juniors and Sophomores, and ended with a score of 27 to 5 in favor of the latter.
The Sophomores, smarting from their defeat of last year, went into the game for blood and succeeded in snowing under the Juniors even worse than they had anticipated, allowing 1904 only one goal from the field which was made by Sheppard.

Both sides had many sympathizers present and excitement ran high, the cheering being loud and continuous.
Both teams played well and with wonderful vigor, but in such games ideal work is impossible, for roughing it seemed to be one of the main objects of the game. This was especially noticeable among some of the 'Varsity men. In the first half the referee attempted to stop the rough playing by calling fouls but found it impossible; and in the second half gave up the attempt to eliminate that feature of the game which seemed to please the spectators.
Most of the scoring was done in the first half, for each team seemed bent on playing a test game, and some good passing was done by both teams.
To attempt to say who performed the best individual work would be impossible for all did remarkably well.
However Anderson secured the most goals, while Cheesman made some long difficult shots. Griffiths, '05, played a good defensive. Johnson and McCormick did the best work for the Juniors.

Seniors Victorious.
The first of the annual class basketball games took place on Monday afternoon between the Seniors and Freshmen, resulting in a victory for the Seniors by a score of 19 to 10.
The supporters of 1903 were somewhat surprised to see the pace set by the upperclassmen as this was the first time they have been together this year.
However they found no difficulty in defeating the "Freshies."
The game was full of excitement as it was of the rough house order which so characterizes the close games. '06 was first to score but '03 soon located the basket and then obtained a lead which they were able to keep throughout the game. The first half ended with a score of 9 to 6 in favor of '03.
In the second half the Freshmen put in several new men, hoping to turn the tide of the game, but '03 had her playing blood up and the game was never in doubt.
Edwards, Snow and Dershimer put up the best game for the Seniors.

While Claypool, Goldsmith and Leighou excelled for the Freshmen.

Need of a Baseball Coach.
Communicated.
The candidates for the baseball team have reported to the captain, and before many weeks active practice will have commenced. The question here presents itself, what are we going to do with the candidates? Are we to repeat the performances of former years in giving them no more instruction than a student-captain is capable of;
or shall we reduce baseball to the same basis as football, basket-ball and track by securing the services of a competent coach? The answer to the two last questions determines whether or not we shall have a successful nine during the coming season. With the services of a competent coach we should turn out a winning nine without them a good team is very improbable.
With the exception of one season when Bucknell won ten out of fifteen games, the Orange and Blue has never been represented by a first class baseball team. In football, basketball and track we have developed teams that carried the name of Bucknell to places where it never before had been heard.
In those three departments in late years we have beaten everything in our class and won recognition from those above us. Not so with baseball.
And the cause is not hard to seek.
Our failure in this department cannot be attributed to lack of material, for some of the best players on the diamond to-day have attended Bucknell within the past three years. It is necessary only to cite the names, Mathewson, Seuring, McCormick, Weidensaul and Vell. Our weakness is in the lack of proper coaching. Included in the list of candidates who have reported is some excellent material, but without a competent instructor will probably amount to nothing more than an ordinary team. Our schedule includes games with several of the larger colleges and it should be our aim to develop a team that will reflect credit upon the college. Our chances for doing so without a coach, however, are slim indeed. To the fulfillment of this crying need, therefore, every loyal student should lend his aid.
Unfortunately baseball is not self-sustaining at Bucknell, and if we secure the services of a coach, financial aid must come from other sources.
There are several ways in which money can be raised without a direct draft upon the pocketbooks of the students.
The Minstrel Association proposes to give several performances during the winter term. Let everybody help to make these a success, and let the income be contributed toward a fund for a coach. Where is the Dramatic Club? This organization also has it within its power to turn to the benefit of the baseball team a hundred or more dollars, and should feel it incumbent upon itself to do so. If sufficient funds are not secured from these two sources, cash subscriptions can be asked for and should be given. Any person called upon to give should remember that the usual subscriptions for football were not asked for last fall.

Summing up the situation, the success of next season's nine depends not so much upon the work of the team itself as upon the student body, and that RIGHT NOW.
STUDENT.
Another Minstrel Show.
The Bucknell Minstrel Association has been organized with the following officers:
Director, McCabe, '04.
Musical director, Shields, '05.
Business Manager, Sturges, '04.
At the first meeting twenty-five candidates reported. The director announces that the places in the performance will be awarded according to merit and urges all persons of ability who have not reported to do so at once.
Rehearsals will commence as soon as the music arrives.
It is proposed to give performances in Lewisburg and surrounding towns.
The proceeds will be donated to athletics.
Euepla.
At the regular meeting of Euepla literary society on Friday evening, the usual literary program consisting of declamation, readings and current events, was taken up, after which a new and interesting feature of the society was carried out. An old time spelling bee was indulged in by all present. Wood, '05, has the honor of being the last man on the floor.
Euepla is in the most flourishing condition at present, that we have seen for some time, which we think is due to the interest of the present officers, as shown by the new and interesting features of the programs.
THETA ALPHA.
A very interesting meeting was held Friday evening. The first number, current events, was taken up by Lehman
'06, who spoke in a logical and thoughtful manner on the main topics of interest during the week. This was followed by the regular debate, the question being, "Resolved, That the study of so much Latin and Greek in college is a needless waste of time." Messrs.
Leshar and Barton, Saunders and Phillips were the disputants.
Renewed interest was shown in the work of the society and the meeting seemed to all quite profitable.

Princeton Compelled to Cancel.
Manager Bertolette of the basketball team has received a letter from the Princeton management cancelling the Princeton-Bucknell game to be played on the former's floor on February 14.
The fact that Princeton has games with Harvard and Pennsylvania the same week is given a reason for the cancellation. A game had been scheduled with Swarthmore for the Princeton trip, which it will be necessary to cancel unless another game can be secured.

Baseball Candidates Report.
In response to the call of Captain Jaekel for candidates for the baseball team, a score of men have reported. Those of last year's nine who will again be out are Cockill, Smith, Griminger, Tufel, McCormick and Captain Jaekel. Substitutes Anderson and Deats will also be candidates.
Those of last season's reserve team who reported are R. Edwards, M.
Edwards, Daniels and Fry. Cheesman,
'05, who was not here during the spring term, is also a candidate. The new candidates are Shields, Porter, '05; Bovard, Whitaker, Howell, Wolfe and Shirley, all '06.
Captain Jaekel, Cockill, Smith, Griminger, Daniels, Bovard, Whitaker, Howell and Shirley are candidates for the infield positions, which means that the men who make the team must play ball. For the outfield the candidates are McCormick, Anderson, Deats, M. Edwards, R. Edwards, Fry, Anderson, Porter and Tufel will be candidates for the backstop position.
Captain Jaekel will probably alternate between first base and the pitcher's position. The other candidates for pitcher are Cheesman and Shields.
That seems to be the only weak point on the team.
An effort will be made to secure a coach to remain during the season.
It is believed that a first class team can be developed with the assistance of a coach.
In-Door Meet.
Coach Hoskins has again commenced his usual Saturday afternoon handicaps, and on Saturday, Jan. 30, one record was broken by 7 in. These weekly contests proved very successful and beneficial to the men last year and it is hoped that even more may be accomplished this year. Several new men were out on Saturday and some give promise of making a good showing before the season is over.
Liberal handicaps were given and will be given to all who contest, so don't be discouraged if you did not do as well as you had hoped, but come again and in the end you will accomplish your desire. The following is a

DONALD SPANGLER.

We are pleased to notice that measures are being taken to organize a Mandolin and Guitar Club among the young men of the college. We hail it as another forward step in the progress of Bucknell. For a long time the friends of the institution have wondered why there was no such club, since there was an abundance of material in the college from which to form a very good one. The young women have, for several years, had a thoroughly successful club and we are sure they are now glad of the opportunity for friendly rivalry with the one just coming into existence. We extend to the new club our best wishes for a long and successful career, hoping it may prove a source of pleasure and profit both to its own members and to the entire University.

We all love our Alma Mater, and are proud of her growth and prosperity. When our team meets with that of another college on the foot-ball field or track, our enthusiasm knows no bounds. Then it is that new yell is given and new songs composed, extolling Bucknell and her prowess in the athletic world. But, alas! these songs are not lasting, and die when the game or the contest is over.

Why can we not have a distinctively Bucknell song? All the larger colleges have their particular songs which all know and love. Show me the Harvard man who does not grow enthusiastic over "Fair Harvard," or the Princeton man whose heart does not thrill in response to "Old Nassau." But where is our song? If Bucknell is pushing so far to the front in other respects, surely she must not be left behind in this. It is true, we have put Bucknell words to the tune of "My Bonnie," yet even that is hardly well enough known to be called the Bucknell song. Why this state of affairs exists I fail to understand. Our college is full of Tennysons and Longfellow, while every class can point out her Beethovens or her Melbas. Without a doubt their talent could be put to no better use than to the composition of a song, words and music—in honor of Bucknell.

I am sure that this songless state exists here simply through lack of thought. Little or no attention has previously been given to the subject; consequently, little or no effort has been put forth. May the day soon come when the campus shall echo to strains so full of enthusiasm and true college-spirit that even a stranger will raise his hat in a tribute of respect to Bucknell!

Prize Essay Contest.

Are fraternities an aid or a hindrance to the development of the ideal college man? What is the value of the fraternity to college life? The rapid growth and development of the fraternity system in American colleges and universities during the last decade have made the answer to these questions of undeniable importance.

Appreciating the fact that insufficient data are at hand to warrant a logical answer to these questions, the New York Alumni Association of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity has decided to give a prize of $50.00 for the best essay on the value of American college fraternities.

The aim of the Association is first, to get the facts, and second, to stimulate researches in a new field of sociological thought. The judges will be representative literary men, chosen from the fraternity and non-fraternity.

The contest will be governed by the following rules:

I. The subject of the essay written for this contest shall be "The Effect of the Fraternity on American College Life."

II. No essay shall contain more than three thousand words by actual count.

III. Any student pursuing a course of study leading to one of the recognized degrees in an American college or university may enter this contest, whether he be a member of a fraternity or not.

IV. Each contestant shall, on or before the first day of May, 1903, mail to the chairman of the committee three typewritten copies of the competitive essay, signed in a pseudonym. He shall also, at the same time, send to the chairman of the committee a sealed envelope containing his name and address with his pseudonym on the inside.

V. The winner of this prize must, if requested by the committee, give the sources of his information and the grounds of his belief in regard to all matters not stated upon his personal knowledge.

VI. Three judges to be selected by the Association shall pass upon the essays submitted and award the prize.

VII. All essays submitted in this contest shall be the property of the Association and may be used as the Association shall direct.

VIII. As soon as the judges have made their decision, the committee will notify the successful contestant and the result will be announced in the Alpha Tau Omega Palm and other fraternity publications in June.

In connection with this work he has been taking a course at Crozer Theological Seminary. His bereavement comes at a very trying hour.

On Monday, January 26, at Philadelphia, occurred the death of Clifton C. Dunkle, ex-'02, aged 22 years. Death was due to a complication of typhoid fever and quinsey. Mr. Dunkle prepared in Bucknell Academy and completed two years in college.

Dr. David Jayne Hill, '74, who resigned the office of Assistant Secretary of State to accept the office of United States Minister to Switzerland, took official leave of his associates at the State Department on Friday, and also made a round of farewell calls in diplomatic and official circles. He sailed for his post of duty on Saturday morning from New York on the steamer Patricia.

Field and Track.

The candidates for the track and field have commenced their regular work. With the exception of three, all the old men are back and at work. While the loss of these men will be felt, coach Hoskins hopes to develop a strong and winning team.

Among the old men who reported were, Tiffany, captain of last year's team, Pearce, Marsh, Sheppard, Elliott, Edwards, Griffiths, Gill, Black, Taylor and Gillis. These with the new men who have entered should make a formidable array, and from them should be picked a team which would equal the one of the preceding year. Last year was the most successful year in the history of the institution and manager Heidenreich hopes to make this year just as much of a success.

There will probably be three inter-collegiate meets, besides the relay carnival at Franklin Field and the inter-class contest so that no one will be slighted. It is earnestly hoped that every student who has any ability or desire in this line will come out and try for a place. Each one has an equal chance and coach Hoskins will be glad to give you instructions.

ANNUAL ALUMNI BANQUET.

Dr. Harris Addresses Graduates On the Million-Dollar Movement.

The million-dollar movement recently authorized by the Board of Trustees of Bucknell University was given a decided impetus at the annual banquet of the Philadelphia Club of Bucknell Alumni held last Monday night at the Colonnade Hotel in that city. More than a half-hundred graduates were present to pay tribute to their Alma Mater by speech and song and to encourage President Harris in his efforts to raise the money desired by the institution for further advancement. The principal speech of the evening was delivered by Dr. Harris, whose remarks outlining in brief the work upon which he is engaged were enthusiastically received.

Dr. S. Lewis Zeigler, class of '80, president of the club, acted as toastmaster. Toasts were responded to as follows:

"The Million Dollar Movement," President Harris, '80.
"The Old Guard," Rev. A. J. Rowland, D. D., '62.
"The Trustees," D. P. Leas, Esq., '63.
"The Alumni," Rev. A. B. Bowser, '85.

"Athletics," A. J. Sherwood, 1900.
"The Endowment Fund," Rev. C. A. Hare, '77.
"Bucknell in the Navy," Chaplain G. Livingstone Bayard, '99.

The remarks of Dr. Harris were in substance as follows:

"With the completion of the one hundred thousand dollar addition to our funds, the property of our Alma Mater aggregates in all about a million dollars. The most encouraging feature is that so large a proportion of the property is productive. The endowment proper will foot up about $530,000 but, if, following the example of most institutions, we add to this the cost of buildings from which we receive income, we would place our productive property at about $600,000. With a million in property, with a school of six hundred and twenty students, we may face the future with some confidence.

"That future will make larger demands upon us than did the past. We must remember that we have not yet really begun to cultivate our Pennsylvania field; we have been merely scratching the surface. Now for the immediate future we need an addition to our realty of about a quarter million dollars and an addition to our endowment of a million. Of the first, the immediate necessity would require one hundred thousand dollars. The endowment is the life of the institution financially. Of the million we suppose that five hundred thousand can be obtained in general subscriptions like the one just closed. When it is remembered that in the few years past, some of which were hard times, four as the seven years of Egypt, we have secured three hundred thousand dollars, it does not seem at all visionary to attempt to raise five hundred thousand dollars in the next few years. In 1890 we started to build up a constituency of a thousand who could be depended upon to aid financially in whatever was needed for the college. We have passed beyond that number, and they have shown their willingness and ability by contributing three hundred thousand dollars. The number of our alumni is increasing at the rate of fifty each year. Soon they will number a thousand. Our Board of Trustees is composed of a large number of men who are able to give liberally. So that with our increased and increasing constituency, the difficulty of raising money will year by year become less. We do not think that the half million can be secured in one effort; but by efforts at sufficient intervals, it can be secured as the needs of the school clearly demand it.

"With a school doing as large a work as ours we may work for and expect large gifts from individuals of means. A college of seventy did not appeal to such men who want to place their money where it will produce the best results. But with a college of over four hundred, appeals may be made to such men with some expectation of success. The college will be brought to the attention of and gifts will be sought now from all the men of wealth to whom we have access. If they do not give, it will be their misfortune, not our fault.

"A large sum of money comes to institutions from legacies. They do not come however without work on the part of the friends of the institution. The Bucks legacy came to Bucknell because T. H. Purdy, Esq., interested himself in securing it. Much can be done by literature and addresses but most by personal effort. It would seem that this would be an uncertain source. In some respects it is. But when seed has been sown through a series of years, and especially when this is reinforced by one example after another, it is found that money from legacies can be depended upon as a reliable source of income. Something has been done the past years in this line, and some fruit has appeared, and others we know will come; but for the coming years the work especially by personal effort will be pushed with greater vigor.

"I have thus outlined in brief the work in which your cooperation is asked. We will never forget that character is the end for which our Alma Mater exists; we must also bear in mind that every institution must have a financial basis."

Dr. David Jayne Hill, who was to have been present and make an address, sent a letter of regret, having sailed for Europe the preceding Saturday.
At a business meeting of the club prior to the banquet the following officers were elected: President, Dr. S. Lewis Zeigler, class of '80; Vice-president, Rev. Calvin A. Hare, class of '77; Secretary, Rev. J. R. Wood, class of '90; Treasurer, Dr. P. N. K. Schwenk, class of '77; Raymond M. West, class of '89, chairman of the Executive Committee. The club has a membership of 247 alumni.

1903 BASEBALL SCHEDULE.

Manager Kester Announces His List of Games For the Coming Season.

The schedule of the baseball team for the season of 1903 was announced by Manager Kester to-day. It includes twenty games, exclusive of the Sophomore-Freshman contest. There is also an open date, which will be filled later. The most important games are those with Pennsylvania, Princeton, West Point, Syracuse and Lafayette, two being scheduled with the last named college. Of these colleges two are new on Bucknell's schedule.—West Point and Syracuse—although the latter has been met once before by us in baseball. The usual games with Gettysburg, Dickinson, Franklin and Marshall and Bloomsburg have been arranged, and for the third-year in succession Bucknell will be the Memorial Day attraction at Harrisburg. No games were scheduled with Lehigh owing to the failure to agree upon dates.

Bucknell's nine will have the distinction of being the attraction at three commencements besides our own—Gettysburg, Dickinson and Lafayette. The trips to West Point, Gettysburg and New York should prove to be very pleasant and profitable. The trip from New York to the Military Academy will be made by boat up the Hudson. At Gettysburg the nine will be entertained by the Gettysburg team management, which will afford the players an opportunity to pay a visit to the historic battlefield.

The games to be played at home are about the same as those of last season, Syracuse taking the place of Lehigh. Our commencement bill is perhaps not as attractive as in former years, but the late closing of the college served as a handicap to Manager Kester in filling these dates. The Indians will have no nine next spring, and they will be missed by their many Bucknell admirers.

The Sophomore-Freshman game scheduled for the Saturday of Commencement Week is an innovation that should become popular. The suggestion that the Senior class provide a permanent trophy cup has met with some financial response, but sufficient money has not been pledged to guarantee its purchase.

It will be observed that but three games have been scheduled for April. Heretofore our greatest financial losses in baseball have been encountered in April on account of inclement weather, and Manager Kester has sought to avoid such losses by scheduling the fewest number of early games possible.

The schedule is as follows:
Saturday, April 4, Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia.

Tuesday, April 14, Syracuse, at Lewisburg.

Thursday, April 30, Gettysburg, at Lewisburg.

Friday, May 1, Seton Hall College, at South Orange, N. J.

Saturday, May 2, Fordham, at New York.

Saturday, May 9, Williamsport A. C., at Williamsport.

Wednesday, May 13, Dickinson, at Lewisburg.

Friday, May 15, Lafayette at Lewisburg.

Thursday, May 21, Franklin and Marshall, at Lewisburg.

Wednesday, May 21, United States Military Academy, at West Point.

Saturday 30, (Memorial Day) Harrisburg A. C., at Harrisburg. (2 games)

Wednesday, June 3, Princeton, at Princeton.

Thursday, June 4, Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster.

Saturday, June 6, Gettysburg, at Gettysburg.

Monday, June 8, Dickinson, at Carlisle.

Saturday, June 13, Bloomsburg, at Bloomsburg.

Tuesday, June 15, Lafayette, at Easton.

Saturday, June 20, Sophomores vs. Freshmen.

Monday, June 22, Williamsport A. C., at Lewisburg.

Tuesday June 23, open.

Wednesday, June 24, Bloomsburg, at Lewisburg.

Varsity Again Victorious.
On Saturday evening, February 7th, Bucknell's five met the team from Franklin and Marshall in a very one sided game of basketball. After the first minute of play it was evident to all that the visitors were outclassed. From the first toss up to the final whistle of the first half our team had their opponents entirely at their mercy, allowing them only one goal. Coach Hoskins not being backward in calling fouls upon our men, the visitors added four points in this way. The half closed with the score: Bucknell 38, F. & M. 6.

The second half opened with a rush, both teams having fresh men in the game. The visitors began the half with renewed vigor and determination, but to no purpose. Our boys piled up the goals until at the close of the game they had added twenty-nine more points and had allowed their opponents to score but once from the field, although they magnanimously gave them three more points on fouls.

From the first it was evident that the F. & M. players were relying upon their big captain and center. The rest of the team did their best to support him but were easily outplayed by their opponents.

On the whole the game was a clean one, free from that roughness and foot-balling which is all right on the gridiron but out of place on the basketball floor. Notwithstanding the fact that the game was a clean one, Anderson had his lip cut to the extent that surgical aid was necessary. Score: Bucknell 67, F. & M. 11.

Goals, Anderson 15, Cheesman 8, Johnson 7, Griffith 1, Smith 1. Referee and umpire, Hoskins. Time-keeper, Bertolette. Time, 20 min. halves.

Zeta Literary Society held its regular meeting Thursday evening. The life and writings of Poe was the main feature of the meeting.

A Junior Promenade was held in the Seminary gymnasium Friday evening.

SENIORS, what are the best hundred books with which you should be acquainted?

For four years you have been faced to face with the works most highly esteemed by the generations, and commended to posterity by the approval of past and present appreciation. Have you a speaking acquaintance with them?

To be sure the class room has introduced you to a select list of these princes of science, art and letters; but what of the fellows unlearned, and yet illustrious?

The traditions of our college relate that infrequent voluntary clubs have existed at intervals, among the more ambitious students, for the wiser use of sparetime in the fields of knowledge beyond the courses of study. Today we rejoice in the special duction to the works of the Augustan Age of English Literature by our students.

But there is room for a club, or indeed, for several clubs, or for class organizations, with the aim of a generous acquaintance with world literature kept steadily in view throughout the course. Why should not such a reading club grow into favor and permanence among us? Is it too late for you Seniors to take up the initiative in the good work?

The curriculum demands persistent, regular attention. What student would begrudge a similar devotion of spare time and extra effort, to so worthy an object as acquaintance with the great works of the human intellect?

The theory that every man must be a law unto himself in his reading, and must browse around aimlessly in a library in search of suitable fodder is inconsistent with the whole theory of a college, which implies direction of choice by competent guides.

If there be need of an inducement for students to pursue systematically such courses, surely a pro rata credit as one honor period each term, would not be out of proportion to the time given and the results attained. But the student who is really anxious for self improvement will not hesitate at the question of credit, but will be content with the reward derived from his pleasant task.

May we not hope for the early inauguration of so desirable a system? This depends upon the student body. We are confident that the faculty will do all in their power to further its practical working.

WE observed the other day that when a certain member of the faculty entered the hallway of the main college building where a number of the young ladies and gentlemen were gathered awaiting classes, he removed his hat. While the rules of ordinary etiquette would scarcely make it incumbent upon the young men students to follow this example, we were impressed with the idea that they might well do it through choice.

The incident served further to intensify the offense of smoking in the main college hall, which thoughtless young men commit almost daily. Ordinarily the matter is one beneath the dignity of a college publication to launch upon, but it is referred to here merely that a word to the effect may be profitable.

THE country never before witnessed such rapid strides as are now being made along educational lines and President Harris, in asking for a million and a quarter dollars, shows that he fits the times and feels the spirit of them. President Wilson recently asked the alumni of Princeton for $12,500,000, and the president of Columbia says he wants $10,000,000. To fulfil its function nowadays a college must be properly endowed, furnished and administered, and every true Bucknell man should rejoice that the governing authorities are awake to our needs.

THE publication last week of a communication in these columns served to remind us that students seldom exercise the right of expressing themselves through the medium of the ORANGE AND BLUE. The discussion of any topic pertaining to college life would stimulate an interest in college work and at the same time add interest to the paper.

WE congratulate Manager Koster on his excellent baseball schedule; it is perhaps the best, yet the most conservative, we have ever had. We hope a nine can be developed that will win the majority of the games and incidentally place our baseball star in ascendancy.

Midshipman Hugh K. Alken, of New Orleans, who was so badly injured in the Bucknell football game last November, has reported at the Naval Academy to resume his studies. At the time of the accident he led his class. He says he has entirely recovered, but is out of football for good.

The Junior "Prom."

The annual Junior Promenade was held on Friday evening in the Armory Hall, and was one of the most enjoyable functions of the kind at Bucknell in many years.

The decorations were very elaborate and showed careful work and good taste on the part of the committee.

The Stupper and Fluke orchestra, of Williamsport, furnished the musical inspiration of the evening and the members quite outdid themselves in rendering their program.

After a series of twenty-seven dances the young people departed for their respective homes, and all pronounced the affair a great success.

Those who acted as patronesses were: Mrs. J. T. Baker, Mrs. N. Marsh, Mrs. Wm. Leiser, Mrs. A. A. Leiser, Mrs. T. C. Thornton, Mrs. H. M. McClure, Mrs. H. P. Glover and Mrs. C. J. Wolfe.

The Minstrel.
 Rehearsals for the minstrel, to be produced by the students in the near future, have been commenced. Monday and Thursday nights will be devoted to the work.

Every effort is being put forth to make this year's performance a rousing success. The most up-to-date choruses and solos have been selected. The jokes are the funniest on record and will evoke side splitting laughter. At least thirty men will be required for the circle, and the director requests that all singers on the bill report at the gymnasium to night at 7 o'clock.
 The proceeds from the minstrel show will be presented to the Athletic Association. More can be realized in one performance than upon a successful season of baseball. The students are urged to participate and help insure success.

BOOK REVIEW.
Annie Laurie: An Old Sweetheart of Mine.
 Annie Laurie Love Lyrics is the title of Dr. Hulley's new book published for the golden wedding anniversary of his parents and dedicated to his wife Eloise Mayham Hulley.

The keynote of the book is optimism. Every page glows with optimistic notes carrying with them hope and inspiration. Discouragement has no place in these poetic gems. Despondency is conspicuous for its absence. The home life with perfect peace and happiness, consideration for others, and sunshine beaming from every countenance is the picture we see portrayed in this little book. Nowhere is bitterness and hatred in life represented in its highest form. And these pictures of healthy optimistic married life, so beautifully portrayed, are appreciable to a great degree in a day when literature furnishes so many examples of misery and discord. Where can be found a more beautiful picture of domestic felicity than is seen in the following lines, written probably apropos to the burning of the author's home:

"We'll buffet the storms of life, my love,
 And mock at chance and fate.
 We'll trust in God, all weath'ring the sea,
 Our spirits shall conquer the frigid sea,
 That fetters our souls late.
 For you'll be mine, my own, my love,
 And I'll be yours for aye.
 Then surely, cheerily on my love,
 Through earth, and sea, and sky."
 "The day may bring us rain, my love,
 Or the day may bring us shine,
 Through flood and fire, we'll never tire,
 The will of God to our hearts is higher,
 The Spirit is not for time."

The author defines love as the summum bonum—the jewel which shines by its own light banishing from its presence all forms of emotion not conducive to the attainment of the highest end. It is the guiding star of our lives, "an anchor to the soul when passions billow o'er us roll." It is immortal.

"Is very essence is divine and cannot die,
 It springs immortal from His presence,
 Who is all love, and dwelleth high."

In the treatment of the work there isn't forgotten the brevity and uncertainty of human life and of preparation "e'er the silver cord be loosed." Life is a "fading shadow, or a fading flower." Realizing this fact:

"E'er the walls of our house shall crumble,
 The foundation laid in the sands,
 Let us build a house eternal,
 A house not made with hands."

Again:
 "And after this pilgrimage is o'er, 'When life is done in that eternal day
 Beyond the sunset may we see Thee smiling,
 And follow there the One True Lighter way?"

Thus it is evident that the book is written in a pure and lofty tone and represents the highest forms of peace and tranquillity, being entirely free from the woes prevalent in so much of the literature of the day. It is also full of music and harmonious rhythm and its sentiment true to life.

Bryan's Lecture.
 On Tuesday evening, February 24th, the students of the University, and the people of Lewisburg and vicinity will have the opportunity to hear America's great orator, William J. Bryan. It is unnecessary to enter into detail and discuss Mr. Bryan's ability as an orator, but a few remarks along this line may not be out of place.

During the National Democratic Convention in 1896 his wonderful eloquence won for him the nomination for president of the United States, and in this campaign he delivered more speeches and to a greater number of people than any other American orator in the same length of time. It is said also that his normal physical condition was maintained throughout the campaign. Let it be clearly understood that in meeting the orator this time the audience will hear Mr. Bryan not as an exponent of Free Silver, but as a politician on the stump but as a scholarly American citizen discussing a theme which in its nature is purely American and hence non-partisan. Those of our number who have heard him, praise unreservedly his attractive oratorical power and consider this a rare opportunity to hear an orator of the first class.

He is not mislead as to the purpose of Mr. Bryan's coming to Lewisburg. He comes in response to a special request from the Bucknell Y. M. C. A. which gets a large share of the proceeds of the lecture. This amount goes to the general Y. M. C. A. fund for the furtherance of a very important work. This article gives due notice to all readers of THIS ORANGE AND BLUE of the great opportunity before them and it is earnestly urged that everyone make a great effort to take advantage of it. Arrangements have been effected with the management of the Opera House for accommodating a large audience. Admission charge will be five, ten and $1.00.

Let everyone turn out and lend a helping hand to the financial aid of the Y. M. C. A.

Literary Societies.
THETA ALPHA.

The first preliminary inter-society debate of Theta Alpha was held Friday night, fourteen under-classmen taking part. The numbers were all interesting and the committee was at some trouble coming to an agreement on the six debaters for second preliminary. The following however were finally chosen: McCauley, DeMelt, Phillips, Ammon, Bartlett and Ausherman.

REPTA.
 Owing to the fact that there was so much business before the society, the first half of the meeting was devoted to discussion and plans for the much needed repairs of Eupelia Hall. The society unanimously agreed to have the hall papered; and other repairs of less consequence will be made. The last half of the meeting was devoted to an interesting and lively drill in parliamentary practice.

Bucknell 57, Ashland 12.
 On Friday evening Ashland A. C. was defeated in one of the fastest and prettiest games of the season.

Quite a good deal of speculation was done as to the outcome of the game and few thought the score would be as large as it was for Ashland has been playing fast ball and has lost only a very small percentage of her games this season.
 The contest was a fast one and far more exciting than any of the games heretofore. The work of the local five was the best yet witnessed on the floor this season and numerous sensational plays brought forth storms of applause from the spectators. The game was not so one-sided as the score might indicate for Bucknell had to fight for every goal she made. The team work of the Orange and Blue was excellent and it is seldom that such an exhibition is given as that on Friday evening. The passing was done with accuracy and precision and a poor pass was seldom made. Ashland also played remarkably fine ball. Her team work was fine and hard to be improved upon and at times had our men chasing the ball to a tune to which they were unaccustomed.

In the first half our men allowed their opponents only one goal while Bucknell succeeded in dropping 14 through the net. In this half Cheesman secured 8 out of the 14. While McCormick made a brilliant shot over his head.

In the second half both teams started in to play still faster but Bucknell gradually pulled away from her opponents and landed 14 more to her score.

Much credit is due our men for the kind of ball which they played. In the five who represent the Orange and Blue we certainly have a combination that knows the game and does credit to Bucknell.

Too much credit cannot be given to Ashland for the manner in which she contested the game and the good game of ball which she put up.

Summary:
 Bucknell: Cheesman Forward, Young McCormick Forward, Horn Center, Anderson Defense, Blaker Blaker, Johnson Defense, Wallauer Griffin Defense.
 Goals—Anderson, 12; Cheesman, 12; McCormick, 4; Horn, 3; Horn, 1; Foulis—Hamburger, 3; McCormick, 1. Referee—Hoskins. Time—Bertollette length of halves—20 minutes.

Indoor Meet.

A very successful indoor meet was held in the gymnasium on Saturday afternoon and one in which two records were broken. If Bucknell keeps on she will have some famous records in the near future, and records of which she can justly be proud. Edwards cleared the bar in the high jump at five feet five and a quarter inches, breaking Theta's old record by nearly two inches. Gillis in the 16 lb. shot put, broke his outdoor record by two feet and his indoor by nearly a foot, putting it over 38 feet.

Lack of space forbids a summary of events.

The Annual Relay Races.
 The athletic authorities of the University of Pennsylvania have already commenced preparations for the ninth annual relay races, which this year will be held on April 25. The entries are the largest since the races became a feature of college athletics and with the grouping of the natural rivals together, some interesting and exciting events may be looked for. The additional entries are principally among the western colleges and the preparatory schools.

There are two changes in the group in which Bucknell stands, Villa Nova having been put in another group and Westminster and Western University of Pennsylvania having been transferred to our group. The other contestants are State, Dickinson, Carlisle Indians, and Washington and Jefferson.

The other group in which the students of Bucknell may be interested are as follows:
 No. 1.—The championship classes (one, two and four-mile) in which Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, Columbia, Chicago, Wisconsin, Notre Dame, Michigan, Minnesota, and all the larger colleges have been invited. Pennsylvania will enter all three.
 No. 2.—Cornell, Columbia, Syracuse, Georgetown and Lafayette.

No. 3.—Dartmouth, Amherst, Williams, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Wesleyan and Brown.
 No. 4.—Trinity, Bowdoin, Boston College, Boston University, Worcester Polytechnic Institute and Holy Cross.

No. 5.—Swarthmore, Haverford, Lehigh, Villa Nova, C. C. N. Y., University of New York and Rutgers.
 No. 6.—University of Illinois, University of Wisconsin, University of Iowa, University of Minnesota, Notre Dame University and Northwestern University.
 No. 7.—University of California, Leland Stanford University, Kansas University, University of Nebraska, McGill University and Toronto University.

Senior Reception.
 The reception on Friday evening given by the Senior ladies to the Senior men was truly one of the most pleasant social functions in the eventful history of the class.

Shortly before eight o'clock the guests began to arrive in the Institute parlors and soon the air was rife with the shouts and songs of the merry party. In the absence of all formality, self was entirely forgotten and all entered fully into the spirit of the occasion.

At 10:30 o'clock refreshments were served, to which all did ample justice. Following this the pleasures of the evening were resumed, but ere long the time for departure had come. Great credit is due the ladies for their kindness and superiority in entertaining their guests.

Dr. Lincoln Hulley has been chosen to deliver the baccalaureate address to the graduates of the Carbonate High school, June 19th.

In the days when our grandfathers went to school, the memory seemed to be considered the principal faculty of the mind. Children were obliged to learn long chapters of the Bible, whether they understood it or not, and, far from having "the inductive method" in the study of Latin, the grammar had to be faithfully committed to memory. Now there has come a revolution of feeling and from childhood up, the reason, rather than the memory, is trained. To-day the keen thinker, the logical reasoner, the man who can understand the "whys and wherefores" is the man of power, rather than the one whose mind is stored with facts only. Encyclopedias, papers and magazines supply us with facts on every conceivable subject; why, then, should we burden our minds with that which is so readily given us?

Yet, it is possible that the pendulum has swung too far the other way. We are becoming too dependent upon these outward sources, and are neglecting to use the powers God has given us. Furthermore, a good memory is, in a measure essential, if one would become a good logician. As a member of the faculty said at the opening of the term "A man's reasoning faculties may be of a superior order, but if he has no facts at his command, his talent is almost useless."

Not only is it of advantage to remember the news of the day and facts in history or science, but it would be highly beneficial for us all to memorize, far more than we do, selections from our own literature. A stanza of a poem, a few lines from some great writer in prose would not be much to learn daily, but in a short time what a store of good literature would we have laid up in our minds! And in doing this we would not only train our memories, but also would become acquainted with master minds and fill our minds with material for our future enjoyment.

For some time the Y. M. C. A., has been trying to secure an attraction by means of which it might increase its general fund. Disappointment has attended every effort until recently when a date was arranged with W. J. Bryan. Now that the management has been successful in securing a lecturer of great renown, let all the friends of the organization do their utmost to make the enterprise highly successful.

The work of the basket-ball team continues to be highly satisfactory. From a nucleus of but two of last year's regular men Coach Hoskins has developed a "five" that has proved itself invincible to all of our opponents thus far; in fact there has not been a team to hold us down to a reasonable score. It is a matter of regret that we were deprived of the opportunity of seeing how we were compared with the Princeton team. We urge the men on the team to keep up their work, at the same time expressing the hope that the remaining games will prove to be more evenly contested than those in the past have been.

Banquet of Bucknell Alumnae Club.
The invitations extended by the Bucknell Alumnae Club to the Iris Club of Sunbury and to the Twentieth Century Club of Millburg was accepted Tuesday evening. About thirty ladies of the Iris Club and quite a number from the Millburg Club responded and had a most enjoyable time. The Iris Club took supper at the Baker House where a committee of ladies met them and escorted them to the Seminary. The Bucknell Club received in the parlors and there followed a program of much interest. Miss Ayers, of Williamsport, who has traveled in Sicily gave a very entertaining lecture followed by moving pictures illustrating her lecture on the cities of Sicily. Her voice is sweet and musical. She carried her audience to the Mediterranean and made her pictures and talk appear real and very instructive. Miss Slifer, the president of the Bucknell Club asked to hear from the visiting clubs. Mrs. Charles Nickerson, president of the Iris Club, and Miss Steans, president of the Twentieth Century Club, responded in very happy and appreciative remarks. After an address by Mrs. Larison and some fine selections of music the clubs were escorted to the dining room where supper was served. All through the supper fine music was played by the Bucknell string band. The following Bucknell ladies had charge of the affair: Reception committee, Miss Evelyn J. Stanton, Mrs. K. B. Larison, Mrs. Emma J. Matlack and Miss Clara Russell; Refreshment Committee, Mrs. W. L. Gerhart, Mrs. W. C. Gretzinger, Miss Emma Nesbit, and Miss Mary Thornton.

The Baptist church in Milton has been rebuilt and last week Bucknell men were assisting in the opening exercises. On Sunday Prof. Martin presided and Dr. Harris preached in the morning, and Prof. Perrine in the evening. On Thursday Prof. Hulley presided and made an address, and on Friday Rev. C. A. Soars, 1888, presided the sermon.

Basketball Schedule Changed.

Manager Bertolotto continues to have disappointments with his schedule. He was unable last week to get a game away from home to take the place of Princeton, which made it necessary for him to cancel with Swarthmore. Fortunately a game was secured with Ashland for the home floor.

During the week Dickinson cancelled the game to be played here on February 20th and the one scheduled for the Dickinson floor next week, the team having disbanded on account of injuries to players. Unless a game can be secured within a day or so there will be no "varsity" contest this week.

Williamsport Y. M. C. A., which has not lost a game this season, has asked for a game here and another at Williamsport, and the matter will be placed before the advisory committee. It is hoped that in the event the committee deciding against taking another trip, Williamsport will come here for a game anyway. A contest will probably be arranged for the early part of next week.

A Bucknell Girl's View.

Carolyn Halsted contributes an interesting article to the March Delineator entitled "Co-education or the Women's College." Without revealing the writers she quotes from letters received from girls at various co-educational and women's colleges. A Bucknell girl writes as follows: "A few days ago one of our professors was discussing co-education. He does not approve. He says that the girls coming here as the equals of the men and demanding the same rights makes the men deficient in the little courtesies that make a woman's life so pleasant—that the women are treated as equals, not as superiors. There is some truth in this, yet I think he put the case rather strong. And whenever I hear anyone speak of women as 'demanding her rights,' I always have a vision of a short-haired, short-sighted and short-skirted woman striding up to some poor, cowering, masculine creature and ordering him to grovel while she tramples on him. I do not think we do that, but I am very sure that the feminine element here has a good effect on the masculine. If a man thinks that women are watching, perhaps criticizing also, he will be more careful in his dress and manners. It would be disrespectful for a man to do many things in the presence of a woman that he might do if only men were present. Therefore he refrains and naturally becomes more polished."

Education Board Organized.

The General Education Board, recently chartered by Congress, was organized at Washington, Thursday, Jan. 2nd with W. H. Baldwin, Jr., as chairman; George Foster Peabody, treasurer, and Wallace Butterick, secretary. The board will have offices at 118 Nassau street, New York city. One of its chief objects will be to promote rural free schools in the Southern States. John D. Rockefeller has subscribed $1,000,000 for a period of ten years to demonstrate the practicability of philanthropic co-operation with the public authorities. Other smaller sums have also been donated.

On Tuesday evening Dr. Hulley delivered, in the Methodist church to a large and appreciative audience his lecture on Eugene Field and the Children.

Chemical and Physical Society.

At a meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society, Thursday, Feb. 12. Dr. Groff addressed the society on "The Professions open for students of Science."

The original professions were Ministry, Law and Medicine. There are several lines of scientific work now approaching the dignity of Professions. Among the new professions mentioned by Dr. Groff, were, teaching science, various kinds of engineering, veterinary surgery, dentistry, forestry and work at the government stations. Each of these fields offers work for a limited number of students. In medicine there are enough practitioners in the United States but in most foreign countries there is room for many. In medical investigation there is much to be done. Some of our most dreaded diseases have no known cure and the cause is yet to be learned.

Dr. Groff's lecture was very much appreciated. In two weeks there will be an especially fine program and all students are welcome and invited to be present.

BUCKNELL'S NEW TRUSTEES.

Brief Sketches of Two Men Recently Elected to the Board.

THE ORANGE AND BLUE herewith presents brief biographical sketches of Col. John J. Carter, of Titusville, and Hon. John B. Stetson, of Philadelphia, who were recently made trustees of Bucknell University.

COL. JOHN J. CARTER.

Col. John J. Carter was born in the city of Westport, Ireland, June 16, 1842. His paternal ancestors for four generations bore the name of John Carter. The Carters on the one side and the Joyces on the other were both Irish families of long lineage. By the union of Clap Garty and the Joyces of Cosmumara was transfused the blood of two noble families—plenty of iron in it to edge the resolve which has made Col. John J. Carter a man to be widely known and respected.

Col. Carter's parents died before he had reached the age of three years. A year later he came to the United States in company with his sister and her husband, settling at Troy Center, N. Y. After residing here, at Buffalo, Cleveland and Portageville, N. Y., the sister's husband died, in 1859.

After living for a year at the home of Rev. John Sheridan at Portageville and for a somewhat longer period with Rev. Doolan at the same place, Col. Carter found a good home with Cyrus Rose at Caseville, N. Y. He was then 12 years of age. He attended school during the winters, and later entered upon a full classical course of study in the Nunda Literary Institute, which he completed with credit. In the winter of 1859-60 the congressman of the district announced a vacancy at West Point and promised to name as cadet the young man receiving the highest grade in a competitive examination.

Young Carter easily captured the prize, but for reasons of his own did not accept the appointment. He continued to study with a view of entering Rochester University, teaching during the winter months to add to his finances.

It was then that the first shot at Fort Sumter fell upon the patriotic ears of John J. Carter, who was the first volunteer to enroll from Livingston county. He was not quite 19 years of age. He served faithfully from April 12, 1861 to August 2, 1865. The bloody civil war had been his university; his diploma was a record of his bravery and his honors the commission of a lieutenant-colonel.

Immediately following the war Col. Carter went to Titusville and engaged in the mercantile business in which he continued until 1877, when he joined the ranks of the oil producers. From the first, success was his, and at the end of 13 years he held oil properties in the various Pennsylvania fields, which, for original purchase, drilling, supplies and maintenance, had cost him about $2,500,000.

A large part of this production he still owns. In 1892 he purchased options in the Sistersville, W. Va.,

field and organized the Carter Oil Company. The whole amount of the stock, $1,000,000 was subscribed for by Col. Carter, who had previously sold three-fifths of his Sistersville options to the Standard Oil Company, which corporation three years later purchased the remaining two-fifths. The name of this company remains unchanged and Col. Carter is still its president and general manager. There is no better oil field authority in the country than Col. Carter.

He was married in 1866 to Miss Emma Gibbs, of Nunda, N. Y., who died about two years ago. Col. Carter is the father of four children, as follows: Charles G., of Pittsburgh, Lake B., Emma and Alice, of Titusville.

HON. JOHN BATTEYSON STETSON.

Hon. John B. Stetson was born in Orange, N. J., May 5, 1830. Thrown upon his own resources for support at an early age he worked at various employments, finally learning hatting. His father was a hatter and he learned the trade in his father's workshop, continuing to follow it in that section of the country until 1865, when he went to Philadelphia with the hope of there finding greater opportunities for business progress. Up to that time he had collected no capital, and when he began business he had only industry and energy to sustain him. But the exercise of these qualities brought him success. Settling up his business in a small room, and making and delivering his own work, his trade grew steadily year by year, the increase in the amount of business compelling many enlargements in the dimensions of his quarters. Finally he covered a large tract with buildings five and six stories high, which form the largest and best equipped hat factory in the world. The number of operators is 2,250 and the value of the annual output about $3,000,000.

Mr. Stetson is a man of benevolent instincts and is earnestly interested in the welfare of his operators. In his factory nine hours constitute a day's work and the week ends at noon on Saturday. With the workshops he has associated a number of institutions, religious, social and benevolent. Among them is a large Sunday school, started for his employees, but open to all the people of the neighborhood, its place of meeting being a handsome hall with a seating capacity of 2,000 people. Beneath this is a large library and reading room, supplied with three thousand choice volumes and the leading newspapers and periodicals. There is also a parlor for evening social meetings, while once a week at noon prayer meetings are held there.

Mr. Stetson's zeal for young men is shown in the organization in 1885 of the John B. Stetson Union, conducted on the same basis as the Young Men's Christian Association. In addition there is a charitable organization, known as the Mysterious Twelve, composed of boys from 12 to 19 years of age, and other societies. Other kindred institutions are the John B. Stetson Building Association and a hospital operated by Mr. Stetson for the benefit of his employees. In short Mr. Stetson's name is symbolic with kindness and philanthropy.

Mr. Stetson has taken a great interest in education. He has contributed to the John B. Stetson University, Florida over a half million dollars. He has helped many other institutions, among them Bucknell sharing in his generosity.

Lecture by Prof. Helm.

Inasmuch as the anniversary of the birth of Washington this year occurred on a Sunday, the secular day nearest preceding was observed by the university and Prof. Helm was called upon to deliver an address before the student body on Saturday morning. This year being also the one hundredth anniversary of the purchase of Louisiana, Prof. Helm chose as his theme, "The Louisiana Purchase."

He delivered an exceedingly interesting and helpful lecture and clothed his thoughts with clear and forcible language. Each sentence contained a thought intimately allied with the whole theme and apparently inseparable. He spoke of the manner in which the Louisiana purchase had an effect upon our national life, why Napoleon decided to sell this territory, and the position which Jefferson and his party occupied in making the purchase; besides discussing in detail everything relative to this important acquisition of territory.

The lecture was characterized by broad, deep thought and a comprehensive knowledge of the subject at hand.

Lecture Tuesday Night.

Hon. William Jennings Bryan will appear in the Lewisburg Opera House on the evening of tomorrow to lecture on "A Conquering Nation." He comes here after having visited a number of eastern cities among which were New York, Baltimore, Wilmington and Carlisle. A great audience greeted him at each of these places and a most hearty ovation was accorded by each. This indicates clearly the popularity of Col. Bryan's lecture, and his ability as an orator.

The student body should regard this as a great opportunity, in that Col. Bryan has been secured at a time when a great number of our eastern cities would consider themselves fortunate to have him accept their invitation. This is your opportunity and should you fail to take advantage you are the unfortunate one and not those who are responsible for Col. Bryan's coming. Do not disappoint the Y. M. C. A. but turn out in great numbers and help the good work along.

Chemical and Physical Society.

The Chemical and Physical Society will meet in the lecture room of the Laboratory on Thursday at 4:00 p. m. Some very good discussions will take place, and all persons are invited to be present.

F. B. Young, of Titusville, spent a few days on the hill with Smiley, '05.

Juniors too Strong for the Freshmen.

On Saturday evening the Juniors defeated the Freshmen by a score of 17 to 9.

The game proved to be more interesting than was expected and during the first half the outcome was extremely doubtful. However the Juniors pulled themselves together, played ball and won out easily in the second half. Team work was almost entirely eliminated from the game and the passing was very inaccurate. It was a game made up almost entirely of football playing and at times became exceedingly rough.

During the first half neither side was able to do very much scoring. But in the second half '04 made some changes which enabled them to run things their own way.

College Girls' Reception.

The annual College Girls' reception, always a feature of the social side of college life at Bucknell, was held in the Institute parlors on Friday night. The young ladies spared no effort to make the affair enjoyable—and that they succeeded, any one of the 150 guests present will attest.

The rooms were tastefully and appropriately decorated. The small reception room on the west side of the building was given a Japanese effect by a wealth of draperies and decorations and the several "cozy corners" made it exceptionally attractive.

It was in the large recitation room on the opposite side of the building that the artistic tendencies of the young women were seen to the best advantage. From a cold, uninviting school room it had been transformed into a place full of warmth and cheer. The walls were covered by innumerable flags, pennants and college pictures; heavy rugs covered the floor and here and there were inviting seats. Behind a bank of palms Trates' orchestra was stationed, which rendered delightful music during the evening.

As the guests arrived they were received by Misses Coleman, Schilling, Braddock and Meek, representing the four classes in college. The young hostesses at once set about to see that each guest had a pleasant time, and the period of social intercourse that followed was most delightful.

During the evening substantial refreshments were served in the dining room.

Among the guests present from out-of-town were Miss Hoover, Mt. Carmel; Miss Marsh, Mt. Pleasant; Miss Trainer, Williamsport; Mr. Innes, Canton.

The following item under a Shamokin date-line appeared in the Philadelphia Press of Sunday:

"The local Y. M. C. A., basketball team defeated Bucknell to-day by a score of 30 to 5."

In the minds of the Press's army of readers the impression was thereby created that the Shamokin Y. M. C. A. team had defeated the Bucknell 'varsity basketball five; while the team that really suffered defeat was that of the Academy.

Who is responsible for this misrepresentation we are unable to say. Perhaps it was some one connected with the victorious team who saw an opportunity to achieve a false triumph; or perhaps it was some ignorant or designing penny-artist. We do not think the Academy team represented itself to be the college team. But the fact remains that in the eyes of hundreds of people our 'varsity basketball team, which thus far has failed to meet a foe worthy of its steel, stands beaten by a team which, in an actual contest, could not, perhaps, hold it down to eighty or a hundred points.

Bucknell has frequently been the victim of such mistakes. Reserve, class and Academy teams playing away from home have been advertised as "the Bucknell team" and if the home team won, the fact was duly recorded in a special to the Philadelphia papers. The reputation of a 'varsity organization is too dearly bought to be thus thrown away, and some radical measure should be adopted to prevent a repetition of the injustice.

Out-of-town games by these teams should have the sanction of an official body such as one of the advisory committees, which should satisfy itself that no misrepresentation will occur. If that will not remedy the evil, then such teams should be kept at home.

Don't forget the lecture by W. J. Bryan, to-morrow at 7.45 p. m.

PERMIT us once more to call your attention to the lecture to be delivered to-morrow night by Col. Bryan. The authorities of the Y. M. C. A., have labored earnestly all the year to bring the work of this organization up to the standard and make it helpful to the student body. They are now making a great effort to replenish their treasury and we hope every loyal student will lend assistance by attending the lecture.

IN another column appears a short biographical sketch of each of the two trustees recently chosen. It is interesting to note the useful life which each has lived and the broad minded liberality which characterizes them. This spirit is, however, typical of the friends of the University and it is to the aggressive work of such liberal-minded trustees and other friends in the past that Bucknell owes her present standing. With the addition of these men to her long list of useful friends, Bucknell cannot help but prosper.

In regard to the completion of the $100,000 endowment, R. M. Hunsicker, class of '82, wrote The Baptist Commonwealth as follows:

"One of the most encouraging signs of the times, as related to our Alma Mater, is that she is constantly needing more money. These repeated calls for additional endowment are gratifying because they show that, not only has she a constantly enlarging household, but that accordingly, her influence for good is steadily broadening. This is more gratifying when it is remembered, as President Harris has so frequently emphasized, that the work of the college is, ultimately character molding. And this, necessarily, is the impartation of character by teacher to taught. To this end it will rarely suffice that the equipment be a log, teacher and taught occupying the respective ends. That work cannot rightly proceed without generous financial provision. These repeated appeals for enlarged endowments are, accordingly, to be hailed as omens of prospering and successful work—that that school is fulfilling the lofty purpose of which its, Christian, statesman-like founders established. Little wonder, then, that we who carry such vivid recollection of the gloomy days of the later 'seventies' and earlier 'eighties' should extend to our Alma Mater a twofold congratulation:—that she has on her hands a growing work, as indicated by growing needs; and that her appeals as occasion requires, meet due response—the provision for another $100,000 endowment having just been brought to a successful consummation."

Theta Alpha.
The literary program of Theta Alpha was carried out with great enthusiasm and interest. All members present engaged in a Geographical contest conducted by Bliss '03. The opposing parties were led by Taylor '03 and Cook '03. After a long and exciting contest Cook's men captured the entire squad of the enemy. In the individual contest that followed Ealy '04, carried off the highest honors.

Members of other fraternities will not be admitted. The membership will be confined entirely to undergraduates of law schools and alumni associations and their faculties. It is intended to secure a fraternity house in Washington and publish a paper there. The incorporators are members of the Faculty and undergraduates of the National University School of Law.

Correctness in Stationery.

A subject of the greatest importance to those who would be correct in social matters is the quality of their stationery. One is judged almost as much by the external appearance of a letter as the contents, and in this regard, as in all others pertaining to the usages of polite society, there are certain prescribed rules. In fact, there are fashions in stationery as in dress. A feature of the March Delinquent is a display of fashionable stationery, showing various shapes of envelopes and sheets, and examples of addresses headings and crests. Mournful borders, as well as the quality and color of paper are referred to, and altogether it is an interesting page.

Falcon Shakespeare Club.

On February third, a new Shakespeare club was organized by the following members of the Freshman class: Brown, Cole, Challis, Comstock, Denlinger, Drake, Gardner, Hasrick, Jacob, Noble, Rose, and Sheppard. Mr. Denlinger was elected president and Mr. Drake secretary-treasurer. They met for the first time on February thirteenth, when Prof. Perrine gave them a brief talk on the life of Shakespeare, and outlined a plan of study for them.

The club met again last Friday night and took hold of the work with considerable interest. This is the first Shakespeare club organized in the present Freshman class, but it is hoped that others will follow.

Tomb has been elected manager of the baseball team for the coming season, and Langhorne captain pro tem.

In a fast and exciting game last Friday, Shamokin Y. M. C. A. team defeated the Academy by the score of 30 to 8. The game was not so one sided as the score might indicate for Shamokin had to fight for every goal she made. The playing of Langhorne and Evans was especially good, while Clayberger excelled for Shamokin.

T Square Club.

At the meeting of this organization on Thursday, Prof. Wolfe gave an able and most interesting address on the "Isthmian Canal Project" from an engineering point of view. He introduced his discussion with a brief historical sketch of the commercial condition of the great powers on the globe prior to the discovery of America and showed how closely these were related to, and how they later brought about an attempt to build a conduit across the Isthmus.

The speaker then took up the history of the canal and discussed in order the several attempts to build a canal, together with the result of each attempt. The practicability of the possible routes was then referred to after which the Prof. concluded with a few references to the probable future of the canal.

Every student interested in engineering should not fail to attend these meetings, since they are designed to give what it is not possible to get in the class room.

Matthewson, ex-'02, was in town last week.

COL. BRYAN'S LECTURE.

Enthusiastically Received in Lewisburg last Tuesday.

The lecture delivered by Hon. William Jennings Bryan, under the auspices of the College Y. M. C. A., was a decided success in every respect. A committee of citizens of Lewisburg to whom the Y. M. C. A. desires to express most hearty thanks for their assistance in entertaining Mr. Bryan, met him at Montandon and welcomed him to Lewisburg. At the railway station in Lewisburg he was greeted by a large crowd of students and citizens of the town with ringing cheers and handshaking.

He was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Thompson Baker at whose residence in the afternoon many called to pay their respects.

In the evening there was a gathering from all parts of the country and the surrounding towns, in the opera house to hear Mr. Bryan. When he arrived and made his appearance on the stage, accompanied by President Harris and Mr. J. Thompson Baker, he was greeted with a vociferous Bucknell yell by the hundreds of students in the gallery, which fairly lifted the roof. Mr. Bryan gracefully acknowledged the compliment, and was introduced by President Harris. After expressing his pleasure in addressing students and coming under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., he discussed with great sincerity and directness the measure of individual greatness, pointing out with great reverence to the fact that true greatness and success lies in serving others, and the best monuments to a soul are acts of service and charity which long survive the servant.

From this he reasoned to the measure of greatness of a nation, which he logically concluded must lie in its own purity, and its power and influence for good in the family of nations. At this point he took occasion to give a short discussion of his four principle political theories with respect to the income tax, the monetary issue, the trust problem and the Philippine question, and, whether or not, one holds to the same political belief, he must acknowledge the evident sincerity of the speaker in his argument and the disinterested purpose of serving his country to the utmost of his ability. He concluded his lecture with a most earnest and reverent plea that we as a nation should "be not overcome of evil but overcome evil with good."

His rather long lecture, of nearly two hours in extent of time, was attended with the closest of interest and attention throughout. The pleasing and convincing character of his voice was remarkable, and his oratorical powers are unquestionable.

Tuesday night he was entertained at the home of Dr. Lincoln Hulley, and the next morning he was the guest of the Twentieth Century boarding club for breakfast. He accompanied the boys to college chapel, and here addressed the student body, speaking principally on the advantages accruing with a collegiate education and the benefits to be derived from it. His address in the chapel occupied nearly half an hour.

Col. Bryan was greeted with another enthusiastic Bucknell yell at the chapel. From the chapel he was driven to the Journal office, and after a brief visit, boarded the train for Mechanicsburg, leaving all his hearers convinced that his visit to Lewisburg was a treat to the people and the students seldom receive.

Good Games Promised.

Although the winter term is two-thirds past, only half of the 'Varsity basketball schedule has been played. The best contests are yet to take place, and if Bucknell's five finishes the season with a clear record, it will have to put up a good article of ball from now on. The games with Williamsport Y. M. C. A. will perhaps be the most interesting. The Lycoming county boys have not lost a game this season, and they will doubtless make a strong effort to land both games. The game with Gettysburg at Gettysburg will also try the mettle of Bucknell, as the collegians from the lower part of the state play a strong game on their own floor. LaSalle College, of Philadelphia, which holds first place in the inter-scholastic league with twelve games won and one lost, should give us a good game here on next Saturday night, as should Muhlenberg in the last game of the season.

The schedule for the remainder of the season is as follows:
Saturday, March 7—LaSalle college at Lewisburg.
Tuesday, March 10—Williamsport at Lewisburg.
Thursday, March 12—Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster.
Friday, March 13—Gettysburg at Gettysburg.
Tuesday, March 17—Williamsport at Williamsport.
Saturday, March 21—Muhlenberg at Lewisburg.

A class game may be played on Saturday, March 14.

Reception at the Academy.

The Y. M. C. A. of Bucknell Academy, gave a reception on Friday evening. A number of both town and Seminary people were present, and the evening was passed most enjoyably.

The rooms given to the reception were beautifully decorated, numerous very pretty pennants and banners of various colleges being displayed. The guests began to arrive, shortly after eight o'clock, and in less than an hour the rooms were thronged. A guessing contest was the chief feature of the evening.

Ice cream was served at eleven, and at about midnight the guests dispersed, having spent a most pleasant evening.

Trates' orchestra, of Watontown, furnished the music.

Leibman George H. Hyde, a former student here, has been elected Burgess of the borough of Ridgway. A. S. Sheller, a matriculate of the class of 1899, was elected Burgess of Lewisburg.

ALUMNI NOTES.

The Rev. Dr. Humpstone, '71, is the University preacher at Chicago until March 2.

Rev. R. R. Snow, '94, East Cleveland, O., rejoices in the nearly completed $17,000 church edifice.

The Rev. J. R. Wood, '94, has been elected president of the Northeast Baptist Social Union of Philadelphia.

A very excellent likeness of the Rev. Dr. O. P. Bucher, '93, adorns the cover of last week's N. Y. Examiner.

E. E. Kelder, M. D., '80, is captain of the Roosevelt Infantry of Tacony recently enlisted as Co. M, First Regt. N. G. P.

Mr. Bryan was entertained on Friday night last by ex-Judge Lincoln S. Waller, '80, when he lectured at Mt. Carmel.

Rev. S. G. Reading, '85, has resigned his pastorate in Baltimore and is supplying the Memorial church at Williamsport.

David J. Hill, '74, who was recently appointed United States Minister to Switzerland, presented his credentials to President Deucher on Feb. 24th.

Rev. S. R. Wood, '90, LaJunta, Col., reports the building of a new parsonage. A recent address of his at Canon City on "Spasmodic Religion" receives very favorable comment.

Subscriptions to the ORANGE AND BLUE are over due. The manager will wait upon you at an early date. Kindly be prepared to meet the obligation.

This announcement that the services of a baseball coach have been secured for the coming season will have a tendency to boom Bucknell's stock in that department of sport. That we have never developed a line up to the standard of our football, basketball, track, and field teams has been largely attributed to the fact that there was no person to instruct the men in the fine points of the game and enforce discipline, and for that reason the employment of Mr. Lee is welcome news. The results of his work will be watched with interest. We believe the securing of a coach means a better team for Bucknell; likewise a step toward placing baseball on the same firm basis as the three other branches of sport named.

The employment of Coach Lee necessarily increases the expenditures of this department of athletics, and we feel that the outlay is thoroughly justifiable and considerate treatment when it makes its tour with the subscription list in the near future. The management is greatly in need of funds with which to make preliminary preparations for the season, and in behalf of the baseball management, we ask the student body to be as liberal as possible and make prompt payment of all subscriptions.

Reserves vs. Ashland.

The Reserves met defeat at the hands of the strong Ashland team on the latter's floor on Saturday night by the score of 20 to 7.

The Athletic Hall was filled with an unusually large number of people who had come with the expectation of seeing a good game. In this they were not disappointed. The playing was fast and snappy, not being marred by excessive fouling on either side. At the end of the first half the score was 10 to 7. During the second twenty minutes of play, Ashland's men succeeded in locating the goals with greater accuracy than before, while the Reserves were not able to increase their total.

Hamburger played the best game for Ashland getting five of the ten goals. All three of Bucknell's goals were of the spectacular order and brought forth great applause from the audience.

The lineup:

Ashland. Reserves.

Young forward. Grier.

Hamburger forward. Sheppard.

Horn centre. Taggart.

Lentz defense. Grier.

Blaker defense. Cockill.

Goals from field—Hamburger, 5.

Horn, 2; Young, 1; Blaker, 1; Lentz, 1; Grier, 1; Grier, 1; Cockill, 1. Goal from foul—Grier. Referee and Umpire—Mr. Brlek. Time—Browning. Length of halves—20 minutes.

He will arrive here at the close of the winter term and remain throughout the season. Mr. Lee served in a similar capacity here for two weeks last spring and helped the team materially. He has had considerable experience with minor league and independent teams, having at various times captained and managed games. For the past two seasons he has served as captain on an independent team at Altoona.

Saturday's Contest.
The usual handicap meet was held in the gymnasium on Saturday afternoon and it proved highly interesting to the audience which witnessed the events. No records were broken but the men deserve credit for the good showing which they made.
Coach Hoskins added a new event to the list which was the ten-lap race against time and it proved exceedingly interesting. This event was won by Gaskill in 2 min. and 37 sec. Truckmen who intend to compete this spring would do well to enter this event for they can find nothing so beneficial.
Leshar vaulted in good form and came within two and a half inches of the old indoor record.

Theta Delta Tau Dance.
Theta Delta Tau, the Sophomore honor society held its first annual dance last Wednesday evening in the Armory Hall.

The event was an entirely informal affair and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The decorations were very elaborate and tastefully arranged. Notable among others were the fraternity corners which were adorned with the different hangings of the respective fraternities. The Theta Delta Tau corner was easily the winner and was conspicuously marked by a huge banner in green and white.
Several comical events were indulged in after refreshments, notable among which was a mock wedding, also seen and his auto.
Trates' orchestra, of Watsonstown, furnished the program of twenty-four numbers lasting from 9 p. m. to 2:30 a. m.

The Seminary Reception.
The principal social event of the year for the Seminary Girls and their friends occurred on Friday evening last when their annual reception was held in the Institute parlors.
The decorations were elaborate and artistic in every way and reflect much credit upon those in charge. To add to the pleasures of the evening, an orchestra discoursed sweet music from behind a bank of palms. At an appropriate hour the doors of the dining room were thrown open and the guests descended to partake of a dainty repast. Every detail was skillfully executed and the affair was in every respect a most successful one.

A Fine Game.

On Saturday afternoon Bucknell admirers were treated to the finest exhibition of basketball seen here this season when our team defeated LaSalle college of Philadelphia by a score of 45 to 17.
In her opponents Bucknell found a team nearer her equal than any she has met yet this season. And had the game been played under National League rules, which LaSalle has been accustomed to, Bucknell would have found a much more dangerous rival than their opponents proved to be.

The work of the local five was perhaps the fastest yet witnessed on the floor this season and was full of difficult and sensational plays. At times the game was exceedingly rough and in this Bucknell seemed to be the worst offender, for her opponents succeeded in putting seven points to their credit in this way.

The game started with a rush and Cheesman soon succeeded in landing a goal. During this half the team work was beyond reproach. Especially did the orange and blue do credit to herself in passing the sphere and in breaking up her opponents team. LaSalle's passing, while good, was easily broken up by our men and at no time were they able to lose our five. One feature of their playing was their long shooting which at times was done with remarkable accuracy.

In the second half both teams started in to play fast ball and Anderson, who had been having hard luck during the first half struck his gait and landed three goals in rapid succession.
This half was especially characterized by the calling of fouls by Referee Devine and centre, Cheesman succeeded in shooting two very difficult goals. For the defense, Johnson and Griffiths did remarkably fine work and gave their opponents very few opportunities for goals. In fact their forwards made but one goal during this half.

Line-up:
Bucknell forward LaSalle Cheesman forward Bloom, A.
McCormick forward Ruff
Anderson centre McCrudden
Johnson defense Bloom, R.
Griffiths defense McNichol
Goals—Anderson, 10; Cheesman, 10; R. Bloom, 4; A. Bloom, McCormick and Johnson. Goals from fouls—Ruff, 4; McNichol, 3 and McCormick. Referee and Umpire—Devine, State College, and Hoskins. Timer—Bertollette. Length of halves—20 minutes.

Prof. Hollis on the Yale Harvard Game.

The students at Harvard were amazed when they learned of the suggestion offered by Prof. Hollis that the Yale-Harvard football game be discontinued.

Prof. Hollis, although not a graduate of Harvard, occupies such an official position as chairman of Harvard's Athletic committee, and has been so closely identified with Harvard's Athletic policies of the last half dozen years that whatever he says is received with a great deal of respect and consideration. This time, however he has gone farther than the undergraduates are willing to follow. Prof. Hollis, after noting the large number of students engaged in football each year, deprecates the fact that the game has degenerated into mummery and that it is, in fact, carried on by the students as a business, full of drudgery, and with no idea of true sport.

He then continues, that the annual contest with Yale demoralizes the spirit of both Universities, throws both colleges into a turmoil, causes absurd suspicions, bickerings and hard feelings, and concludes by saying, that to his mind the contest between Harvard and Yale should be abandoned.

Very few undergraduates in Harvard would support Prof. Hollis in his latest position. Some were of opinion that the game needed reforming as to rules, but all were unanimous as to the harder the game, the better for the participants, and that without the Yale contest the season would be worthless.

A Congressman Convoys.

Representative Cushman, of Washington, has been "convoys." He admits this fact himself, but as to exactly what the result has been he is somewhat curious still. The long, hank Westrauer met one of his newspaper friends in a corridor of the Capitol recently, and putting one of his long arms around the reporter he drew him into a committee room and into a dark corner, and asked him: "What do they do to people when they 'convoys' them?" The newspaper man not being able to understand the application, asked for further particulars whereupon Mr. Cushman related that he called on ex-Assistant Secretary Hill, Bucknell, '74, at the State Department, a short time ago to obtain information on a certain subject. Dr. Hill touched a bell, and when the attendant came in he directed him to "convoys Mr. Cushman." "I was decidedly suspicious," continued the man from Washington, "and kept one hand distangled during our journey down the corridor. After thinking it over, I came to the conclusion that to be convoys must be to be escorted. I have been 'showed' occasionally, once or twice I have been 'looked', and on several occasions have been 'steered', but blame me, if that was not the first time I have ever been 'convoys'."—Washington Star.

Brown University is to have a swimming pool costing $20,000.

Mathewson-Stoughton Nuptials.

The wedding of Mr. Christopher Mathewson, ex-'02, to Miss Jennie Stoughton was solemnized at high noon on Thursday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Stoughton, in Lewisburg.

The wedding was witnessed by about one hundred and fifty guests and was performed by Rev. W. E. Thomas, D. D., pastor of the Presbyterian church. The residence had been tastefully decorated with plants and flowers and presented a handsome appearance. Promptly at the appointed hour the bridal party entered the rooms, the groom and his best man, Mr. Ernest A. Sterling, of Washington, D. C., entering the parlors from the left, while the bride came from the right.

The bridesmaids, Miss Anna Stoughton and Miss Edith Gearhart, came first followed by the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Stoughton, with the flower girl Rebecca Hill, of Scranton. The bride on the arm of her father followed last and was met by the groom, and they proceeded before the awaiting minister and the arranged altar which was formed of palms under a canopy of evergreens and pink roses. During the ceremony the orchestra played softly "O Promise Me," and at the conclusion burst forth into a louder strain.

Elaborate collations were served the guests. The presents received by the bride were many and costly. The bridal party left about three o'clock for Montauk where the Buffalo Flyer was stopped for them. Hundreds of posters were distributed on the train apprising the passengers of the newly married couple, and hoping that they would be accorded every favor and privilege at their hands, and that the wedding journey on the train would be made one of pleasure to the bride and groom.
They will spend several weeks traveling through the principal cities of the south, and expect to be at home to their friends after April 7th in New York.

It is with a feeling of deepest regret that we call attention to a few irregularities on the part of some in attendance on the daily chapel service.

Frequently the President is seriously annoyed when reading the Word, by some persons talking in an audible tone. Others may be seen reading newspapers, while a great many can be found studying lessons from their books. These are facts so common, it will seem to some minds that we should pass them by unnoticed, but it is because of their very frequency that we are forced to call attention to them. These offenses are not confined to underclassmen alone, in which case some excuse might be found, but frequently the offenders are found in the upper class ranks, especially those who pompously herald about the fact that they are upper classmen and demand that all others shall have the utmost respect for their highness.

We grant the fact that the daily routine of service may tend somewhat to dull its significance, but no sober-minded, thoughtful person can forget its purpose and mission, and its rights to his deepest respect and reverence. Our respect for the President, those who sit near us, and ourselves should cause us to refrain from all petty annoyances; our reverence for the service should absolutely forbid it. Let all join heart and soul in the service and each will feel more reverential for having begun the day in this manner.

When Sir Walter Scott was lying on his death bed, he requested his daughter to read to him. She inquired, out of what book, and he replied, "There is but one."
In this age no one is considered educated unless he has a fair knowledge of the Bible. The atheist, the agnostic and the sceptic agree that the Bible is worth studying from its literary and historical points alone. It is worth not only this but far more to those who accept its high ideals. Paul gives expression to them when he writes to Timothy, "Every scripture inspired of God is also profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for discipline which is in righteousness."

The truths expressed in the Bible are scattered throughout the classics. One cannot read them intelligently without a reasonable acquaintance with the Bible. All phases of life are shown forth in their true light. The truth is not concealed. The faults of men are shown as well as their good characteristics. On account of this, one is able to study the home life as well as the national life.

The rights of man to man are shown in a progressive state from "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" until it consummates in Christ's words "Love thine enemies." Then, there is the history in the book of Kings, poetry of the Psalms and the wisdom book of Proverbs, all of which the college student should become acquainted with.

An opportunity is given every week to become associated with this work in the Bible classes on the "hill" and in Dr. Harris's class in town. Many are taking advantage of this systematic study but there should be more.

One idea presented by Col. Bryan in his address before the chapel was the advantage of a small college over a large one. He said that there was more attention given to the individual in the smaller school; that the students came into closer touch with the professors, and that there was more of a spirit of fraternity in a smaller college. Yet every year many students are leaving these small colleges and going to the large Universities, that they may receive diplomas from better known institutions. It is true that in some vocations the diploma from a large school will act as a recommendation; but, after all, the professions do not need Yale or Harvard men so much as they need well educated men, and, as Col. Bryan said, since in smaller schools the student receives more individual attention, it is possible for Bucknell to send out men as well trained as those who vantage the "Crimson" or the "Blue."

The Intercollegiate Athletic Committee of the Pacific coast has recently held prolonged sessions with a view to eliminating the causes of disagreements regarding eligibility and the manner of conducting contests, but without great success as to the more important points of dispute. These matters are in such an unsatisfactory stage the country over that they call for generous, open and decisive action in the near future if desirable intercollegiate relations are to be obtained. There is too much acrimony in our sport for its good.

THE VARSITY'S TRIP.

F. & M. GAME.

The first trip of the Varsity was a decided success, the boys defeating F. & M. at Lancaster on Thursday night and Gettysburg on Friday evening. The contests were exciting and demonstrated that Bucknell can play ball on a strange floor as well as on her own. The boys played fast ball as the score indicates and both games were hotly contested, and especially was this one at Lancaster.

The team started right in to play good ball and set a fast pace for F. & M. but were somewhat handicapped on account of the slippery floor, which had been used for a ball and our boys, not accustomed to a waxed floor were at a disadvantage. This half ended with a score of 18 to 11 in our favor.

In the second half F. & M. took a brace and crawled up on our boys until within five minutes of the end of the half they were leading by one point. At this time a foul was called on F. & M. and McCormick tied the score. Immediately after this McCormick made the best play of the evening by dropping the sphere through the hoop from the centre of the floor. On the next toss up Anderson made a goal which Cheesman soon duplicated, making the score 33 to 30.

The feature of the game was the passing by McCormick and Anderson and Cheesman's shooting, while the guards performed their usual good work. For F. & M. Horn put up the best game.

Summary:
 Bucknell forward F. & M. Hall
 Cheesman forward Schaeffer McCormick forward Horn
 Anderson centre
 Johnson defense Mayer
 Griffiths defense Ewing
 Goals—Anderson, 8; Cheesman, 5; McCormick, 2; Horn, 6; Hull, 3; Ewing, 2. From Fouls—Hull, 6; McCormick, 3. Referee—Pinkham. M. S. N. S. Length of halves—20 min. Timer—Bertolette.

GETTYSBURG GAME.

The game with Gettysburg was even more hotly contested and was characterized by more or less roughness.

In the first ten minutes of play Gettysburg led by a score of 9 to 1 but after Bucknell warmed up to business and struck her gait she soon cut down the lead and finished the half with a score of 11 to 9 in our favor.

In the second half which was characterized by roughness, Bucknell ran up her score to 25 points and allowed her opponents only one point, which she secured on a foul. During this half Bucknell's guards played a wonderful defensive game and kept their opponents under cover. Cheesman was severely hurt and required medical attention before being able to continue the game.

McCormick threw five goals from fouls out of six chances. The team work was excellent and the passing accurate.

Summary:

Bucknell forward Selber
 Cheesman forward Rowe McCormick centre White
 Anderson defence Diel
 Johnson defence Strohmeyer
 Goals—Anderson, 7; Cheesman, 2; McCormick, 5; White, 2. Referee—Ney. Timer—Bertolette. Length of halves—20 minutes.

Williamsport Defeated.

Williamsport Y. M. C. A., met defeat at the hands of Bucknell's five on Tuesday evening, in the most strongly contested and most exciting game of the season and it took five minutes of extra playing to accomplish the victory.

Much speculating was done as to the outcome of the game, for this was practically the first team of our class that we have met. All looked for a good game and a victory for the Orange and Blue but few thought the final score would be so close. It was a game full of the rough house element and one in which few sensational plays could be made. At times it looked more like a football contest than one in which the elements of basketball were to be found. And especially was this true in the second half.

Williamsport was first to score a foul and was soon followed by a goal by Anderson. During this half Bucknell seemed to have things nearly as she wanted them for she succeeded in locating the basket five times and once from a foul while her opponents succeeded in throwing only three goals from fouls. Several sensational plays resulted in this half, one of which was made by Cheesman, who batted the ball through the hoop from a toss-up. The team work of this half was excellent and could scarcely have been improved upon, the passing was remarkably accurate also but our men had few opportunities to shoot for Williamsport guarded closely. The work of the visiting team was beyond reproach and while they passed well they were kept on the move for our boys also guarded well and did not allow them a goal in this half. The work of Griffiths and Johnson during this half was excellent while the forwards and centre seemed always to be in the right place at the opportune time. At the end of this half it looked as if the Orange and Blue would have things their own way and before the finish would have a margin of at least twenty points. But their hopes were shattered in the last half, when Williamsport took a wonderful brace and nearly brought defeat upon us. This was a complete surprise, for the team had been playing a particularly strong game during the second half. The visitors had all kinds of luck, hitting the basket nearly every shot and thus gradually diminished our lead until the score was tied while Bucknell had no idea that such a thing as luck ever existed. The home team seemed powerless to stop the onslaught and played in a manner which surprised the spectators and which came near ending disastrously for us. The play was exceedingly rough in this half.

and as soon as a player got possession of the ball he was "smothered" by his opponents and it was impossible to get a free shot. Williamsport succeeded in locating the basket five times and the score was tied. It was then decided to play it off and the first two points scored was to decide the contest. Soon after the toss McCormick managed to get free and threw the deciding goal.

The players were greeted by the largest crowd that ever witnessed a game in the "Gym." Every seat was taken and standing was soon at a premium. Williamsport brought a large crowd of rooters with them which added to the rivalry.

Summary:
 Bucknell forward Cheesman
 Cheesman attack Vanhousen
 McCormick attack Knose
 Anderson defence Spoolen
 Johnson defence Lutzer
 Griffiths defence
 Goals, Anderson, 4; Turner, 2; Lutzer, 2; Cheesman, McCormick, Vanhousen. From fouls, Turner, 3; McCormick, Referee, Sporigl, State College. Timers, Hoagland, Williamsport; Stephens, Bucknell. Length of halves, 20 min.

Scenes from Julius Caesar.

Last Friday evening the Everett Oratorical club gave a presentation of scenes from "Julius Caesar" in the school room of the Seminary. The cast of characters was as follows:
 Brutus.....John B. Smiley
 Julius Caesar.....Harry C. Myers
 Marc Anthony.....Paul Langhorne
 Cassius.....John J. Owens
 Casca.....Samuel J. Black Tullius.....James Elliot
 Clina.....Harold Griffiths
 Portia.....Charles Smithgall
 Trebonius.....Charles Smithgall
 Lucius.....Harold Godshall
 1st Citizen.....Edward Saylor
 South Sayer.....Edward Saylor
 2nd Citizen.....Edward Saylor

Throughout the entire performance good preparation was in evidence, and the work of the characters showed very thorough training. Great credit is due Miss Schillinger for her untiring efforts in bringing this work up to the standard. Between the scenes the Bucknell orchestra under the charge of Dr. Avramet gave some very pleasing and well rendered selections. A large and interesting audience was present and showed its high degree of appreciation by vigorous applause.

Field and Track Work Progressing.
 A call has been made for the trackmen and the pleasant weather this week has found quite a large number on the track. An extra large number of new material has been found and the outlook is very encouraging and everything bids fair for another successful season.

Manager Heldenreich announces that he has three meets scheduled for this season. The first with Lehigh on May 9 and the last with Dickinson on May 29; and the Indians on the 16th.

Inter Society Debate.

The inter-society debate was held in Eupelia Hall on Friday evening. A very large and enthusiastic audience greeted the debaters, and the exercises throughout were very interesting and instructive.

The question—"Resolved, that subsequent events have proved that to give the negro the right to vote was a mistake detrimental to the government and injurious to the negro,"—was discussed in the affirmative by McCauley '05, and Ansherman, '05, of Theta Alpha; Cole, '06, and Steinhilper, '06 of Eupelia.

The briefs of the speakers were in part as follows:

FIRST AFFIRMATIVE.

It was a mistake to enfranchise the negro because.

1. Subsequent events prove that it separated the black and white races on the governmental lines.

2. This race separation was injurious to the negro because it was a proscription of the intelligent.

3. Was detrimental to the government because men voted on basis of race distinction rather than from standpoint of principle of issues at stake.

2. It was a mistake because subsequent events prove that it did not secure for the negro a permanent franchise.

a. Trained the South in election frauds.

b. Was not an inspiration to the negro.

3. It was a mistake if it aimed at universal suffrage, as is shown by:

a. A threat to reduce representation if subverted.

b. Ten years of universal suffrage backed by a militia from the north.

c. Constitution neither said nor implied that it did not aim at universal suffrage.

SECOND AFFIRMATIVE.

1. Public opinion at present on subject brands the enfranchisement act as a mistake.

2. Detrimental to the government, because

a. Of a lack of explicitness in the phrase "right to vote."

b. The amendment was adopted to make the negro a voter and has failed.

c. It was an attempt to establish unrestricted suffrage in the South as is shown, first by 14th and 15th, amendments to the constitution; second, by the sending of military force to the south; third, by the establishment of unrestricted suffrage in the south from '65 to '75.

d. It made the color line the dividing line in politics.

3. Injurious to the negro, because

a. Making him a voter unconditionally, took away the incentive element of suffrage.

b. He was a worse citizen after exercising the right to vote, than before that privilege was given.

FIRST NEGATIVE.

Enfranchising the negro was a decided advantage to our government, because,

1. It prevented the reins of government from slipping from the hands of the white race.

In another column is found an account of the inter-society debate. We note with pleasure the fact that a great deal of interest has been taken in this work by the officials of the societies as well as those contesting for positions. It is to be hoped that the unsuccessful contestant in both societies will keep up the good practice and thus get in shape for next year.

Bliss '03, conducted the Echo meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday evening when several of the representatives to the State Convention gave their reports. Our organization was well represented this year in the convention and we trust that the fruits of this representation may be abundantly gathered all through the coming years of our association.

This is a phase of college life which no student can afford to neglect. The spring term is usually a difficult one for those at the head of this organization, but let us hope that this term will be unlike all others in that our Y. M. C. A. meetings shall be well attended.

In our columns the early part of the term mention was made to the effect that the Bucknell Dramatic Club should give some entertainment. We thought perhaps that feature of our college work was being overlooked, but we take pride in calling the attention of our readers to the fact that while we were complaining the Club was earnestly laboring; and the result of that work is now paramount to all.

The performance given in the Seminary some weeks ago brought forth praise from all present, and the scenes from "Julius Caesar" rendered last week is no less applauded.

The fact that these were given by different organizations speaks well for the management of this work in developing the material.

Inter-Society Debate.

ment from falling into the hands of the conquered.

1. The tyrants of the South would have injured the development of the negro race rather than aid it, as is shown by laws passed from 1867-70 in some southern states: Vagrant Law; Law governing meetings of negroes; Law for negroes in business.

2. Enfranchising the negro was a benefit rather than an injury in that it obviated the necessity of military rule.

SECOND NEGATIVE.

Subsequent events do not prove that to give the negro the right to vote was a mistake, injurious to the negro, because:

1. The right to vote has been an advantage to the negro as a protection of his rights and liberties.

2. The right to vote has been an advantage to the negro in educating him by political responsibility.

The judges, Professor Hamblin and A. W. Johnson, Esq., rendered their decision in favor of the affirmative. While the judges conferred, the audience was entertained by some well rendered selections from Livezey, '04, and Bresnahan, '03. After reporting the decision of the judges, Mr. Johnson gave the society a very interesting talk on the subject of preparing debates and delivering arguments. The disputants showed careful and thoughtful preparation, and their style of argument was convincing. Great credit is due them for the intense interest which they took in the matter.

The Freshmen were defeated in an interesting game of basketball on Saturday evening by a score of 13 to 3. The game was full of excitement as all close games are and free from the roughness which so characterizes these games. In the first half neither side scored from the field and it looked as if there would be a close score but in the second half the Sophomores put in two Varsity men and with this advantage were able to pull out with a good lead. The Freshmen put up a good fight against the odds but were unable to score a goal from the field during the entire game.

For the sophomores Gill, Cockill and Smith put up the best game while Claypool, Neill and Goldsmith excelled for the Freshmen.

The line up.
Sophomores: Grier forward, Goldsmith forward, Cockill forward, Hennessey forward, Anderson center, Claypool center, Taggart defense, Cockill defense, Griffith defense, Neill defense, Gill.

Goals—Anderson, 3, Grier, Cockill, Foul—Grier 3, Claypool, 2, Goldsmith. Referee—Johnson, '04. Timer Hoskins length of game 20 min.

The basket ball management regrets to announce that the game scheduled with Muhlenberg has been cancelled by Muhlenberg. Manager Bertolotto is endeavoring to arrange with another team to play on that date.

The Baseball Team's First Practice.

The delightful weather of the past few days has brought joy to the lovers of baseball, and Saturday found the diamond filled with men in response to Captain Jaekel's call for candidates. About twenty men appeared in uniform and the Capt. with his usual vim lost no time in putting them to work. The candidates for the infield and outfield were placed in their respective positions and several batters kept them busy chasing the sphere around the field. A small pond in right field kept the aspirants for that position busy huddling, in their efforts to capture the ball. The diamond is still in a soggy condition and makes fast work impossible.

Two teams were chosen and the trying out lasted the hopes of many an aspirant, while the others were dashed to the ground. It is, however, too early to predict the personnel of the team. Jaekel, Cheesman and Shields were in place for the opposing teams but no attempt was made to serve any batters, nothing but straight balls being delivered. It was painfully apparent from the practice that Bucknell will be weak at the bat. This may be overcome later in the season when Coach Lee arrives and the work is reduced to a system.

Twof, Parker and Deats are candidates for catcher. These three men are fast and at the same time steady. "Gingers" experience and batting will in all probability insure him the place. Some difficulty will be encountered in covering first bag. Anderson, Boyard and Lee are vying for the position, and at present the captain has a nice lead, but a man must be developed to hold down the position while he is in the box. Our pitching staff will consist of Jaekel, Eppler, Cheesman, Shields and McKellip. Eppler is due here this week. McKellip hails from Kiskadee Academy and is a capable fielder in addition to being a speedy twirler. Smith and Daniels are trying for second. Cockill has a slouch at short, and Grimmering, Green or Howell will hold down third bag. Candidates galore are after the outfield positions. Shields, Shirley, Whitaker, Edwards, Fry, Anderson, Neill, Boyard and Cooper were out on Saturday.

Captain Jaekel is very much pleased with the all around work of the candidates, and the prospects are bright for putting on the field the fastest team in Bucknell's history. Practice will be indulged in while the weather permits and the weeding out process will begin immediately upon the arrival of the coach next week.

BUCKNELL DEFEATS WILLIAMSPORT.

Bucknell Wins From the Y. M. C. A. by a Score of 10 to 6.

The contest on the Williamsport floor last Tuesday evening proved to be an unusually interesting one and a great victory for our boys. The score of the previous week being a very close one, showed how evenly the teams were matched and led many to believe that on her home floor Williamsport would easily win. The game in the local gymnasium was the first time during the season that our boys had met a team of their class and they readily learned that the most skillful playing would have to be done in order that our good reputation might be maintained.

The game at Lancaster and Gettysburg were good hard practice for the boys and kept them in the best of shape for the final round up. One of the great obstacles to be surmounted on Williamsport's floor, and that of which all teams complain that play there, is to secure good passing among the several iron pillars on the floor. The Bucknell boys whilst being inconvenienced to some extent found it possible to do some very good passing and in the first half Anderson secured four goals from the field. Williamsport secured one from the field and one from foul, leaving the score at the end of this half 8 to 3 in favor of Bucknell.

In the second half Williamsport started in with the usual vim, and vigorous passing but the variety was so successful in covering them that only one goal from the field was permitted them during the remainder of the game. Cheesman secured one for Bucknell. A successful throw from foul brought Williamsport another point which left the score 10 to 6.

Within three minutes of the end of the game Cheesman received a blow on the nose and had to be replaced by Cockill. A minute later Johnson was injured in the neck and Smith was called to take his place.

Lack of space forbids comment on the individual players, but it may be said of the game as a whole that excepting the centers who played an exceedingly rough game, it was cleaner than the contest of the previous week on the local floor.

Summary:
Bucknell Williamsport
Cheesman forward Turner
Cockill forward VanHousen
Anderson center Knauss
Johnson (Smith) guard Speaker
Grifflins guard Litcher Goals from field—Anderson, 4; Cheesman, Turner, Litcher. Goals from fouls—Turner, 2. Referee—Shorrig. Timers—Bertolette and Hoagland.

Review of Basket-Ball.
The basket-ball season at Bucknell which closed last week was the most successful in the history of the institution. Of the ten games played, not one was lost. Each opponent of the Orange and Blue fell in turn. So superior was the Bucknell fire that half of the games played were mere farces, namely those at home with Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, Franklin and Marshall, Gettysburg, Ashland and Danville. The game with La Salle in Tustin Gymnasium, while never in doubt, was an interesting contest. The game with Franklin and Marshall and Gettysburg away from home were hotly contested, although in both instances Bucknell showed herself to be superior. The two games with Williamsport Y. M. C. A., served as a fitting climax to this most remarkable season. The contest on the Bucknell floor will go down in history as the hardest fought game ever played here and the story of the battle will be told and re-told with pride to future Bucknell students. Even more gratifying, however, was the victory over the Locomotive county lads on their own floor, which was the first defeat in three years they had suffered at home. It is indeed a pity that with such a strong team Bucknell did not have a severest test of her strength than was afforded in the ten games played, but our excellent reputation had traveled before us and Manager Bertolette was refused games with larger institutions on the flimsiest of pretexts.

There was one feature of the Bucknell team that stood out prominently, namely, her ability to "pull up" with the score against her. When the crucial point arrived in the Williamsport game here, the winning goal was forthcoming. Again at Lancaster and Gettysburg Bucknell displayed her ability to play an up-hill game. Franklin and Marshall was several points in the lead five minutes before the end of the game, but captain Anderson's men managed to make enough points to put them in the lead at the finish. At Gettysburg the score was 9 to 1 against us in the first half, and although handicapped by a change of rules and a strange floor, the Orange and Blue was ahead at the end of the contest with many points to spare.

Of course the strength of the five lay in team work, which was developed at times was of a highly sensational order and swept the opposing team off its feet. Individual work was the feature of many games also. Every man played his best, and all are deserving of the highest praise of their college fellows.

Junior Debate.
The second preliminary contest for positions in the Annual Junior Debate occurred in Bucknell Hall last Thursday evening. Dr. Perrine presided at the exercises, and after the invocation by Rev. Judd, and music by the Bucknell orchestra the following subject was discussed:
Resolved, "That the method of dealing with trusts advocated by President Roosevelt, should be adopted." The contestants were:

AFFIRMATIVE.
Royal Knapp, C. H. Ealy, J. E. Hunzberger, M. C. McGiffen.
NEGATIVE.
W. S. Wilcox, T. E. Cule, L. W.

Robey, D. W. Robinson.
The judges Dr. Heim, Rev. J. T. Judd and A. W. Johnson Esq., selected the following disputants for the final contest: Messrs. Ealy, Cule, Robey and Robinson.

The contest was one of unusual interest as was shown by the large audience in attendance, and the enthusiasm manifested by the contestants. The arguments produced showed most careful and thorough preparation on the part of every speaker and it is to be regretted that lack of space prevents a publication of the individual briefs.

Several selections were very ably rendered by the Bucknell orchestra which is rapidly developing under the able direction of Dr. Aviragnet of the school of Music.

Literary Societies.
EUPHIA.

On Friday evening the society was treated to a good address from Dr. Perrine. He took "Shakespeare" as his theme and dealt largely with the use of the English language as portrayed in the works of the "Great Dramatist." Among other things he mentioned that great orators have studied Shakespeare for the best that is in the English language. He also recommended to all the study of Shakespeare as a type of good oratory.

The Annual Indoor Contest.
On Wednesday evening an indoor meet was run off before a large and appreciative audience. This occasion has proven very interesting to the students in the past as it gives them an opportunity to see what is being done in the line of track work during the winter term.

Besides the usual events several new ones were added and proved highly interesting. Perhaps the most interesting of these was the three-legged race, which was won by Martz and Karge. The exhibition on the horizontal bars and in tumbling was a treat, and its equal is seldom seen in these parts. Bartol gave by far the best exhibition in these events and deserves great credit for his work. Shipman was granted a "Gymnasium B" by the judges for his excellent work, Bartol having won his last year.
Two new records were established, Leshar breaking his old standing high

With this issue of THE ORANGE AND BLUE, the present editorial staff goes out of office. Before retiring, however, we desire to express our most sincere thanks to all who have in any way contributed to the success of the periodical. Some of our friends were very mindful of the staff and sought to relieve the work by frequent contributions to our columns. To these we feel especially grateful.

We recognize more clearly than ever the slight amount of interest taken in the college periodicals by the students in general. Many are willing to murmur against the work of the staff but very few are willing to contribute to the improvement of the paper. Every student should realize that this is the weekly of the University and not the sheet of the staff, and having recognized this fact earnestly contribute to make it a success.

The time for examinations is at hand and we are reminded of a condition which exists always when this season recurs. The students in general are quite anxious to know their standing as soon as the work of the term has closed and a great many inquiries are made as to when they may expect their reports.

The authorities recognizing this fact have done much in the past by way of previous preparation to facilitate this matter and hasten the work, so that the reports might be mailed at the earliest possible date. The president, however, cannot make out the term reports until the report of each department is filed in his office. It remains now to simplify the work of the professors and instructors, and the loss of time will be reduced to a minimum. The possibility of bringing about the last named condition rests in a large measure, if not entirely, with the student body.

It has been suggested that in the first place a uniform size of examination paper be used, and that it be so arranged that the papers of different students will not be confused in handling. The "University Blue Book" used by nearly all the larger universities and colleges will meet this requirement and should be adopted. The idea brought out in this book is to use a separate book for each subject in which the applicant is examined and at the close of the examination in that subject turn in the entire book with the sheets in their order and fastened together. On the cover of the books are spaces for the respective names of department, instructor, subject and applicant. The cost of the book is only two cents and can be no hindrance to its adoption. It seems that the proper use of this book must ease in a great degree the work of the professors.

In the second place, the students themselves can do much to make lighter the burden of the professors by exercising great care in writing their material in this book. One can scarcely imagine how difficult it is to read the great variety of script handed to any one of the departments especially when written on different shades of paper and with pencils of different degrees of hardness. We have seen some use cheap pencils and pads of a grayish tint rather than a firm white paper, and to make matters worse a hard pencil was used. This combination reminds one of the days when the stylus and waxen tablets were in use. The use of the "Blue Book," and good careful writing with a soft pencil must surely facilitate the work in a marked degree, and we trust the management of the book store and the student body will fall into line promptly so that the plan may be given a trial at the end of the spring term.

Academy defeats Williamsport High School.

Williamsport High school met defeat at the hands of the Academy in Tustin Gymnasium Friday evening, by the score of 14 to 11. The game was very exciting throughout as both teams were equally matched and many brilliant plays were made. The playing of Langhorn, Mears and McNinch was especially good while Nutt and Jackson excelled for Williamsport.

The Value of a College Education.

It often appears to be useless to discuss any topic, but we find on consideration that it is sometimes beneficial. The old problem of the value to a man or woman of a college education is a question for almost continuous discussion. Those who oppose the college training are for the most part, those who know nothing about it, while the active supporter is usually a graduate of some institution of higher learning. There are nevertheless many who, though they have not had a course in any of the higher schools, yet are earnest advocates and supporters of such education. In the discussion of the value, in our opinion, both the opponents and supporters of the college neglect a great factor, that of personality.

In our higher institutions of learning to-day there are many persons who are neither receiving any benefit, nor giving any aid to their alma mater. In fact the two features are inseparable; we cannot aid without receiving benefits in return. Like suddenly acquired riches, the position of comparative independence proves injurious to many young men and women. They have not learned to distinguish between the right and wrong use of their freedom. Released from the control and supervision of the home, they are simply dissipating their energy. Some little knowledge is absorbed, it is true. Such a result cannot be avoided. In such instances the so-called student would be much better employed in an office or workshop, with a strict task-master and a definite task. We usually discover that few members of this class complete the course.

Another mistake is sometimes made. We become imbued with the idea that the college is simply a sort of warehouse from which we can select a stock of second-hand information. Our work is done mechanically, and the statements of the textbooks are taken on faith, or we follow our instructors views on all questions. With all due respect to the authors and learned teachers, we must maintain that such action is a serious mistake. We are confident that the instructor desires no such attitude, but aims to have the pupil do some original thinking. The true student will examine and test every proposition to ascertain the truth and thus make it his own.

The next group is the one which limits itself to thinking, and never acts. Our knowledge and our thoughts are given to us for use, not for self-employment and ornamental polish. We should make ourselves a sphere. Our colleges need more men and women of action. Our influence should be felt in Christian work in literary societies; in musical organizations; and on the athletic field. There is a chance for everyone who will show ability and a willingness to use it. The college world, like the business world, is open for able men and women, but we must give some indication of our talent. Come forward and do something. "What the world wants is not more of us, but a better brand of us." Let us wake up then and improve the trademark by turning our energies into some channel while there is some opportunity.

Saturday evening's dance.
 An informal dance, perhaps one of the most enjoyable ever held at Bucknell, took place Saturday evening at Armory Hall.

The program consisted of a series of fourteen dances lasting from 9.15 to 11.30. The music was of unique order being furnished by three street musicians.

Every participant was in the best of spirits and the time passed all too quickly. The event is one that will bear repetition at Bucknell, and all who enjoyed it hope that it will.

FIELD AND TRACK.

Schedule and Prospects.

Manager Heidenreich has announced his schedule of events for the coming season. It is as follows:
 April 25, Relay race at Philadelphia.
 May 9, Inter-class track and field sports.
 May 16, Dual meet with Dickinson college at Lewisburg.
 May 23, Inter-scholastic track and field sports at Lewisburg.
 May 29, Dual meet with the Indians at Carlisle.

The prospects for Track and Field Athletics this Spring are very encouraging. They are working hard, the management is lending every effort to insure success and the student body is gradually waking up to the fact that a winning track team cannot be secured by half-hearted interest or support. Probably in no other branch of Athletics do the men work so hard and stake all results of long training and effort upon one chance of success and it behooves the University as a whole to uphold and encourage both morally and financially the splendid efforts of these men who are striving to gain fame for Bucknell.

The inter-collegiate meet on Franklin Field, May 25, will place Bucknell in a new class of adversaries and if we win this year it will mean vastly more than preceding victories. Carlisle Indians and Western University of Pennsylvania have been dropped from our class and Johns Hopkins takes their place. Bucknell will have to measure strength with some of the best athletes in the South. Manager Heidenreich is canvassing the college row to secure the necessary funds to enable Bucknell to honorably acquit herself before the College World. Every loyal Bucknell man should aid, we believe does, feel it an obligation to help him in the matter.

The training table has been started with the following men, Gladsey, '03, Tiffany, '03, Pearce, '05, Griffith, '05, Anderson, '05, Cockill, '05, Marsh, '05, Gaskill, '06, Thatcher, '06, and Elliott, of the Academy. More men will be added later.
 Coach Hoskins will devote his entire time from now till the day of the relay race, in developing a quartette of runners that will again bring the victorious banner to Bucknell. The prospects of the Orange and Blue for another winning team are excellent. In addition to the three men who were on the team last year, Pearce, Marsh and Tiffany, there are six candidates, as follows: Flood, who was substitute in 1902, H. Griffith, Anderson, Cockill, Thatcher and Gaskill.

Coach Hoskins can give but little attention to the candidates for the track and field team until the relay race is run, but the men will be kept at work by Captain Gladsey. So far but few new candidates have reported.

Bertollette, '05, has gone to Texas to serve as best man at the wedding of a friend.

INTER-SCHOLASTIC MEET.

An innovation is promised in the athletic events at Bucknell. On May 23 all the best track and field men in the High Schools and Academies in Pennsylvania will compete for honors on Bucknell Field. The events will consist of 100 yd. dash, 220 yd. hurdle, 12 lb. shot-put and hammer throw, broad and high jump and pole vault.

This will be an annual event and prizes will be given. After this year the schools will be classified and, according to the present plans, the High Schools and Preparatory Schools will compete separately.

This action of Manager Heidenreich deserves great commendation as it will give prospective college students an opportunity of visiting Bucknell and gaining a personal knowledge of our institution. During their visit we should give them a hearty welcome and show them the best and brightest side of our college life.

SERMON BEFORE CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS.

The annual address before the Christian Associations of Bucknell University was delivered in the Baptist church, Sunday morning, by Rev. Dr. Neil of the Second Baptist church of Philadelphia. He spoke on the subject of "Tribulations and Their Bearing on the Christian Life."

He said that the glory of the true Christian in tribulation was an object of wonder in the eyes of the world. Opposition and struggle is the law of progress; suffering trials and tribulations is the law of perfection. No man is truly great until he can meet and surmount opposition. It is the battling with opposition and conquering that makes the man. Tribulations are tests of the genuineness of our religious beliefs. Events force us to stand by our decisions and beliefs. They also furnish occasions for the manifestation of one's power. They give us an appreciative enjoyment of present blessings and fit the soul for the highest offices hereafter.

Finally though at times we cannot understand the ways of Providence, though we are oppressed by trials and difficulties and seem at times scarcely able to sustain the weight of our burdens, we should take courage, knowing that our "tribulations worketh patience," that some day all things will be clear to us, and that opposition and struggles were but the means of perfecting our characters for the future life.

THE PENNSYLVANIA GAME.

On account of the rain the Pennsylvania-Bucknell game was postponed Saturday, until to-day. Franklin Field was almost under water and it was decided to call the game off. The Bucknell boys at once telegraphed to the faculty for permission to stay over and play the game today. The permission was granted and the game was called at 2.30 o'clock, to allow the team to catch an early train home.

A GRACIOUS ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.

Professor Perrine has selected the Philadelphia "Public Ledger" as a basis for the course offered in Journalism this term, and the following article from the "Ledger" acknowledges the fact:

"It may not be unbecoming for the 'Public Ledger' to felicitate itself upon the token of appreciation which comes to it from Bucknell University. To be chosen, to the exclusion of text books and from among the multitudinous journals of the country, for the basis of a college course, in the belief that it best teaches and exemplifies the highest methods of modern journalism, is a compliment in which this newspaper takes no little pride, and which, with appropriate modesty, it is moved to acknowledge.

"Results are recognized more easily than aims, and, ordinarily, success—in the commercial sense of the word—is the reward, if it have any reward, of the endeavor. Neither has this failed the 'Public Ledger.' But there is a gratification, too, in having the aim recognized, and it is delightful to see in the action of Professor Perrine an indication that the effort to produce by clean and honest methods, a newspaper on the highest plane conceivable to its management, is not unappreciated by those who view journalism from the abstract and noncommercial standpoint."

Important Football Dates.

It was officially announced from University of Pennsylvania on Saturday that the Red and Blue will meet Bucknell on Franklin Field again next fall. The date has not yet been determined; however the game will be played on either the second or third week of October. In view of the efforts of a certain Philadelphia newspaper to discourage the Pennsylvania authorities from giving Bucknell a game this year, this announcement is very gratifying, and Mr. Gretzinger, who negotiated the game, is deserving of the highest praise of the student body.

The Pennsylvania game is the third of Bucknell's big contracts to be announced, the others being Carlisle Indians and Cornell. Manager Thompson has also closed for a game with Princeton to be played in October.

Convention of Y. M. C. A. Presidents.

A convention of the presidents of the Y. M. C. A.'s of the various Colleges and Preparatory schools of Pa., will be held in Bucknell Hall, April 23 to 26. The object of this convention is to prepare for and instruct the Y. M. C. A. presidents in the work for the ensuing year. All the evening sessions of the convention will be thrown open to the student body. Many points of interest to Y. M. C. A. workers will be presented.

Stanton, '02, was in Lewisburg several days during vacation.

ALUMNI NOTES.

Malcol Wheeler, 1890, is the principal of the public schools in Waterford, Pa.

Rev. H. M. Pease, '95, who has been located at Centerville, Pa., for several years, has accepted a call to the Halstead, Pa., Baptist church. Edwin Ruthven Perlens, class of 1891, died in Plymouth, Pa., on March 17th, aged 72 years. He was a member of the Pennsylvania Avenue Baptist church in Scranton.

Miss Margaret Craig and Miss Jean Scott, who were students at the Institute during the years '93 and '94, are the guests of Miss Mary E. Wilson, '95, on Fourth street.

Pritchard, ex-'02, in an eight inning game between Pennsylvania and University of Virginia, last Tuesday, shut out the former team, giving them the first defeat of the season.

Dr. W. H. Bachner, a former student in the Academy, was recently advanced from the rank of Past Assistant Surgeon in the U. S. Navy attained after ten five years of service.

We note in the "Baptist Bulletin" that Granville Anderson, M. D., a matriculate of the class of '98, is actively connected with the movement to improve the Woman's College, of Denver, Colorado, being secretary of the Colorado Woman's College Society.

The members of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Philadelphia were entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bolton in that city. An address upon "Recent Excavations and Their Results," was made by Mrs. Cornelius Stevenson, the distinguished archaeologist.

Miss Knox entertained the guests with a song entitled, "A Song of Gladness," and later by request the "Spring Song." Miss Dora Keene, a member of the school board of Philadelphia, gave an address on the need of reform in the public schools of the city, urging the members of the club to take a more active interest in their betterment.

HARVEY'S WORK.

Mr. C. W. Harvey, '00, late Y. M. C. A. secretary of Pennsylvania, is now secretary of foreign work in the mission field of China. While at Bucknell, Harvey was an earnest Christian worker. He left the state work for the foreign mission field. To his support Lehigh University pledged itself for $100; State College has pledged $25, and the various other colleges have pledged similar sums. The Y. M. C. A. of Bucknell desires to raise for Harvey's support at least $100. We must not let other institutions do more than ours for one of our graduates. Every college man should give freely of his means for Harvey's support.

Ritter, ex-'05, has resumed his studies.

DONALD SPANGLER.

Subscriptions to the ORANGE AND BLUE are over due. The manager will wait upon you at an early date. Kindly be prepared to meet the obligation.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—All who are not subscribers can now obtain the "Orange and Blue" for the spring term on payment of 25 cents to the business manager.

With this number a new staff enters upon the work of editing the "Orange and Blue." We must make the old, old plea for the support of the student body. We have accepted our respective positions despite the warnings of our predecessors, and those familiar with the work, and we want the help of all in proving to the skeptical that we have not undertaken as difficult a task as some claim.

In several ways the students can assist us in maintaining and raising the standard of this paper, the exponent of our college life, by which the students of other colleges judge concerning Bucknell and what occurs here. Whenever any item of enough general interest to fitfully have a place in these columns comes to the notice of any of the students, communication of such an item to the editor of the proper department, would be a kindness for which we would be truly grateful. Then those who are still in debt to the "Orange and Blue" would gain its lasting favor by attending to such little matters. Those who did not subscribe in the fall, can now take advantage of the offer made above for the spring term. The last help that we would ask is that all useless faultfinding be refrained from, although we will always be ready to receive suggestions made in the proper spirit and criticism when the critic is willing to lend a helping hand.

In the Spring term warm weather makes books and college halls alike unattractive, and one longs to live in the open air. Let us then live near nature and not feel that time is wasting. Let the sense of aesthetics be cultivated, for wherever one turns, fresh beauties are revealed. Who shall say, when taking long walks down the railroad or across the country, that he is not learning as much as if burning the midnight oil? It's spring. Let us study nature and leave the conflicting theories of man. Why should we be ever "delving deeply into philosophical studies," when the real world is all around. Can we not learn very much that is not found in the text-book from listening to the robins and blue birds, and from watching the growth of life in every clod or tree? Is it not better to gaze into the starry heavens oneself than to read Kant's description of them? If we are to make the most of the college course, the full benefit of living in this beautiful region must be obtained. How many, hurrying up the hill in the evening, stop to enjoy the splendor of the moonlight across the Susquehanna? Or how many see the magnificent sun rises beyond Montour? With the resolutions for the new term let us decide to make the most of our unusual opportunities to enjoy the beauties of nature.

We observe with some satisfaction that Bucknell will hold an inter-scholastic meet here during the spring term. It will serve as an effective means to attract promising athletes to Bucknell, and good athletes are a strong factor in building up the reputation of a college. We trust that Manager Heidenreich will meet with encouragement in arranging the event, and that when given it will accomplish its purpose and at the same time reflect credit upon the college.

Changes in Baseball Schedule.

Several changes have been made in the baseball schedule since it was originally announced by Manager Kester. The date of the game with Syracuse at Lewisburg has been changed from April 14th to the 15th. A game has been arranged with Western University of Pennsylvania to be played at Pittsburg on Saturday, April 18. This will be the first time Bucknell has ever met W. U. P. in an athletic contest. Another home game has been scheduled. The Williamsport All-Collegiate club will be here for a game on Saturday, June 6. The Williamsport nine is made up of such men as ex-Capt. Collier of Pennsylvania; Brown, a Princeton 'varsity player for four years; the Young brothers of Cornell, and others.

Two games have been taken off the schedule, those with West Point at West Point, and Gettysburg at Gettysburg. West Point was compelled to cancel on account of too heavy a schedule. The Gettysburg game was canceled because of the unexpected early closing of that institution.

LOCALS.

Gilbert, '04, has left school to accept a position at Williamsport. Epler, who was one of Bucknell's pitchers last season, is with us again. Cheesman, '05, was visited last week by his brother, Rev. Cheesman, of Philadelphia. Carrington, ex-'05, on March 23d, was married to Miss Mable Green-aid, at Pine Grove, W. Va. Dunlap, '03, has accepted a position teaching at Muncy Normal, and will be out of school this term.

Young, '03, is teaching in the Pine Grove school house, finishing an unexpired term for the regular teacher. Elliott, '04, having gone to Chicago to accept a position with the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, will not return to school this term. Mrs. William C. Walls gave a dinner on Thursday evening to the Sigma Chi fraternity. An elaborate menu had been prepared for the fraternity, and with the souvenirs, a most delightful time was spent.

Tennis Items.

The Kappa Sigma fraternity is putting into shape the court of the Clover Tennis Club, the members of which joined the Lenox Club. Two new clubs have been formed with courts on a hill near the observatory. The ground should make good hard courts. There is plenty of room for other courts if more clubs should be formed.

Manager Kaip of the Bucknell Tennis Association has arranged a contest in singles and doubles with Lafayette, to take place here, and also one to occur at Lafayette. Other contests are being negotiated. All tennis players should not fail to join the Bucknell Tennis Association. Every club should have at least a part of its membership, also members of the Association. Those desiring to join should see Wm. C. Bartol, '95.

University Minstrels.
The second annual production of the Bucknell Minstrel Association will take place Monday evening, May 4th, in the Lewisburg opera house. The whole winter term has been spent in securing and learning the newest and most up-to-date popular music of the day. All the largest music publishers in the United States have been consulted, and some of the songs in the production this year will be in advance of the large professional shows.

The troupe comprises forty member all of whom have had more or less experience in this line and the production this year will eclipse any former effort. The olio is made up of some very clever specialties, and a real treat is promised in the second part. It will be given for the benefit of the Athletic Association, and deserves the support of every person in the University.

ACADEMY NOTES.

Howard Tomb will not be here this term. He is now in California and may attend some preparatory school there. Bloomburg has cancelled the debate which was to have taken place on May 16, between the Philological Literary Society of the State Normal School and the Calceoplan Literary Society of the Academy.

The Academy baseball team promises to be the best the Academy has had for some time. Ned Church, a new student, showed ability on Saturday. In the pitcher's box and he will undoubtedly be a great help to the team. A game has been arranged with the Watsonville High School for Saturday at Watsonville. A large crowd of Academy students should turn out and root for the team.

Bucknell opened her Baseball season last Wednesday by playing a one-sided game with the nucleus of last year's Milton team assisted by several Bucknell men. Only six innings were played and at the close the score stood 7-2 in Bucknell's favor. Following is the summary of the game.

Proposed Football Changes.
 The Football Rules Committee met at Atlantic City on March 28 to discuss proposed changes in the rules for the coming season, but beyond the discussion of the main topic of consideration, that of opening up the play, nothing was done. Any action of the committee must be unanimous, hence this important matter must be some over in detail. It is understood that the committee, which is composed of six members, is divided on the question of abolishing or even modifying what is commonly referred to as the "massed play."

It is quite certain that, in the new code of rules, the committee will do away with sole leather headgear. Another change provides that the side scored against shall have the option of kicking off from the center of field or handing the ball over to the other side to kick off, a change which tends to equalize the play. Another change relating to kicking the ball from a scrimmage and having the object of preventing roughing the full back, is that the full back or whoever kicks the ball cannot put any of his men on side or regain possession of the ball himself, provided the ball goes over the line of scrimmage.

The Debating Societies.
 The debating societies did not hold meetings on Friday evening since it was too soon after the return of the students to give enough time for preparation of programs. But an effort will be made by the officers of both societies to maintain interest in them during the spring term. The members of Theta Alpha at the last meeting of the winter term changed the time of opening from 7 to 9 p. m. This change will permit those who prefer to spend the pleasant spring evenings out of doors to do so and also attend the society meetings. Before Theta Alpha a stereopticon lecture on the Philippines will be given next Friday evening at the regular hour of meeting by Bailey, '06. The officers of Theta Alpha have requested us to announce that all members willing to prepare debates for any future meetings will please hand their names to Bliss, '03, Ealy, '04, or Ausherman, '05.

ALLENTOWN BAND
 Famous Musical Organization to be Here Commencement.

The excellent Allentown band has been secured for the commencement exercises at Bucknell this year. It has been the policy of the authorities in years past, to engage the services of none but the best bands for the commencement season and particular attention has been paid to this feature of the commencement attractions. The securing of the Allentown band is right in line with this policy, as it is unquestionably one of the best in the state. It was accorded first place in the firemen's parade in Philadelphia during the firemen's convention in Oct. 1901, leading the first division. The band is composed of forty pieces, and each member is a thorough musician. Under the leadership of Mr. Klinger, they have been brought to singular perfection and have won such honors for themselves that the organization is now both the pride of Allentown and the envy of similar organizations throughout the state.

On Tuesday, April 7, the band gave its annual concert in the Lyric theatre of Allentown.

Dr. Avramet who has taken a praiseworthy interest in the matter and Mr. Gretzinger were in attendance and were so pleased with the band that the contract was made at once for commencement time.

Tennis Items.
 Very little tennis was played last week owing to the rainy weather. More interest is being taken in tennis this year than for many years previous. There are eleven courts on and about the university grounds. The Phi Gamma Delta fraternity have made several improvements of their court during the week.

Another new club has been formed named the Olympiad Tennis Club. They are making a court between the East Wing of the main college and Dr. Gifford's residence. The members are Ausherman, Bowen, Elliott, Hanna, Henry Hess, Ranck and Robbins, all of class of '05. There are still more other sites for courts if more clubs are organized.

Calendar.
 Tuesday, April 14, 9.00 p. m., Y. M. C. A. meeting.
 Wednesday, April 15, 4.00 p. m., baseball, Syracuse vs. Bucknell, college campus.
 Friday, April 17, 7.00 p. m., Eupelia Literary Society. At 9.00 p. m. Theta Alpha Literary Society.
 Saturday, April 18, baseball, Western University of Pennsylvania vs. Bucknell, at Pittsburg.
 The Williamsport Paper Mill vs. Academy baseball team, at Williamsport.

Rev. Calvin A. Hare, financial secretary of the University, is in Lewisburg. He will occupy the former residence of Dr. W. L. Gerhart.

Oratorical Contests.
 The following men have been selected for the Freshman contest: Bartlett, Cole, Drake, Fenton, Jacoby, Jones, Willard, Pease, Rose, and Ramsey. The contest will occur on April 23, in Theta Alpha hall.

The date of the Sophomore contest has not yet been decided upon. The following have been selected for the declamation contest: T. E. Ammon, E. O. Bickler, R. G. Bostwick, G. W. Cheesman, G. C. Davis, L. S. Goodman, E. A. Morton, L. R. Ranck, H. W. Scott, C. V. Williamson, V. N. Robbins.

The orators for the Junior Exhibition will be as follows: Miss B. A. Bane, Miss R. E. Elderman, Miss Margaret Groff, Miss V. E. Hall, Miss Olive Schullinger, G. M. Deats, J. E. Hunsberger, R. L. Knapp, M. C. McGiffen and C. B. Rein. The contests of the contest are so modified that two prizes will be awarded, one for the best oration among the young ladies, and one for the best oration among the men. The exhibition will occur May 15, in Bucknell Hall.

Resolved: That, whenever, in the event of continued domestic violence, lives and property are not adequately protected by a State, it is for the public good that the President should have power to afford protection, without the application of the State for Federal aid.

The Soiree.
 The members of the fourth year class of the Seminary will give the annual soiree, the evening of April 25. The young ladies will entertain their guests with a presentation of some scenes from "Lovey Mary."

As this book in which we meet our friend Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch, again, has gained wide popularity and met with much favor, the evening should be one of great interest to the guests. The members of the class are Miss Barton, Miss Brown, Miss McNinch, Miss Smith, Miss Plian, Miss Stanton and Miss Payne.

A Good Coach Secured.
 "Eddie" Lee will arrive this evening. This news ought to bring joy to the hearts of the many followers of the fortunes of Bucknell's baseball team.

Mr. Lee has had a very wide experience in baseball and he displayed his ability and knowledge of the game while coaching our team last spring.

Immediately upon arrival he will take charge of the team and work will begin in earnest. The Varsity club will be started this week at Mrs. Wenzell's, including fifteen base ball aspirants. This is an innovation due to the efforts of Manager Kester, and will aid very much in training and increasing the spirit of the men.

Y. M. C. A.
Student Conference at Northfield this Summer.

Plans are being perfected for the conduct of the Student Summer Conference of Young Men's Christian Associations of Canada and the East to be held at East Northfield, Mass., June 5th to July 5th. This Conference was started through the invitation of Mr. D. J. Moody in 1886, and since then has been held annually with increased attendance. Last year there were over 700 representatives from 132 institutions at the Northfield Conference. This is one of five Student Conferences held under the auspices of the Student Department of the International Committee of Young Men's Christian Associations in different sections of the country.

Meetings at Northfield are held each morning and evening in the auditorium and at sunset out of doors on "Round Top," the hill on which the grave of Mr. D. L. Moody is found. In the list of speakers who will address the Conference this year are: Mr. Robert E. Speer, Rev. G. Campbell Morgan, Rev. George Jackson, of Edinburgh, Rev. William M. McDowell, D. D., Prof. Edward I. Bosworth, Dr. Frank K. Sanders, Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., Hon. S. B. Capen, and Mr. John R. Mott, who will preside.

One of the most important features of the conference is the social and athletic life. The afternoons are devoted to recreation and are characterized by baseball games between different colleges, tennis, bicycle runs and an athletic meet. Much good-natured rivalry between the institutions is developed. The influence of this conference upon the lives of hundreds of Christian students is far reaching and has done much to increase the religious atmosphere of the Eastern colleges.

The Bucknell Y. M. C. A. will send several delegates to the conference. Those wishing to go should see Mr. Sutton, '04, chairman of the Northfield committee.

ALUMNI NOTES

Subscriptions to the ORANGE AND BLUE are over due. The manager will wait upon you at an early date. Kindly be prepared to meet the obligation.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—All who are not subscribers can now obtain the "Orange and Blue" for the spring term on payment of 25 cents to the business manager.

Recently President Hatley, of Yale University, deplored the growing tendency to draw class distinctions in college life. We think that Bucknell has little to fear in this line and yet we occasionally see evidences of a peculiar spirit of exclusiveness showing itself in the actions of some of the students. America has always prided herself on her democratic character, on the liberty and equality of its citizens and the fact that there is no nobility or upper class, at least none of which the government takes cognizance. One man is the same as another in the eyes of the law.

Now college is a place of preparation for active life. Hence at Oxford and Cambridge Universities, class distinctions are sharply drawn and the reason is not hard to find. England's future earls and lords, during their college days seek and obtain the same superiority of rank which they possess in after life. But in this country it would be a mistake fatal to our nation's continued progressive leadership of the world to foster any such spirit particularly in college where it only tends to unfit a man for his life career. The man who tries to go through college on his family reputation or on the prestige of his college associates and arrives at some measure of success is destined to meet with disappointment when he has to make the fight for existence among men of the busy world where all such things count for naught. Because of the peculiar character of the social atmosphere of a college, these things can have much more weight than they do in active life and hence the danger of a college man being led astray by success so gained. Neither family nor money, nor associates, in fact nothing from without which comes without effort, can make the man, only the man himself. Too often we see a man who does poorly in studies, who has very scanty moral principles and sometimes even without any athletic ability except in horsemanship, made much of in social circles and in every way treated as superior to those who will, after commencements are over far outstrip him in the race of life.

This may account for the little indignities and the aristocratic spirit which occasionally may be noticed in the inter course of fellow-students. For instance, the person who passes another of his or her acquaintance without any sign of recognition is not worthy of the name of a true gentleman or lady as the case may be. And yet we venture to say that this occurs several times daily in the college corridors, on the campus and on the streets of Lewisburg. Some students of the University, both male and female, are habitually guilty of this, which is but one form that this spirit can take. These actions and similar ones only degrade the offender, never the injured one.

Let us try to treat our fellow-students as our equals and worthy out respect, even though we are perfectly certain that they are not worthy our least notice. Let us show more Christian courtesy and deference toward one another, reduce the size of our estimates of our own importance and see whether we do not enjoy life as much as formerly. If we students would consider this subject and would try to cultivate a more considerate feeling toward one another, the closer bond of fellowship and the elimination of that spirit which often approaches that of contempt for one another, would give rise to a stronger college patriotism and be infinitely better for our alma mater.

The editor will gladly receive any corrections of misstatements, or comments on any article editorial, and give these due publicity.

There will be no March number of the "Mirror." The management of the paper regrets that circumstances have rendered the omission of that issue necessary and the staff have decided to make the April number a large double number and are putting forth every effort to make it excellent in every particular. The U. P. Game.

Bucknell opened the season in baseball last Monday at Philadelphia by presenting the University of Pennsylvania with a victory. The game was postponed from Saturday on account of the disagreeable weather and Monday wasn't much of an improvement. Consequently a small crowd witnessed the game.

The first play of account was a home run in the third inning with three men on bases by Carls of Penna. Then things looked rather easy for Penna, but in the fifth Bucknell solved Grove's delivery and counted four runs on three singles and a double. Errors by Orbin and Carls helped in scoring these runs.

This tied the score and it was anybody's game until the eighth when by lack of team work and a fatal combination of errors Penna succeeded in scoring ten runs. This ended Bucknell's hopes of winning.

Devlin replaced Groves in the sixth. Marshall pitched the last inning for Penna. In the third Swain made a great one-hand catch of Anderson's long fly.

Jaekel pitched a fine game and had he received the proper support in the critical eighth inning the score would have undoubtedly been in Bucknell's favor.

A talk was given on the Philippines by Bailey, '06, and illustrated by lantern slides. He told in an interesting and pleasing manner of his experience as a soldier in the Tenth Pennsylvania Volunteers, describing with great vividness an engagement with the Spanish outside of Manila just before the city's surrender. After his talk, about one hundred views of Lewisburg, Washington and of a miscellaneous character were thrown upon the screen after which the meeting adjourned.

DECLAMATION CONTEST

Held in Bucknell Hall Saturday Evening.

A large appreciative audience listened to the Academy boys who took part in the annual Third Form Declamation contest on Saturday night last. And the opportunity for showing their appreciation was not lacking to the audience. For the work of the speakers was of a high order, and it is to be doubted whether the contest has ever been better than it was this year. The program, which was carried out in its entirety, was as follows:
 Directorate March, Sousa—Miss Bottorf.
 Invocation, Music.
 The Massacre of Zoroaster, Marion Crawford—Stephen Gardner Duncan, Lewisburg.
 Cornet Solo, Selected—Mr. Harvey.
 The Honor of the Woods, W. H. Murray—Ralph L. Thomas, Lewisburg.
 The Legend of the Organ Builder, Julia Dorr—Claude G. Moore, Miles Valley, Pa.
 Spring, Greig—Miss Bottorf.
 How Uncle Podger Hangs a Picture, Jerome K. Jerome—Clyde H. Haines, Winfield.
 Darius Green and His Flying Machine, Twiss—Preston M. Savidge, Sunbury.
 Duncan handled his subject well and seemed much at home on the platform. But this was also true of the three who followed, Thomas, Owens and Moore. Owens especially did himself credit; his movements on the platform being easy and natural. Haines' work was splendid. As he was in the midst of the selection, the lights went out, but this did not seem to worry the speaker any. His rendition would have done credit to a much older person. The next speaker, Savidge, did not fail to reach the high standard attained by the various speakers.
 The music with which the program was varied, was of a high order. Miss Bottorf was enthusiastically applauded, and the work of Harvey on the cornet showed that this was not his first public appearance. He was called back several times. Hanna handled the accompaniments well. The judges were Prof. Phillips, Miss Silfer and Rev. Thompson. The decorations, the management and the good work of the contestants, reflect credit upon Miss Schilling.

MARTIN KLINGLER,
 Leader of the Allentown, Pa., Band.
 The Allentown Band will furnish the music for the 53rd annual commencement of Bucknell University.

Theta Alpha.
 The society was called to order at 9 p. m. The first number of the literary program was "Current Events" which was given by Philipp, '05. In a new and entertaining manner. Then an essay was read by Pease, '06, on "Booker T. Washington," an interesting subject and interestingly and eloquently treated. Ausherman, '05, delivered in a forcible manner, commanding the attention of all a recitation of the well known martial poem of "Sheridan's Ride to Winchester." McCaulay, '05, led off the discussion of the topic, "The Nation's Unsettled Problems." He was followed by Taylor, '05, Leshar, '05, and Kargo, '04. An attractive program has been prepared for next week and all the members cannot spend Friday evening in a more profitable manner than by attending this meeting.

Eupelia.
 Eupelia was called to order last Friday evening by President Bartholomew. After the report of the secretary, the president gave an interesting address to the society on the prospects of the spring term work. Renn, '04, then gave the current events. He had a splendid report and it was full and unusually interesting. Next on the program was an extemporaneous speech by Livezey, '04. His subject was the "Snyder Bill" and he discussed it admirably. Then came another extemporaneous speech by Bowen, '05, and although short, it was good. The last part of the hour was, as usual, devoted to the debate. The speakers were Williamson, '05, Steinhilper, '05, and Stewart, '05. Every one present took especial interest in the meeting, and it was a very enjoyable and profitable one.

Reimer, ex-'05, visited friends on the hill Sunday and Monday.

College Editor.
 Judging from the following verse in last week's Dickinsonian the journalists of our sister college have their troubles too.

When news is plenty, what a cinch!
 Naught to do but rope it in.
 When news is scarce, O, what a pinch,
 Scratch his head and work like sin.
 Sometimes he has to cut it down,
 But when it rains, and games are gone,
 Next week he sees with darkest frown,
 How short a crop of news is there.
 When times are brisk and lots a doin',
 Every chump has news to burn,
 But when it rains, and games are gone,
 Not a chap will do a turn.
 When he has thought of something fine,
 Someone else will crowd him out
 But when his wits are out of line,
 No one else is seen about.
 So if you want an easy snafu,
 Just get on some paper's staff.
 Sometimes you will be in fortune's lap,
 And plenteous fountains quaff.
 And then at times you are on the dump,
 Not a thing to do but grin.
 Roll up your sleeves, and get on a hump.
 Hunt up news and send it in.
 A Victim.

Respect for the Faculty.

The following communication was received by the editor for publication:

One of the faults ascribed by outsiders to the youth of America is lack of respect for their elders and absence of reverence for learning or art. Whether this fault is universal in our land or not we do not know, but surely here at college we see a great deal to make us consider the judgment of our critics correct. Possibly we see the worst side of it, here at college, for disrespect is not only continuously displayed, but boldly flaunted before the eyes of the public.

"A little knowledge is a dangerous thing," the Bible teaches, and if it is the knowledge imbibed by the students during their course that teaches them to mock the works of an intelligence far superior to theirs, then indeed, is that knowledge dangerous. It is hard to understand why men at college feel themselves entitled to act in a way of which they would be "shamed," were they at home. Possible it is like the masses or whooping cough, one of the children gets it and it generally goes the rounds; perhaps this lack of respect springs from the erroneous, but generally accepted theory that college students are a peculiar species and must be granted peculiar liberties. Of course, these acts are not done "with malice aforethought;" it is rather that they do not think about it, before or after; yet, though we cannot entirely overlook or pardon it, a man who absent-mindedly chaps a fellow or who, in a fit of pique, scolds a fellow, is a man who is not fit to be a student. A student who enters the classroom of a professor, far older and wiser, and one who has the respect, not only of the students, but also of the town, and is not only inattentive but even disorderly, who practices all those little tricks, so well known to college boys, to annoy the teacher and disturb the class not only shows his lack of home-training, but marks himself as a man incapable of perceiving in others anything above his own low level, unable to comprehend that finer sense which yields tribute of reverence to gray hairs and learning. Such actions are not at all "smart" and they only lower the offender in the eyes of the more sensible student world. Fun is all right, let the student have as much of it as possible during his four years' course. But when a man is old enough to go to college, he is old enough to have put away childish things.

The freshmen baseball team defeated the Academy in a loosely played and uninteresting game on Saturday, by the score of 25 to 15.

The popular Science Monthly for March in an article on College men brings the thought "As the twig is bent so the tree is inclined." How many young men we see all around us who are actually wasting their time. We see them loafing on the street corners and in the country store, but the most sinful waste of time and substance as well as the most discussing is the college loafer. Some fellows seem to come to college to spend their time and their father's money. They run rampant as it were, have no regard for cutting classes and do very little studying then complain if they do not pass the examinations. As a general thing they say when I get out into life I will settle down, forget my habits of idleness, make a noise in the world and become a howling success. They seem to forget that the majority of young men come to college just at the time when their minds are the most pliable and the habits of four years become a part and parcel of their very natures and that many a young man finding himself handicapped in this way has striven in vain to throw off these habits. The Popular Science Monthly proves to us by statistics beyond question that the man who stands well in college is the man that gets along best in life and the college man that hangs on the rear end of his class calling whoa! will in a short time after leaving college be hanging on the rear end of progress. The laggard may say "there is Brown who stood at the head of his class in the Academy but made a failure of life," and one or two more such instances complete his stock. He reasons that because, in his opinion, the lives of these persons have been failures it is true in all cases. His line of reasoning is as defective as his life in college.

It is incumbent on every one of us to have in mind the true standard in shaping our actions and the products thereof. Human effort goes into every product no matter how flimsy it may be and morals command that human effort should not be so prostituted. We should see that our work is up to a reasonable standard of genuineness in the class room and in our every day life about college and when we go out into life we will not depart from the path we have worn smooth and the cry that "college men are not practical" will cease to be heard.

Frequently students are heard to say "I'll never open this book again, or I'm going to forget it all as soon as I can." Why should they spend their time on subjects they wish to forget immediately? Could they not be more profitably employed, if not at college, at their life work? But under the elective system no student after his Freshman year is justified in making statements as above quoted. He is able to choose subjects that he is interested in or that have a bearing on his future vocation. He has opportunities that will never return and if he wastes them, he is more than foolish.

Of those studies whose chief object is to train the intellect, it is well to fasten the fundamental principles in the mind and let the unimportant details of the text-books give place to more important matters. It is foolish to spend a term or more on a subject and then leave it forever.

All too fast the knowledge, laboriously acquired, slips away. In languages this is very noticeable. The student, who as a Freshman could easily translate Latin or Greek, is dismayed to find in his Senior year that he can read very little. If those who wish to retain their knowledge of the languages would read a page or more daily, they could do this at small expense of time. After having made a start in a language more rapid progress is made by reading the original than by merely translating and then too a deeper insight into the languages is attained and they are more easily retained in memory. This same principle of keeping up studies that have been dropped in the course should be applied to other subjects. Of what use is a college education if it does not train one to study without a teacher? When one finishes a subject in the course let the study of that subject not be ended but rather begun. The true student is ever a learner. He never feels that a subject is finished or completed. The wise student is not the one who spreads himself over the greatest possible number of subjects but he who concentrates his powers upon a few branches. It is not broad and shallow learning that the world needs, but the profound learning of the scholar and the specialist. He who early comprehends this is fortunate.

ALUMNI NOTES

G. T. Cooper, '01, is principal of the public schools at Milroy.

S. C. Smith, '06, now at Jefferson Medical College, visited his fraternity brothers of the Phi Kappa Psi.

Dr. Elton S. Corson, '92, returned on Sunday of last week from Burma, where he is serving as a medical missionary and has had great success.

The Bucknell Alumnae Association will visit the museum of the University of Pennsylvania on Tuesday, April 21, at 3 p. m. The members will be received by Mrs. Cornelius Stevenson, who will point out and explain the valuable additions most recently made to the archaeological collection.

Rev. Miles O. Noll, of the First Reformed church, of Carlisle, and Bucknell, '87, has been granted two months' leave of absence on request of the Trustees of Franklin and Marshall college, Lancaster. He will take charge of arrangements for the fiftieth anniversary of the union of Franklin College and Marshall College, and the college will send substitutes for his pulpit there. Mr. Noll is a graduate of the theological department of Franklin and Marshall.

Frank W. Jackson, '09, Consul at Patras, Greece, writes that "the action of several continental countries in proposing to raise the tax on currents so as to practically close their markets to Greek fruit is calculated to disturb economic conditions in Greece, and may force the country into severing some close commercial alliances. The list includes Russia, Germany, France, Austria-Hungary, and, to a certain extent, Belgium, the countries which contribute most largely to the Greek import trade of $27,000,000. Any such attempt would be of interest to American exporters, as it would afford them an opportunity to supply the needs of this market. The four greatest needs of the country—grain, coal, iron and lumber—are the ones which the United States would best be able to supply."

Tennis Items.

Two more clubs have been organized. One club has selected as the site for its court a plot of ground to the rear of the west wing of the main building. The members are as follows: Mauser, '03, Scott, '05, Seibert, '05, Dewald, '06, Koch, '06, Kless, '06, Millward, '06, and Mulliner, '06. The other club consisting of Cole, Honeywell, Hassrick, Jacobs, Kingsbury, Parmley, Snyder and Thompson, all of class of '06 are making a court on the terrace below west college.

In last week's The Lafayette, is an article on the tennis tournament with Bucknell. They evidently have a strong tennis association, which will be a great help to their team at the time of the contest. This is what we need. We cannot carry on such a contest without the moral and financial support of a prosperous tennis association. The membership in the various Bucknell tennis clubs is now about one hundred. The membership in the Bucknell Tennis Association should be as large.

Stevenson, '04, McCain, '05, and White, '04, attended the district convocations of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, held at Gettysburg last week.

President Merrell Edward Gates, LL. D., of Washington, D. C., will deliver the annual address before the Literary Societies—at the Anniversary, June 22nd, commencement week. President Gates is a graduate of the Rochester University, and was for eight years President of Rutgers College, N. J., and for nine years, of Amherst College, Mass. The subject will be "Patriotism Under the New Conditions of our National Life."

1904 L'Agenda.

All the material for the L'Agenda has been in the hands of the engraver and printers for the past two weeks, and the first lot of proof was received Saturday. Many new features will be added to the annual this year. For the first time in the book's history, there will be half-tones of all the Trustees. There will also be an alumni department in which will appear half-tones and sketches of about twenty-five prominent Bucknell graduates. The book will be considerably larger than formerly.

L'Agenda will be ready for circulation about May 15th.

Lycoming County Normal Club.

On Thursday evening, April 16th, a Lycoming County Normal Club was organized. The membership of the club consists of all students of Bucknell, who have prepared for college in the Lycoming County Normal at Muncy.

The club was called to order by Renn, '04, acting as chairman, and the following officers were elected: President—H. A. Spotts, '03; Vice-Pres.—Chester B. Reim, '04, Sec'y and Treas.—Chifford Williamson, '05.

The object of the club is to promote the interests of the students while in college; to see that all students who enter from the Normal are taken care of and to secure the enrollment of the Normal students at Bucknell.

The Normal has always been well represented at Bucknell and at present has fourteen graduates in the college.

This is the first organization of its kind at Bucknell and it is to be hoped that other preparatory schools will follow the example set by the Lycoming county boys. We believe that such organizations will be a great help in securing prospective students.

RELAY RACE

Bucknell Again Victorious on Franklin Field.

Philadelphia, April 25.—A dark and gloomy sky with every indication of coming rain did not prevent a large and enthusiastic crowd gathering at Franklin Field on Saturday to enjoy the Relay Races. By 4.45 p. m., the time when the event in which Bucknell was interested was about to come off, the clouds had passed away and conditions seemed favorable for a good race. Griffith ran first for Bucknell, and though the runners were all well together at the start he was shut in by Dickinson and the two Maryland colleges with State very little in the rear. However, when they reached the straight track on the opposite side Griffith got the lead but was again passed on the home stretch and came in third with Dickinson and Johns Hopkins leading and the others very close behind. Tiffany, the next runner, was also boxed by Dickinson and the Marylanders, but by very pretty running managed to pull ahead, and finished second with Dickinson in the lead by a very small margin. Pearce, the next Bucknell runner, soon gained the lead, and finished five or six yards in advance while Marsh not only maintained this lead but increased it to about fifteen yards at the finish, easily winning the race for Bucknell. Johns Hopkins finished second and Dickinson third. It was a good race, pretty to look at, and not easily won, and not only the runners, but also the coach deserve great credit for the effort which has given victory for the fifth time to the orange and blue.

Minstrels.

All arrangements have been made for the second annual production of the Bucknell Minstrel Association. The Lewisburg opera house has been leased for May 4th. The contract for costumes is let, and the Bucknell orchestra, assisted by some of the Lewisburg orchestra, will furnish the music for the occasion. The show will consist of a spectacular "First Part," in which all the most popular and up-to-date music of the season will be rendered. The chorus consists of thirty well trained voices and contains the best male singers in the University. The Otto is replete with many laughable features. The leading sketch in the "Second Part," will be a one act comedy entitled "The Great Sem. Robbery," by Messrs. "Dromedary" Campbell and "Spider" Seem. This is only one of many excellent specialties which will appear for the first time next Monday night. Seats for the show will be on sale at Baker's drug store Friday, May 1st. A block of seats will be reserved for the Institute. The popular prices will prevail, 25, 35 and 50 cents. The proceeds will be applied to liquidating the losses of the baseball team. Two cancelled games have placed the baseball management in a financial difficulty, and it is up to every student to turn out and enjoy a good evening's entertainment, and at the same time further the efforts of those striving for the betterment of athletics at Bucknell.

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE

Presidents of the Various Student Associations of the State.

The Y. M. C. A. Presidents' Conference, composed of the presidents representing the various College, State Normal, and Preparatory School Associations of Pennsylvania, adjourned Sunday evening, thirty-two schools and colleges were represented.

Each day throughout the conference, various subjects of interest to Y. M. C. A. workers were brought before the students and discussed. Rev. Erdman delivered an address before the conference Thursday evening, and again on Friday evening. Saturday evening Mr. Turner made an appeal for Missionary work, showing the necessity for both men and money to maintain and further advance the Missionary cause.

Before a large audience in Bucknell Hall, Sunday afternoon, at three o'clock, George S. May delivered an eloquent address upon "Stepping into Life." The address was based upon John 1, 11 and 12, and centered particularly about the words of the 12th paragraph "Received him." The first step in receiving Jesus Christ is to grasp him. Grasping Christ depends upon the mind. Almost every being of any intelligence whatever possesses some knowledge of who Christ was, what Christ did, how he died, and various characteristics of the Master, hence almost every human being grasps Christ.

The second step in receiving Christ is to take him. This involves the will, the power of saying to the Master "All I am, all I have, and all I can even be belongs to thee; take me and use me as thou seest fit." This period is the period of hesitancy and doubt, when on the one hand Jesus stands and pleads; on the other hand the tempter stands and tempts. If one is earnest in regard to his seeking and religion, let God know it. Say to him, "I will" and he will place in your life something for which you will care far more than that which you had before. Moreover, to receive Christ is to hold fast to Christ. That by which we hold fast to Christ is love, the growing affection that we possess for the Master. Accepting Christ should fill us with emotion. Christ does not come one to follow him but offers the man something for which he is willing to allow the things of this world for which he formerly craved to pass by.

A mind to conceive, a will to determine, a heart to love—these are the requirements for receiving Jesus Christ. The student enters school not to graduate, but to prepare for graduation, so everyone should receive Jesus Christ, not to immediately step into life but to prepare for that higher, that grander, that nobler life, into which Jesus Christ is the doorway.

Subscriptions to the ORANGE AND BLUE are over due. The manager will wait upon you at an early date. Kindly be prepared to meet the obligation.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—All who are not subscribers can now obtain the "Orange and Blue" for the spring term on payment of 25 cents to the business manager.

The Twelfth Annual Presidents' Conference of the Student Young Men's Christian Associations of Pennsylvania is now a matter of history. It was probably the most successful one held so far, and we feel that Bucknell can well congratulate herself in this matter. While it was principally due to the Y. M. C. A. men of the college that the conference came off so happily, yet all the student body helped in making the visitors welcome and we think that our reputation among our sister institutions of learning in the state has in no way suffered but rather been strengthened.

The baseball team has had as yet no opportunity to show what it can do, and the strength of the team is still a matter of conjecture although one-third of the spring term has passed away. The Pennsylvania game is all that the college "fans" have to judge by and as the playing in the last part of the game was on a very different order from that of the first five innings we are still left in doubt as to what estimate to form of it. By the end of this week we should know pretty definitely what we can expect of our team for the rest of the season. The four games scheduled will be an excellent test of the team's ability. Rain has made the cancelling of two games necessary and Manager Kester was unable to arrange a game for last Saturday. The arrival of Couch Lee was nearly a month after the commencement of the season. And thus in reality, the baseball season for Bucknell will commence tomorrow afternoon at Milton. We hope and believe that the season, though thus delayed by unavoidable circumstances, will be a successful one and one which will speedily make up for lost time.

The Bells.

When we wake up in the morning,
To the sound that makes us start,
Of the bell that peals and echoes
through the hall;
When the sun's the sky adorning,
There is nothing strikes the heart
Like the rising-bell which wakens one and all.
Oh, the ringing and the clanging of
the bells,
Of the bells, bells, bells, bells,
Bells, bells, bells;
Oh, the awful, dreadful ringing of
the bells.

When we're at the breakfast table,
Chewing steaks as tough as sin,
Which is served in scanty measure to us all,
In the midst of all the babble,
Just increasing all the din,
Sounds the chapel-bell which calls us to the Hall.
Oh, the loud, imperious summons of
the bells,
Of the bells, bells, bells, bells,
Bells, bells, bells;
Oh, the bustling din and clamor of
the bells.

When at last the day is ending,
When at last the sun has set,
And we stroll about the campus peacefully.

There's another trial pending,
And our eyes with tears are wet,
As the study-bell rings out for you and me.
Oh, the sharp, aggressive ringing of
the bells,
Of the bells, bells, bells, bells,
Bells, bells, bells;
Oh, the nuisance of the ringing of
the bells.

When in friendly convocation,
We have met to rest awhile, Coming hither from all sides with stealthy tread,
There is fierce retaliation,
And the tones grate like a file
As the bell rings, hustling us to bed.

Oh, the wild exasperation of the bells,
Of the bells, bells, bells, bells,
Bells, bells, bells;
Oh, the everlasting clanging of the bells.

The Elective System.

The greatest advantage of the electives system, perhaps, is that it saves both time and money. The student who has decided upon his future vocation—be it law, medicine, or civil engineering, can elect studies bearing on his chosen profession. The future lawyer can elect Elements of Law and Contracts and also history and branches more directly related to law. The same freedom of choice is given those men intending to follow other professions. By thus electing subjects bearing on his chosen work, the student may save a year or more at a professional school. If he is poor, this is a great advantage, for it saves the expense of an extra year and enables the student to be at work and earning money sooner than if he had taken the full course.

When the students select subjects that are to their taste, they study with more willingness and consequently do better work. Many students do not like Latin, and since that is required, think it their right to get through as easily as possible, and to use any means, fair or foul. If, however, they have chosen the subject themselves, they have no one to blame if they find the subject unpleasant. Electing branches they like, the students have more enthusiasm for the work. They are interested and can more easily master the subject that is interesting or is felt will be a help in the future. Many college men, feeling that their Latin will be of no use to them in life, take little interest in it and without interest to do good work is hard.

The relations between the teachers and students are made much pleasant. The teacher feels that his branch is chosen because the students are interested in it and are taking it for a purpose and not because it is required. The teacher can do better work if he has the sympathy of his class and knows it is eager for all he can give. As Professor Ladd says:
"More intimate and effective relations are secured in many cases between pupils and teachers."

The elective system seems so far satisfactory. To be able to choose one's subject is an advantage to choose well is very important. Many students never consider the branches which will be an advantage in their future business, but hunt for those subjects which, in the language of the college man, are considered "snaps." For the youth who must go into the business world it is almost a waste of time to study Chaucor and the English Drama. While very much could be learned in these subjects called "snaps," yet because they are "snaps," the college man considers their study, foolish and unnecessary.

Another disadvantage of the elective system is, as has been said with some truth, a boy can go through college and learn nothing.
This, perhaps, cannot be blamed altogether on the elective system. What is meant, however, is that students often elect subjects bearing exclusively on their profession and neglect to get a broad foundation: for example, the law student who never elects sciences and leaves college without any knowledge of chemistry, physiology, or mechanics. Then there are the students who elect "snaps" all through their course. Of course they would not study chemistry if it was not required, but they would at least get some information from simply attending the class and hearing the professor lecture.

From this it may be seen that the advantages of the elective system outweigh the disadvantages. The one disadvantage, the tendency to elect
"snaps" belongs to that class of men who go to college, not to study but to have a good time. The other could be overcome if the students would realize that a broad foundation is necessary for all professions and conditions of life.

LAST WEEK IN BASE BALL.

'Varsity Wins From Gettysburg and Also Does Well in the East.

The 'Varsity baseball team played four games last week, one at home and three abroad and won only that played on the college campus. The contest with Milton on Tuesday was in the nature of a practice game and will not be counted as a regular scheduled game. The Milton team is composed of professionals, and Bucknell had no license to win, having had little practice of late. On Thursday Captain Jackel's men delighted a large crowd by defeating the strong Gettysburg College team on the campus. On Friday and Saturday the nine played Seton Hall College at South Orange, N. J., and Fordham College at New York, respectively, and lost both contests, although the work of the men was the best done in any games this season. There was apparently lack of teamwork and knowledge of the fine points of the game. Had Bucknell been able to take advantage of her many opportunities on Saturday Fordham would have been defeated. But three games in as many days and a two hundred mile trip may excuse any shortcoming of the nine.

MILTON 5; BUCKNELL 1.
 A large delegation accompanied the base ball team to Milton on Tuesday afternoon and witnessed our defeat at the hands of a picked team from the central part of Pennsylvania representing Milton.
 Although the score of 5 to 1 seems decisive, it does not indicate how close the game might have been, if the umpire could have told the difference between "high balls" and base balls.
 Bucknell had the field and retired the first three men up, and Milton did likewise. No scoring was done until the third inning when each team had one man cross the plate. Again in the sixth, with two men out Anderson missed a fly in left field, which cost two runs. In Bucknell's half of the seventh, Anderson drove one to deep left into the crowd, which was picked up by a lady and thrown to one of the fielders who in turn threw Anderson out at the home plate, although according to the rules of the game a blocked ball must be returned to the pitcher's box before it can be put in play. But the umpire could not tell the difference between a woman and a man in baseball uniform. By this time he was unable to see the ball and decided to retire as things were becoming too warm. Milton again scored in the seventh and ninth.
 The following is the score by innings:
 Milton 0 0 1 0 0 2 1 0 1-5.

GETTYSBURG 4; BUCKNELL 13.
 On Thursday the team opened up the season on the University field with the strong Gettysburg team as their opponents and at the end of the game the run column had thirteen to our credit, while the best Gettysburg could do was to bring four men across the plate.

Captain Jackel struck out the first two men. The next drew a pass to first, but was left there as the fourth man was retired at first. In the other half of the first with Grinninger and Smith out, a single by Epier, a double by Anderson and a single by Cockill gave Bucknell two runs. The second inning drew blanks for both teams but in the third with the bases full Jackel issued a pass to first forcing in a run for Gettysburg. Another was scored on a fly to center field, in Bucknell's half Anderson, with two on bases, on a beautiful long drive made the first home run of the season. Cockill also scored in this inning. Gettysburg scored again in the sixth adding two more runs to her credit while Bucknell solved Plank's curves so successfully in the fourth that five more were added to our score which with one in the sixth and one in the eighth completed our scoring.

Seton Hall 1; Bucknell 3.
 Noone, formerly a Holy Cross star, and a rough outfield were factors that conspired to defeat Bucknell at South Orange. Bucknell got seven hits for a total of twelve bases off Noone, but they were widely scattered and netted only three runs. When hits meant runs Mr. Noone was most effective. A rough outfield, with a slope of about four feet in a hundred yards, was responsible for at least four runs of the home team.

Bucknell started the scoring in second inning. Cockill walked. Deats got to first by being hit, went to third on Shirley's double and scored on Sheridan's fumble of Jackel's hot grounder. Shirley scored and Jackel went to third on Porter's single. With two men still on bases and Nobody out things looked well for Bucknell, but the next three men were disposed of without trouble. Bucknell's next and last rally came in the fifth inning. After Grinninger was out, Epier, whom the umpire robbed of a single by calling a fair ball foul, made a very pretty triple. Anderson popped one up to Sheridan, but Cockill got a timely single and Epier scored. In the next inning Shirley led off with a triple, but the next three batters could not connect safely.

Seton Hall scored two in their half of the second on Sweeney's double and Koch's single to center which the rough ground caused Deats to miss. The Jerseyites scored two more in the fifth on a base on balls and two doubles. Their third brace of runs were made in the seventh on a base on balls, a hit, a passed ball and another single, which Jackel could not quite reach on account of being compelled to run up hill.

McKallip pitched a good game, but was unfortunate in having two of his gifts result in runs. He fanned eight men, one less than Noone. Grinninger played a good game at third base.

FORDHAM 5; BUCKNELL 2.
 Although Fordham displayed much better team-work than Bucknell on Saturday, the favors of fortune really decided the game. Bucknell's errors came when they did the most damage, while flexible Fortune seemed to come to the relief of the home team when her services were most needed. Captain Jackel's men did not hit much, but five hits coupled with seven bases on balls and other misplays would ordinarily have netted more than two runs. Jackel pitched his second game in three days and he had the heavy hitting Ford-

To-night we will witness the result of months of practice, of much effort and thought, and of careful and persistent training. The University Minister Association will give its annual production in the Opera House at eight o'clock. The student, thinking that he cannot find a quarter and three hours of spare time to attend this evening, is not worthy of Bucknell. We have very few shows in Lewisburg for which a student would be justified in leaving studies or other pursuits and hence we get very little opportunity for this kind of recreation. Hence when we do have such an opportunity we should be the more eager to grasp it. In addition to passing the pleasantest kind of an evening, the audience will be helping a worthy cause, as all receipts above expenses go to the Athletic Association. Come one and all. Let not the student body be able to reproach you with lack of college spirit and an excess of other parsimony or undue studiousness.

ON Thursday the college hill gave back the first echo of college spirit that has been demonstrated for some time. We hope that the resurrection, if such we may call it, is a forerunner of what is to come. It seems that our college spirit has not been much in evidence for the last few months and is never, only on state occasions, what it should be. Last week our track team returned victorious from Franklin field and we dare say that not more than one fourth of our own students gave them the glad hand of welcome and congratulated them on their victory. When we win in any athletic contest it is only what we expect; but when we lose we are always looking on the dark side. We are too prone to censure and are forgetful of the fact that there are others in the world and we cannot have all we desire. In nearly all of the colleges a defeat is celebrated as well as a victory. The players are congratulated on the game they played. They are given cause to believe that they did their best and that the student body is satisfied. With the result that they go into the next game with a renewed determination to win fresh laurels for their team and for their college. We know of a college team that was defeated four times one trip; yet when they returned the entire college met them at the midnight train and gave them a royal welcome.

It is the duty of every student to come out to practice and to attend the games not only in body but in spirit. Let every college man come out to the games and bring his college spirit with him and then let this spirit manifest itself.

The baseball team, out of four games played last week, were victorious in one only. While it is true that we have not a baseball team, equal to our teams in other branches of athletics, yet we should not judge too harshly from last week's events. In the Milton game a drunken umpire and an excellent opposing team account for our defeat. The Gettysburg game was a most satisfactory one from a Bucknell standpoint. The boys gave us a clean exhibition of baseball, and did well both in the field and at the bat, and worsted a team which had a creditable record, among others having defeated the University of Virginia.

The last two games were with two very strong teams and we should be satisfied with the close games that Bucknell played with them. Although to be sure, a record of one game won out of five played so far this season is a hard pill for Bucknell to swallow, after the football and basketball seasons, yet things are not nearly so dark as they look and Bucknell need not feel discouraged over the baseball outlook.

Theta Alpha.

The society was called to order at 9:00 p. m., Friday evening. A short story was given by Sheldon, '03, which took the form of some experiences "on the road." Then Sheppard, '06, led off in the discussion of the evening, on the topic "Which is the greater incentive to effort, competition or compensation." Next followed several extemporaneous speeches by Bailey, '06, Karge, '04, Ausherman, '05, and Lesh, '05. After Ausherman, '05, had next given a recitation on "Love of Country," Prof. Phillips gave the society a talk on the history of Theta Alpha and Eupelia, and the importance of this branch of college life, urging all to attend and take part in the four remaining meetings of this term. Next week after the regular meeting will come "a surprise." Come and find out what it is.

ACADEMY NOTES.

R. J. Simington spent Sunday at his home in Mooreburg.
C. A. Hazlett has left school and will accept a position with his father in Huntingdon.

The Academy met defeat at the hands of the Watsonstown High School baseball team on Saturday by a score of 9 to 8. The score by innings:

Academy 2 1 0 1 0 1 2 0 1 8 5 9
Watsonstown H. S. 3 2 0 0 0 0 1 2 1 9 3 4
Battery—Watsonstown: Monroe and Baker. Academy: D. Hawk, Church and Langhorne. Umpire Shipp.

Thursday evening Prof. and Mrs. Edwards gave the annual reception to the fourth form class, Academy. In addition to the members of the class, and the ladies whom they invited, quite a number of the College and Academy faculties were present with their wives. After a guessing contest refreshments were served. All present passed a very enjoyable evening and one which does credit to the gracious hospitality of the host and hostess.

Reserves vs. Montoursville.
The Reserves played their first game of the season with the strong Montoursville team at Montoursville on Saturday. The weather was anything but favorable for base ball as a strong wind was blowing that interfered to a considerable extent with the work of the fielders. Although the Reserves lost it took twelve innings to decide the contest and was one of the most exciting games ever seen at that place. Cheesman and Shields did the pitching for the Reserves and Gilbert, 'ex-'04, did the twirling for the Montoursville team. The features of the game were the batting of M. Edwards and Cheesman, and Frye's great catch of a line drive in left field.

The team received the most courteous treatment at the hands of the Montoursville public and have been requested to play another game in the near future.

The score by innings:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 T
Reserves 1 0 0 0 0 2 7 0 0 1 0 11
Mont'sville 2 0 1 1 0 4 2 0 0 0 1 1-12

banites guessing all the time. They did not earn one of their five runs. As on Friday, Bucknell started the scoring in the second. Cockill drew a pass and Shirley singled. Both runners advanced a base on Porter's life. Deats hit a pretty single past second base and Cockill and Shirley scored. Jackel drew a base on balls, but Grimmering filed out to Robertson and Smith forced Jackel at second. In the fourth Deats waited for four wide ones. Jackel singled to right, but the right fielder made a quick return and a pretty throw to third, catching Deats by a foot. Bucknell looked dangerous in the ninth. Porter and Deats, the first two men up, got their bases on balls. Jackel hit what looked a safe one to short center, which the second baseman got under but missed. However, the fielder whipped the ball to third ahead of Porter, who remained at second thinking the ball would be caught. Grimmering forced Jackel at second and Smith fouled to O'Brien.

Fordham scored two in the second on a hit and three errors. They got another in the third on an error, a steal, a passed ball and a single. Their two last came in the fifth as a result of three hits, an error and a passed ball.

A pleasing feature of the game was the excellent work of the umpire who rendered his decisions fairly and impartially. Not an objection was offered to any of his rulings.

Inter-class Field and Track Team.
The annual inter-class field and track meet, will be held on the college campus, on Saturday, May 9th, at 2:30 o'clock. It will be more interesting and exciting than ever this year as there is great rivalry between the classes. The Seniors will again try to capture the cup and if they do, it becomes theirs permanently, but the Sophomores are planning to prevent them winning it again.

Especially interest will be added to the one hundred yard dash, two hundred twenty yard dash, quarter mile run, two mile run and the weights as Pierce, Marsh, Tiffany, Elliott, and Gillis, respectively will try to lower the college records in these events.

THE MINSTRELS.

The Annual Production of the Minstrel Association a Great Success.

The largest house of the season greeted the University Minstrels when the curtain rose at 8:25 on the evening of Monday, May 4th. The body of the house was packed while the balcony held a fair sized crowd. This audience had evidently come for the best time of their lives and from the laughter and applause which at times caused short delays in the performance, you might well have judged that they were having it. Everybody seemed to be in an appreciative humor. Even the people on whom the jokes were cracked, from "Bill" Martz to the faculty, appreciated the fact that they were being "roasted."

The costumes, the stage setting and the music were all an improvement over that of last year's star production. The orchestra, under the leadership of Coryell added much to the enjoyment of the evening. Griffith played the accompaniments well. And one vast change for the better was that the solos were not all of the "Down in the deep let me sleep" order.

When the curtain went up, the personnel of the first part was found to be:

Interlocutor, McCabe, '04.
PREMIER ENDS.

The soloists were Gardner, Frampton, Shipp, Perrier, Daniels, Pearce, Senn, and Shields. The work of McCabe, Senn, Grimmering, Shields, Perrier, Royer and R. Edwards was especially good.

The "Olio" did not disappoint anyone. Senn and Campbell in "The Great Sem. Robbery" made the hit of the evening. But all Bucknellites know "Dromedary" Campbell, the inimitable tramp tragedian, and surely there is no one who does not know "Ida" Senn with her sweet, girlish ways and her fine soprano voice.

Huhn, '06, is a master of the cornet of the evening. But all Bucknellites know "Dromedary" Campbell, the inimitable tramp tragedian, and surely there is no one who does not know "Ida" Senn with her sweet, girlish ways and her fine soprano voice. necy. Chas. Grimmering's trained animal chorus, procured only at great expense, had to be omitted much to the disappointment of the audience. But the entire production from start to finish was a success. The sketches in the second part were written by the students who produced them and reflect great credit upon the individual members.

Bucknell vs. Williamsport A. C.

The "Varsity" nine went to Williamsport on Saturday and met defeat at the hands of the professional team of that place by a score of 2 to 0. The work of Captain Jackel's men was of a very high order and the result of the game was better than any partisan of the team expected.

The chief features of Bucknell's playing were the pitching of Jackel and the work of the team in the field. Jackel pitched a remarkable game. In eight innings but twenty-nine men faced him. Only four balls were knocked outside the infield, but two of which were safe. He struck out five men and gave but three bases on balls. The team had but one error, but this together with a battery error on the part of Porter, gave the home nine the only two runs of the game.

Bucknell could not hit Maley, four scattered catches being the best the visitors could do. Captain Jackel's players came near scoring in the first, sixth and eighth innings. In the first after Grimmering had struck out Smith got to second on Shultz's wild throw to catch him at first, advanced to third on Epler's error at first, where he was left, Anderson being easy from short to first. In the sixth Smith, the first man up, took first on being hit by a pitched ball. Epler fanned, but Anderson hit a long fly to deep right, which Lush caught but could not return before Smith reached third. Deats filed out to left and Smith was left. Jackel the first man up in the eighth inning, got a single, but was forced at second by Grimmering, who after reaching first stole second. Smith followed with what looked to be a three base hit to left. Maitland, however, got under the ball and caught it, and returned it to second before Grimmering could get back.

Williamsport scored the only two runs of the game in the fourth. After Maitland had struck out Sebring, of Pittsburgh National League team, who is at Williamsport on sick leave, hit for three bases. Scudder took first on balls. Sandherr raised three strikes, but Porter dropped the third strike. He threw to third and retired Sandherr, but Cockill, in an attempt to make a quick throw to home to catch Sebring, threw wild and both Sebring and Scudder crossed the plate. The game was short, lasting but one hour and twenty-five minutes.

FIELD AND TRACK MEET.
Seniors Lose the Cup Which They Have Held Three Years.
The 1903 Inter-class Track and Field Meet was held on Bucknell Field on last Saturday, and several of the college records were broken.

The Meet was captured by the Sophomores who rolled up a total of 65 points. The Seniors were close second with 50 points to their credit. The Juniors and Freshmen were were practically out of the race. Great rivalry existed between 1903 and 1905. The Seniors have won the three previous meets and had they won on Saturday the cup would have been theirs.

Glaspie, '03, broke the college record in the 120 yd. hurdles. The record now is 16 1/2 seconds. Gillis lowered his record in the 16 lb. shot put to 39 feet 1 inch. Elliot established a new record in the two mile event, 10 min. 56 2/5.

Let us count our blessings, "let us forget," and as we sometimes do, consider ourselves abused, instead of the most favored of mortals.

The college man at Bucknell has every opportunity to develop himself physically. Gymnasium and Athletic Field are for his use. The campus is dotted with tennis courts and the beautiful surrounding region invites one to long country walks. The Susquehanna affords a delightful place for boating. Class work is not as confining as business life. Apart from the few hours in the class room, the rest of the time may be spent in the open air, especially in the spring term when it is possible to study out of doors.

The student has more leisure for self-improvement than any other class of persons. In fact the whole aim of his four years course is self-improvement as well as preparation for his future vocation. He has also every advantage and enticement to make the most of himself, intellectually and morally, as well as physically. Merely living in the college atmosphere, he must invite much of the literary feeling, and acquire many new ideas from conversation with fellow-students. The class-room work, of course, is a great factor, especially if the professor lectures, when the student learns from two sources, the text-book and the lecture. The library is filled with books with which the student may supplement his class-room work, and also he is able to devote his time to the pursuit of those subjects most to his taste.

The museum, the laboratory, and the observatory afford advantages one would not have if forced to study at home. The student has more leisure for reading and enjoying intellectual pursuits than other persons. Most business men have only a small part of the day for reading, while the student has the whole day, for his lessons do not take nearly all his time.

The student, particularly if he be at a small college in a quiet town, is thrown in the way of few temptations. There are no brilliant operators to draw him from his evening studies, there is even a policeman to keep him from loitering on the street corners, there are no exciting social functions to distract him. But on the other hand, there are congenial persons for his friends and the few receptions are enjoyed the more on account of their rarity.

Death of Dr. Boardman.

At a meeting of the Faculty, held on May 6th, the following minutes prepared by Professor Perrine, was adopted and ordered to be placed on the records:

"The death of the Rev. Dr. George Dana Boardman on April 29th, at the ripe age of seventy-five years, brings to an end a career that calls for a close and profound study during his long life, he strove to clothe his thought with appropriate words that gave a peculiar charm to all he uttered. To melody of voice he joined a grace of manner that discovered a gentleness of spirit far beyond the common lot of man. His central theme was the application of Christ's teaching to the conditions of modern society, and from his excursions into the realm of science, literature, art, philosophy, history and sociology, he came back laden with spoils that were freely used to embellish the work he had chosen to accomplish. As preacher he sought for no transient and startling reward, but appealed to the highest reason, and deeply taught rather than momentarily aroused his auditors. Hence he became closely identified with the scholastic life of his time and earned, as he received, the gratitude of our own and other universities. His occasional orations and addresses, and his stated courses of lectures were events in our work and were models to the mature as well as to the immature among his hearers. The Faculty felt that he was essentially a teacher with himself and the student's knowledge that he spoke as one having the authority of long, sincere and patient investigation. His departure is a distinct loss to the cause of sound learning and of Christian culture, and the Baptist denomination, together with all Christendom, has good reason to regret that he is no more."

INSTITUTE NOTES

Miss Johnson, '05, entertained her mother and sister on Sunday.

Misses Biddle and Stein were guests at dinner on Friday.

The Phi Phi's took dinner at the Baker House Wednesday.

Mrs. Dr. Gehart entertained Misses Parsons, Innes, Bacon and Ebling on Wednesday evening.

The Catawissa News item of May 7 contains a long article on the dedication of the pipe organ of St. Matthews Lutheran church. The instrument was played by Miss Juliet Altha of Bucknell University's School of Music for the morning and evening service on Sunday, May 3. "As the sweet and powerful tones of the big instrument filled the house," says the Catawissa News item "and the skillful fingers of the organist brought out its beautiful possibilities, there was a hush of admiration."

Athletics This Week.

During this coming week the baseball team has two home games to play, one with Dickinson and the other with Lafayette. With the exception of two games on the 21st of May and the 6th of June, these will be the last chances we will have of enjoying the sport until commencement week. The Dickinson team recently defeated State and will probably play a close game with Bucknell. While this should be a good game, the one with Lafayette will be the best home game of the season and no one will be disappointed in seeing a hard-fought game, especially if there is a large crowd of student present to lend support by cheers and yells. Lafayette has one of the strongest college teams in the East having defeated the University of Virginia, and Princeton.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

Eupia.

Eupia met at seven o'clock last Friday evening, and, although there was not the usual number present, a very good meeting was held. Steinheiser, '05, gave current events. He talked mostly on the situation in Manchuria, and he discussed it intelligently. Hess, '05, read an essay which was full of subtle humor. Bowen, '05, read a story, an amusing exaggeration of the rush at the book sale on Friday afternoon. The participants in the debate were Robinson and Livezey, '04, Cole and Myers, '06. Both sides discussed the subject for debate very well, and showed that they were well informed on it.

Theta Alpha.

At the regular Friday evening meeting, the following program was carried out. Tiffany, '05, read an amusing original poem entitled "My Poetry." Then Bailey, '06, Kargo, '04 and Sheppard, '06, each gave well three extemporaneous speeches. The debate was an excellent one. Leiber, '05, and Yingling, '06, spoke on the affirmative and Barton, '06, and Phillips, '06, on the negative. The judges awarded the decision to the latter side. After this, the society regaled themselves with ice cream and cake and adjourned until a week from next Friday.

J. S. Beeks, Supt. of Public Instruction of Lycoming county, visited the college last week.

Carringer, ex-'05, has written, denying the account of his marriage which was published in this paper some weeks ago.

Tennis prospects are bright. The college has a host of players in various stages of development. This augurs well for the next few years. For this year, the team that has been selected to represent the college will maintain a reputation which B. U. has achieved in all lines of athletics. We have the players and the management for a good tennis season. What we need is money as in other lines of athletics. Let all who play this game join the Tennis Association. The fee is but one dollar for permanent membership, and entitles one to entrance in all the tournaments. If you do not wish to enter tournaments, you may some day, and it costs you no more to join now than then.

The cheering at the Lafayette game on Friday was the best that has been done this season, and the students, especially the cheer leaders, are to be congratulated upon their demonstration of spirit. Still the cheering is not what it should be. All the students do not join in the cheering and it lacks force. The order of the leaders to "get up" should bring every man to his feet, and all should yell in concert and with spirit. The cheer leaders should insist on the students rising to their feet when a better cheer than usual is wanted. We would suggest that at Thursday's game, the seats be arranged in two tiers, where every student should make it his duty to be. Let's make cheering on Thursday the best yet.

Our baseball team continues to lose in spite of its good playing. The opposing nine plays just enough better to carry off the victory. So far this season we have won but one out of six college games—and they are the only ones that should be counted—which ordinarily would be discreditible. But we repeat, Captain Jackel's men are playing a good game, and as long as they do that the student body should not criticize them; far from it, they should give the team every possible encouragement. After all, to win games is neither the only nor the highest object of college athletics; certainly to teach youth to do its best for its Alma Mater under all circumstances is a loftier aim. The stronger the foe, of greater value the training; for it is the uneven battles that we have to fight in life, and there is not a better time to train than now. Thus far the nine has met formidable opponents and has done well. More power to 'em.

Seminary Elocution Contest.

The chapel wore its holiday attire again on Saturday evening, and this time the occasion was the Annual Elocution Contest of Bucknell Institute. There has, for some years, been such excellence in the work done in these contests that people have come to look forward to them and to attend them regularly. It is therefore no matter for little comment that Bucknell Hall was filled to its utmost capacity. Those present, moreover, were not disappointed for the contestants held the interest of the audience in spite of the closeness due to the heat and the crowded hall.

Miss Bottorf again contributed to the pleasure of the evening by two selections on the piano and their reception could attest their excellence. Miss Duncan, too, figured prominently in the musical program. Harvey outdid himself in his cornet solo.

Miss Bina Carr handled the southern dialect, for which her selection called, well and her gestures were good. Miss Cathryn Snyder spoke "The Rustic Bride" and right well she did it, seeming quite at home on the platform. "Lost Tommy" is a cute little piece anyway and with it Miss Maria Spitzer made a great hit. Miss Dorothy Walls had a hard selection to handle but the treatment she gave it does her credit. Miss Elizabeth Baker spoke "Mice at Play." All who have heard it know that "Mice at Play" always takes well. But never did it take better than when Miss Baker delivered it. Realistic portrayal and self possession were her strong points. Miss Mildred J. Shaffer followed with "Briar Rose." Her work was such that she might well feel proud of it. It is hard to keep the attention of such a large audience on an evening like that of Saturday but Miss Pearl G. Bentel did this. Her performance was creditable in the highest degree.

The judges were Mrs. G. G. Groff, Miss Gertrude Stephens and Mr. W. C. Gretzinger.

Waver, ex-'03, visited friends here last week.

Thompson, '04, spent Saturday and Sunday at Wilkesbarre.

Dr. Harris announced last week, that Memorial Day coming on Saturday this year, the students would be given a half holiday on the preceding Friday, as well as all of Saturday.

The Junior "Ex."

After the invocation by Dr. Thomas, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Lewisburg, the audience present at the Junior Exhibition in Oratory, listened to some well written and well delivered orations. Lack of space forbids the giving of individual mention but it will suffice to say that the judges must have had a hard time to decide to whom the prize should be awarded. For there was a uniform excellence in the rendition of the program from start to finish. So that the class of 1904 may well be proud of those who represented her on the platform on Friday evening last.

The music was good. The solo, sung by Miss Lane, was much appreciated. And the decorations were tasteful.

The program was as follows:

May Day Festival.

This spring the Seminary started a custom that is kept at many of the colleges for women—that of observing May Day. Thursday afternoon all the Institute and College girls gathered on the campus and spent an hour and a half in marches and drills to the music of the Bucknell orchestra. At about four o'clock the festival began with a grand march in which all the girls took part. They were led in and out among the trees, and finally in lines of eight and sixteen up the open space, where a B. U. was formed. This was followed by several drills, "Coming through the Rye" and the "Minuet." Then there was a short intermission in the exercises, but before the watchers became tired, two sets of maidens ran out at the building—first, milk-maids in strange gowns and sunbonnets and with buckets on their arms; and soon the gypsies came in bright reds and yellows, with their tambourines jingling as they ran. The greens of the grass and of the trees formed a pretty background for this Spring Festival, which we hope will become an annual feature at Bucknell. R. H.

The Reserve baseball team was defeated by a score of 7 to 0 at Northumberland on Saturday. The Sophomore team was beaten 25 to 1 at Watontown.

Tennis Team Decided.

On Saturday Grier, '05, won the tennis match to decide who, with Harris, '03, should represent Bucknell in the Lafayette tournaments, defeating Williams, '02. The contest took place on the Sigma Alpha Epsilon court, and the scores in games were: 6-2, 6-2, 6-2. Harris is the other member of the team by virtue of his being one of the winners of the inter-club tournament last year, the privilege being allowed any member to the Tennis Association to contest his right, however, Harris and Grier will practice together from now until the Lafayette tournaments. Manager Kalp intends arranging exhibition games in doubles with good college teams town teams and at Milton.

The proposed tournament with Lewisburg has been canceled by the latter.

The scores in the tournament last week were as follows: Tuesday, faristol won from Demelt, 6-3, 4-5, 6-4, 6-3, Thursday, Kalp won from Griffiths, 6-0, 6-3, 3-6, 7-9, 7-5.

steals. Bucknell scored in the sixth on an error, an out and a hit. They tied the score in the seventh on an error, a base on balls and two timely singles.

Lafayette got a lucky run in the eighth. Johnson got to third on two errors and a sacrifice, from which point he was sent home on a balk. The balk was entirely unintentional, the ball falling from Jaekel's hand as he was making his preliminary motion. Locknell tied the score in their half of the inning. Cockill got to first on an error and was sent in on two hits.

In the ninth and tenth innings both sides went out in order. Lafayette was likewise disposed of in their half of the eleventh. For Bucknell, after two were out, Jaekel got a base on balls and went to third on Grimmering's single. Tufel, however, went out on an infield grounder.

Sitzer opened the twelfth for Lafayette with a double and was followed by Hubley with a home run to center. Ernst got a single after two were out, but was caught trying to steal second.

Bucknell looked dangerous in her half. After Epler fanned Smith tripled and came home on Cockill's double. The spectators looked for a hit from Anderson and Deats, but both went out on fly balls.

Shirley was taken sick early in the game and retired in favor of Porter. The score:

Baseball Schedule.
On Thursday of this week the Varsity baseball team will meet the Franklin and Marshall nine on the college campus. The Lancaster boys have been playing a good game this year, and the contest should be a good one.

Bucknell will after all meet the Carlisle Indians twice in baseball this season. Manager Kester has given the Carlisle team June 6th and has arranged for a game at Carlisle June 9th, the day following the game with Dickinson at Carlisle. The Indian team is stronger this year than it has been for several years.

THE FOOTBALL SCHEDULE	CALENDAR.	ALUMNI NOTES.	BUCKNELL WAS VICTORIOUS
Manager Thompson Announces His Dates for Next Season. Manager Thompson of the football team announced his schedule for next season on Wednesday. It contains ten games, with two open dates which will be filled later. The schedule is the hardest in the history of Bucknell athletics. There are several new games in the list. Princeton and Western University of Pennsylvania are played for the first time. Cornell, Gettysburg and Wyoming Seminary have a place after a lapse of a year. The other teams were played last year also. It will at once be observed that most of the big games come close together early in the season, but the management could not arrange them otherwise. The Indian game comes earlier than usual, but October 3 was the only date satisfactory to both sides. A word of explanation as to why the Cornell and Princeton games come so close to each other could not be made. After the Cornell date had been accepted, Princeton offered Bucknell the following Wednesday, and as Pennsylvania was not sure that she could give Bucknell a game, the Princeton date was accepted. When Pennsylvania did finally offer us a date the management could scarcely do otherwise than accept it. In Wyoming Seminary and Gettysburg, Manager Thompson has two as good home attractions as it is possible to get. He hopes also to have a strong team for October 21. The other open date is Thanksgiving Day, but unless financial conditions make it necessary, no game will be played on that day. The schedule in detail is as follows: Saturday, September 26, Wyoming Seminary, at Lewisburg. Saturday, October 3, Carlisle Indians, at Williamsport. Saturday, October 17, Cornell, at Ithaca. Wednesday, October 21, Princeton, at Princeton. Saturday, October 24, open, at home. Saturday October 31, Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia. Tuesday, November 3, Election Day, Western University of Pennsylvania, at Pittsburgh. Saturday, November 7, Gettysburg, at Lewisburg. Saturday, November 14, Naval Academy, at Annapolis. Saturday, November 21, University of Buffalo, at Buffalo. Thursday, November 26, Thanksgiving Day, open. Field Meet. On Friday, May 29th, at 2:30 p. m., Dickinson College Field and Track Team will meet Bucknell in a field and track meet on the college campus. This will be a close exciting meet. Admission 35c. The inter-scholastic meet scheduled for the 23d is declared off, on account of the lack of entries.	Schedule of Events for the Last Week of May. TUESDAY, MAY 26. 7:30 P. M.—Address by Mr. Upcraft, Chinese missionary, in Baptist church. 4:00 P. M.—Mandolin and Guitar Club practice. WEDNESDAY, MAY 27. 4:00 P. M.—Orchestra practice. THURSDAY, MAY 28. Baseball Varsity vs. Harrisburg Athletic Association, at Harrisburg, two games. L. A. C. vs. Lewisburg at Lewisburg; two games. Commencement Speakers The following speakers have been chosen for the 32d Commencement of the College of Liberal Arts of Bucknell University: George Ripley Bliss, Washington, D. C. Hannah Goodman, Philadelphia. Abram Cyrus Ginter, Mt. Pleasant. Reese Harvey Harris, Lewisburg. William Lawrence Kaip, Mt. Pleasant. Mary Lila Long, Williamsport. Helen Asattha Solinger, McKean. Clayd Nills Stelminger, Lewisburg. Carl Wayland Tiffany, Fleetville. Walter Kromer Rhoads, Fairplay. Howard King Williams, Philadelphia. The Senior Class this year numbers fifty-five. No Y. M. C. A. Meeting. On account of the address by Rev. W. M. Upcraft, the regular Tuesday evening meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will be omitted this week. Mr. Upcraft is the pioneer missionary of Western China, a renowned missionary, a strong man and a man of remarkable personality. No college student can afford to miss this opportunity of hearing a great man on a great subject. Baptist church Tuesday evening, May 26, at 7:30 o'clock. L'Agenda. Some time next week the L'Agenda will be ready for distribution. The subscription price is $1.50 cash. As soon as the books arrive they will be placed on sale. The place will be announced on the bulletin board. Those who have not already ordered copies should do so at once for there is only a limited number in the first shipment and those who have subscribed will be supplied first. He attended the Bucknell Academy about 1890. Mrs. Ida Paulin, wife of Rev. W. O. Paulin, '95, of Philadelphia, died Thursday, a week ago, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. List, at Lewisburg, Pa. The Trustees of the South Jersey Institute, at Bridgeton, selected officers as follows: President, Rev. Raymond West, '95, Philadelphia; Secretary, Rev. Frank H. Shorner, '81, Bridgeton; Treasurer, John F. Watson, Bridgeton. Prof. Charles Arthur Lindeman arrived here during the past week from Harvard where he has been taking the graduate course in Engineering. For the next year he will be at Bucknell, having accepted the position of instructor in applied mathematics. He is a graduate of the class of '98. The address before the Alumni at the coming commencement of Bucknell University will be delivered by Frederick Bertolette, Esq., of March, Conn., on Tuesday evening, June 23rd. Mr. Bertolette is a prominent lawyer, has achieved distinction in his profession, and is a speaker of much power and ability. He is a graduate of the class of '72. Baseball Subscriptions. Baseball subscriptions are due. Manager Kester wishes those still unpaid to be handed to him as soon as possible. The following subscriptions have been received to date aggregating $32.50: Prof. Rockwood $10.00 F. B. Jaekel 10.00 W. C. Gretzinger 2.50 Prof. J. M. Simpson 2.50 C. M. Howell 2.00 C. B. Bowen50 A friend50	Easily Defeats Franklin and Marshall in Interesting Game. The Varsity nine on Thursday dispatched the local team that had been following in its wake since the opening of the season, defeating Franklin and Marshall on the campus by a score of 9 to 1. The game was just as uninteresting as the score indicates. The visitors were outclassed in all departments of the game, and the Orange and Blue won as she pleased. The contest was devoid of any spectacular features. The nearest approach to anything sensational was Peterson's catch of Deats' apparent two-base hit and a running catch by Andison. Smith played a good game at short. Epler carried off the batting honors, getting a double and a triple in four times up. Tufel was next with three singles. The chief cause of Franklin and Marshall's defeat was the excellent pitching of Jaekel, who allowed his opponents but four hits, only two of which were clean. When men were on bases Jaekel was particularly effective. He struck out nine men, and in the last three innings not a visitor reached first base. Franklin and Marshall's only run was a gift. Brant opened the inning with what looked like a home-run hit to deep center. Deats made a pretty run for it, but with such force that when he reached the ball it fell from his hands, an excusable error on a chance that many fielders would have shunned. By a quick return he held Brant at gaff. Brantaker hit to Smith who threw home; Tufel dropped the ball and Brant scored. Brantaker was caught stealing and the next two men went out on strikes. Franklin and Marshall threatened to score only on two other occasions. In the second Brant led off with a triple, but two men that followed him struck out and one went out on a fly to Cockill. In the third two singles and two outs put men on second and third, but the last man was an easy out. Bucknell clinched the game in the early innings. In the first a base on balls to Grimmering, singles by Tufel and Smith and an out at first netted two runs. In the second two bases on balls and a single scored another run. Smith opened the third with a base on balls and stole second. Epler followed with a triple and scored on a wild pitch. Cockill was out pitcher to first. Anderson went to first on balls, went to third on an attempt to catch him napping and scored on Killeffer's fumble of Deats' bouncer. Deats came home on an out at first and Jaekel's single. Three singles gave Bucknell another run in the sixth, and Anderson's double and an error produced the ninth run in the seventh. The score: Continued on fourth page.

The football schedule prepared by Manager Thompson and the Advisory Committee will be a severe test for our football team next fall. With so many hard games it will take a strong eleven to uphold the reputation this college has made in athletics during the past few years. Good players and plenty of them will be in demand, which makes it imperative upon every student with ability to respond to the call of Coach Hoskins for candidates. Bucknell's reputation will surely suffer unless the students lend their assistance to the upbuilding of a good team. The student who can't play should use his influence to induce those who can to enter Bucknell.

The result of the meet with the Indians a week ago is a disappointment but not a disgrace. Except in the long distances Bucknell did splendidly, and Coach Hoskins and the members of the team are entitled to the praise of the student body. Being our first reverse in track athletics since the spring of 1900 and our only one at the hands of the Indians, the defeat may seem to some to be a little hard to bear, but for those very reasons the outcome of this contest should not be taken to heart; we should not expect too much of our track men. There will be opportunities in the future to retrieve ourselves as far as the Indians are concerned. In the meantime let everybody prepare to administer a defeat to Dickinson next Friday.

The first May-day performance by the young lady students of the college and the institute was a noted success, although informal in its nature, and those who took part, as well as Miss Schillinger, who drilled them, are to be congratulated. It will be regarded as one of the most pleasant and most creditable entertainments given by the Seminary during the year, and the performance should by all means be made an annual feature. We beg to suggest, however, that the Powers-that-be do not "hide the light" of the young ladies from the men of the college, who both appreciate and admire the accomplishments of their sisters, and that hereafter the invitation list include the male students also.

There was some criticism of the college paper last week, because the personals and alumni items were omitted. In explanation we would say that last week there was much more news matter than could be put into the space of this paper. We judged that the student would rather read matters of general interest, like the track and baseball news than personal notes. We would refer all who were disappointed with anything in last issue to a little poem in the April 20th number, entitled "The College Editor." This and last week's issue very well illustrate the two extremes conditions, described in it.

The proverb "It never rains but it pours" applies very aptly to newspaper affairs. And when there isn't an over supply of news, there is almost nothing to report in any line of college affairs. We are trying to please all and will be glad to hear any criticism and rectify any faults which are personally called to our attention.

"Are you going to stay for Commencement," is a question often heard nowadays, but very seldom answered, and even when it is answered, it is usually with a doubtful "perhaps." Why should not every Bucknell student be here for commencement? You will enjoy yourself more than you have by absenting yourself from your classes the whole year. Commencement week is the one short period at Bucknell when studies are forgotten and every energy, even of the "grinds" is concentrated upon enjoyment, the means for which are scattered everywhere about you. Most of the entertainments demand no admission fee. The usual ball games, have their customary price for admission, to be sure; the Commencement dinner has likewise a charge, as well as the class-play, to see which you will have to pay a much smaller sum than you have paid a dozen times, to see some traveling minstrel show in the Opera House. The remainder of the entertainments, oratorical, art musical and others, all are free. The band concerts on the campus, will be a most enjoyable feature of the week. The bands that render the music, have always been of the best, and the Al-fentown band will be no exception. There is "plenty of doings" and the

In writing poems, some fault is found With each and all my verse; It adds but little to my name and Less unto my purse. Though not a poet born and bred,

The laureate I'd be; But just at present I cannot down That pathway clearly seen. I've written of most everything from Love to ridicule; Of the farmer in the springtime working Hard his patient mule; Of the birds up in the tree singing Way up in the air; Of the moss 'round the door-step; Of the flowers sweet and fair. I care not for the critics, so we don't Meet face to face;

I'm going to be a poet and remain right in the race. Just because I'm from the country They say I'm just a bore; Let them say, and sneer and snicker, Their disgust I just ignore. I will not give a cracker just as long As printing's read; Surely some will read my verses Though it makes them sick and dead. Still in after years when sleeping; Of course I mean when dead, Tears upon a lonely grave for the Poet will be shed.

Debating Societies.
The three debating societies will hold a joint meeting in Bucknell Hall on Thursday evening, June 4, at eight o'clock. The subject for the evening will be Emerson and his literary works. It is also intended to secure music to vary the evening's program. Such an event has never occurred before at Bucknell but there is no reason why a joint meeting should not be a success. All members of Euphonia, Theta Alpha and Zeta societies are earnestly urged to attend.

The following officers of Theta Alpha were elected Friday evening for the fall term of next year.
President—Karge, '04.
Vice Pres.—Bartlett, '06.

Treasurer—Barton, '06.
Critic—Ealy, '04.
Censor—Leshner, '05.

Theta Alpha will hold no more regular meetings this term, but will participate in the joint meeting of June 4th.

BUCKNELL WINS DUAL MEET.

Dickinson No Match For Orange and Blue in Track Athletics.

Bucknell won easily from Dickinson in the annual track and field meet on the campus on Friday afternoon, the score being 73 to 31. Dickinson won but two first places and in four different events did not get a place. Five Bucknell records were broken by Dickinson contestants, while the time of Flood in the mile race was the best ever made on this track. In the quarter-mile Marsh ran in 52 seconds, lowering his own record 1-15 seconds. Gaspey clipped a fifth of a second from his own record in the 120-yard hurdle by making it in 16 2-5 seconds. In the 220-yard dash Pearce broke the record of his brother, Charles Pearce, by one second, running the distance in 22 1-5 seconds. He also beat his brother's broad-jump record by making 21 feet, 9 1-2 inches. His brother's record was 21 feet, 1-2 inches. Marsh lowered his own half-mile record 2 4-5 seconds by running in 2:04 4-5. Flood is really entitled to the Bucknell record for the mile race. His time was 4:48 2-5, which is 6 1-5 seconds better than fastest previous mile on this track, ran by Shiff last year. The college record, however, was held by Meeker, who ran in 4:47 in the inter-class contest at the far grounds several years ago. The track at the far grounds, however, is a half-mile in length and the inside, where Meeker ran, is several feet shorter than the track on the campus. The prettiest races were the 220-yard dash, the quarter-mile, the half mile and the mile. In the dash Pearce and Tiffany ran side by side until within 50 yards of the finish, when Pearce forged ahead. In the quarter and half Marsh took the lead at the beginning and held it all the way, finishing strong. Gaspey ran a pretty race in the quarter, taking second place. Flood showed great pluck in the mile. He allowed Betz to set the pace the first three laps, taking the lead himself on the fourth lap and finishing several yards ahead of his opponent. As there were four contestants in the 220-yard hurdle, two heats were necessary. Gaspey won from Francis and Griffiths beat Tomkinson. Neither of the Bucknell contestants desired to run the final and as the time in the preliminary heats was about the same, it was decided to call the race a tie. But one of the field events was close—the hammer-throw. Gillis was two feet ahead of Flett until the latter made 116 feet, 8 inches on his final throw. Gillis tried hard on his final throw to beat his opponent, but he fell an inch and a half short. Pearce showed fine form in the broad-jump, and Steinhilper pole-vaulted very well. The summary:
100-yard dash, won by Pearce, Bucknell; Tiffany, Bucknell, second; Time 10 1-5 seconds.

Quarter-mile, won by Marsh, Bucknell; Dickinson, second. Time 1:14 1-2.
One-mile run, won by Flood, Bucknell; Betz, Dickinson, second. Time 4:48 2-5.
220-yard dash, won by Pearce, Bucknell; Tiffany, Bucknell, second. Time 22 1-5 seconds.
220-yard hurdle, Gaspey and Griffiths, both Bucknell, tie. Time 27 1-5 seconds.
Half-mile run, won by Marsh, Bucknell; Gaspey, second. Time 2:04 4-5.
Broad-jump, won by Pearce, Bucknell; Salter, Dickinson, second. Distance, 21 feet 9 1-2 inches.
Shot-put, won by Gillis, Bucknell; Flett, Dickinson, second. Distance, 38 feet 7 inches.
High-jump, won by Edwards, Bucknell; Standing, Dickinson, second. Distance, 5 feet 3 inches.
Hammer-throw, won by Flett, Dickinson; Gillis, Bucknell, second. Distance, 116 feet 8 inches.
120-yard hurdle, won by Gaspey, Bucknell; Tomkinson, Dickinson, second. Time 16 2-5 seconds.

An Important Work.
The respective presidents of the Junior and Sophomore classes last week appointed committees to confer jointly with a view to devising some means to determine the relative strength of the future Sophomore and Freshman classes which shall take the place of the present "class scrap." If the method the committees suggest is satisfactory it will be made an annual custom, just as the "bowling" is at Pennsylvania and the "cannon rush" is at Princeton.
The committee are as follows: Junior, Deutscher, Martz, Cule, McCabe, Tomson; Sophomore, Royer, Shipman, Bittenbender, Yorse, Smiley.

The Lewistown baseball team defeated the Reserves, twice on Memorial Day.

Bucknell Loses to Harrisburg.

Bucknell was twice defeated by the Harrisburg nine at Harrisburg on Memorial Day. Four home runs were made in the first game two of which Cockill made. Bucknell scored three runs in the first inning. After two were out in the sixth Cockill made another home run, scoring Bucknell's fourth and last run. Harrisburg made her five runs in as many innings on hard and timely hits, coupled with Bucknell's errors.

THE SECOND GAME.
In the second game Harrisburg got but eight hits off Jackel, but they came when hits meant runs. On the other hand but two men, Smith and Cockill, made hits for Bucknell, each getting three. Smith's batting was one of the features, three hits for a total of eight bases being his record. Cockill got a triple and two singles.

Bucknell-Lafayette Tennis Matches.

Bucknell and Lafayette divided honors in the tennis tournament at Easton on Thursday and Friday. Bucknell won the doubles and Lafayette the singles.
The doubles took place on Thursday and consisted of two matches of three sets each.
First match—First set won by Feyer and Wilson, Lafayette, 7-5; next two won by Harris and Grier, Bucknell, 6-4 and 8-6.
Second match—First set won by Feyer and Wilson, 6-4; second set by Feyer and Grier, 6-4; third set by Harris and Grier, 6-4.
Harris opposed Feyer in five sets of singles on Friday. Feyer won the first, 6-3; Harris the second, 6-1; Feyer the third, 6-2; Harris the fourth, 6-0; Feyer the fifth, 6-4.
In the doubles Harris and Grier outplayed their opponents, although the games were close. Harris won a greater number of games than his opponent in the singles, but in the close sets did not play up to his form. A poor court, however, was partly accountable for his erratic work.
The Lafayette team will meet Bucknell here in matches of singles and doubles on June 15 and 19.

The joint meeting of the three literary societies has been abandoned.
Miss Race, '02, who has been teaching in Morgantown, W. Va., is visiting friends in town.

The Bucknell tennis team, in dividing honors with Lafayette on the latter's court last week did creditably, and the individuals are deserving of praise. Playing on their own court when Lafayette comes here

Messrs. Harris and Grier should do even better. We hope that such tournaments will be made an annual feature of Bucknell athletics and we would suggest to the Tennis Association that they elect another, live manager for next season who will arrange one or more tournaments.

The effort of the Junior and Sophomore classes to abolish the annual

"class scrap" and provide in its stead some means of determining annually which of the two lower classes possesses the greater strength and ingenuity, is to be commended. Of course there will be some differences of opinion as to whether or not there should be anything of the kind at all, but there will be clashes between these two classes as long as there are colleges. And they are not without their advantages either. But with the Freshman class growing larger each year, the custom of the promiscuous rush on the campus is rendered very dangerous; and it always has been unsatisfactory, both sides claiming victory. The joint committee should be able to devise a good substitute, one that will be reasonably free from serious danger and will accomplish its aim.

The Senior vacation is an innovation that will be appreciated by the student body, particularly those whom it affects. It is right that a student should have a season of perfect rest after his four years of hard work in college. The vacation will afford many students an opportunity to associate with their fellows in a manner which heretofore they have not experienced, and they will profit by it. Coming, as it does, at the predict season of the year, the recess will give those who have been too busy during other spring terms to behold

the beauty of the place, an opportunity of seeing Bucknell in all her glory, which cannot but create within them a feeling of blessedness and make them glad that they are living. Altogether the action of the faculty is highly commendable.

Through indifference or some other cause Bucknell missed a golden opportunity this year to win added fame in athletics. We refer to the failure to enter Marsh and Pearse in any of the big inter-collegiate games. We are not aware that the thing was even proposed, more's the pity. Bucknell never had two such promising athletes as the ones mentioned and probably will not have for some time to come. Pearse has about decided to enter a medical college next year. Marsh, however, will return. Competent critics assert that Marsh has the ability to get a place or two in the big intercollegiate games, which being the case, the proper authorities should see that he is entered in at least one of these games; the student body will find the means of getting him there. Why hide our light under a bushel?

Violin Recital.

Through the threatening weather doubtless kept many away who would otherwise have been in attendance,

a fair crowd was present in Bucknell hall on Friday night last. The occasional was a violin recital given by Mr. Hadyn Prout. All who know of Mr. Prout's ability as a violinist will realize the excellence of the evening's entertainment for he was at his best. He was accompanied on the piano by Misses Haverstick,

Cobb and Duncan. The program is L'Agenda.

 Last week our much anticipated college annual appeared, and was eagerly caught up by the student body. The L'Agenda of the class of 1904 is a fully representative catalogue of our college life viewed from the side of the college man. The publishing class is to be congratulated on having a board of editors to do the work so carefully and so well. The class this year decided that Bucknell ought to support a larger book, and so determined to place the price at $1.50 and then make the book worth the extra price. The L'Agenda contains 290 pages of matter excluding advertisements and is divided into eight departments: the college, classes, fraternities, organizations, athletics, literary matter, grinds and the alumni department.

In the college department we find the faces of our board of trustees, appearing for the first time in our annual. In the department of classes and fraternities little opportunity is found for any radical change from the arrangement of other years. Under organizations we see in how many directions the students are exerting their surplus energies.

Perhaps the most noteworthy part of the book is in the athletic department: first because of the remarkable records which our various teams have made, and also because of the attractive appearance of this section. Individual pictures of the various captains and managers gives interest, and these little vignettes will prove a smile on the gloomiest day. In the alumni department we find a comparatively new feature so much has this been changed from other years. Our "old Grads" will be pleased to find the faces of associates of other days. Representatives of twenty-four classes may be seen and a brief sketch of their career read at one's leisure.

It is impossible to publish a book like the L'Agenda without some errors creeping in; but in the 1904 annual few mistakes are to be found. The most conspicuous is the interchange of the names of the two track captains, which is a typographical error and was corrected in the proof. The mechanical part of the work is far above that of any previous L'Agenda and the matter published compares favorably with that of any college annual.

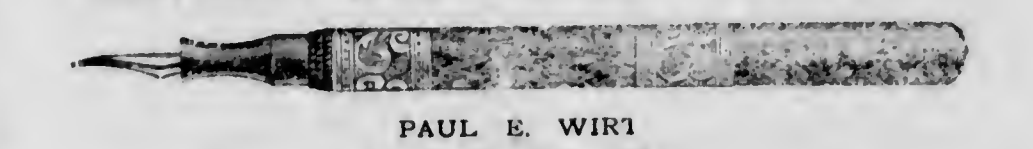

We have too little space to take up the work more in detail but hope to have aroused enough curiosity to force every Bucknell matriculate to purchase and carefully read the 1904 L'Agenda.

ACADEMY NOTES.
 A number of the Academy boys spent Memorial Day at their homes. The Academy tennis team defeated the Freshmen team on Wednesday by a score of 6-2 and 6-3. The Academy baseball team was defeated by the Mifflinburg team on Saturday by a score of 15-7. The game was poorly played on account of the bad condition of the grounds and the inability to keep the spectators from crowding on the field.

VOL. VII.

LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JUNE 8, 1903.

No 34.

WON ONE, LOST TWO.

The baseball team continues to play poorly away from home.

The baseball nine played three games last week of which they won one and lost two. The games lost were those played away from home, with Princeton at Princeton, and Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster. In winning a clean-out victory over the Carlisle Indians on Saturday before the largest crowd of the season, the team partly retrieved itself for the losses early in the week.

PRINCETON 7; BUCKNELL 1.

Bucknell made an excellent showing against Princeton on Thursday. After the first inning, when the home team scored four runs, principally on errors, the game was very interesting. Jaekel pitched well, allowing his opponents but eight hits, only one of which was for more than one base. Four of the Princetonians struck out.

Two hits were the best Bucknell could do in the hitting line, and the visitors would have been shut out had not one of these taken a bad bound and permitted Smith to make home. Aside from Smith, who had the only two hits made, the Bucknell players were at the mercy of Underhill, although some fast fielding robbed Captain Jaekel's men of hits.

The features of the game were the fielding of Amell, running catches by Cosgrave and Epler and Cosgrave's batting:

F. AND M. S.; BUCKNELL 3.

Bucknell lost to Franklin and Marshall on Thursday through poor all-around work. Both Epler and McKallin were out of form and Jaekel was compelled to go in the box for the second day in succession. He had poor control and was hit when his counted most. However, with perfect fielding Bucknell would likely have won, most of the runs being scored by the home team after chances had been offered to retire the side.

Kilheffer pitched in masterly style for Franklin and Marshall, allowing Bucknell but six hits, divided equally among Grimminger, Smith and Epler.

Bucknell held down their opponents well until the sixth inning when bases on balls and errors permitted the home team to get a commanding lead. Bucknell scored in the first on two hits, in the fifth on an error and three bases on balls, and in the sixth on a triple and an error.

BUCKNELL 6; INDIANS 2.

Epler's superb pitching, coupled with timely hitting on the part of his team mates, was responsible for Bucknell's victory over the Indians on Saturday. A large crowd was present at the game which proved to be one of the most interesting of the season on the home grounds.

After the third inning when Bucknell took the lead the result was never in doubt.

Epler pitched a remarkably good game. But five singles were made off him, and he would have shut out his opponents had not Bucknell lunched five errors, the only ones she made, in one inning. He struck out nine of the visitors and passed but one man to first on balls. He was very effective when men were on bases. In the fourth three men were on bases with none out, yet the visitors failed to score, a pop foul fly and two strike-outs retiring the side. Aside from the second inning Epler had excellent support. At the end of the first inning Smith retired on account of illness and Shirley took his place.

The Indians put up a very creditable game. Baker at second and Mitchell at short fielding their positions in clever style and won applause. Regan pitched well, but Bucknell found him when his were necessary to runs. Boward and Deats each got a home run. The latter got a double and a single also, leading his team at bat.

The Senior Class Play.

On Saturday evening the members of the Senior class Play came held their first rehearsal in the Opera House. Mr. B. Luther Anthony, of the Anthony, Hackett Co., of Easton, was present and the whole play was rehearsed on the stage. Mr. Anthony will act as stage director when the play is produced and it is expected that the class play this year will be the best ever produced by any class.

Another feature which is new this year will be the costume by Mr. A. M. Buck, of A. M. Buck & Co., of Philadelphia. Mr. Buck will have entire charge of the make-ups and costumes and first-class work is assured.

Music will be furnished by the Allentown Band Orchestra.

Owing to the increased expense which has been incurred the prices for seats will be raised somewhat over that of former years, but this will undoubtedly be justified by the higher quality of the play.

Inter-Fraternity Baseball.

Last week the fraternities of the college began the custom of inter-fraternity baseball games, which will take place each spring term.

On Tuesday Phi Gamma Delta defeated Phi Kappa Psi by a score of 18 to 13.

On Thursday Phi Kappa Psi defeated Kappa Sigma by a score of 17 to 12.

This afternoon Phi Gamma Delta is playing Sigma Chi. To-morrow the latter will meet Phi Kappa Psi.

Bingham, of Gettysburg College, visited his Phi Kappa Psi brothers last week.

Assistant,
DONALD SPANGLER.

Sentiment moves us to an expression of regret that Glaspey, Tiffany, Edwards and probably Pearce have ceased from active participation in Bucknell athletics. Individually and collectively they have done much to uphold Bucknell's reputation in the world of athletics, and their names will be long remembered with many others that have preceded them.

Now, that the college year is drawing to a close, there are certain matters which it behooves the student to carefully consider. In the course of the year many little and some big debts have been contracted. Some owe to the bookstore, some to the laundryman, some to the tailors in town and other merchants. These little obligations should be as much a matter of care to the debtor as to the creditor. It is not a difficult matter for a student to leave college with unpaid debts behind. But honor should prevent us from trying to avoid meeting such obligations. If you are not strictly honorable about such things now, you never will be in after-life. Your college days are a golden opportunity for building up honesty of character. Not only honesty but college spirit should impel a student to pay his subscription for his college paper. The editorial work of this paper is all done without charge and frequently without appreciation or thanks by the students. But the printing must be paid for. And so do your part and if you have not already settled this matter, attend to it promptly. When our business manager calls on you, don't put him off. If you haven't the money borrow it from somebody else. Be loyal to your college paper.

A Note From Coach Hoskins.

Editor Orange and Blue.
Sir:-I read with interest your editorial in last week's issue relating to the failure to enter Marsh and Pearce in the inter-collegiate games. A word of explanation might be of interest to the student body. The inter-collegiate games held at New York this year were under the management of the American Inter-collegiate Athletic Association. None but members of that organization were allowed to take part, and Bucknell does not belong to it. The fee for admission to membership is $25, with an annual assessment of $10. A college that wishes to join must be proposed by some member and be voted on by all those who belong. I should like to see Bucknell made a member of the association, for we frequently have track athletes here who could make points for us. It would add to our reputation in athletics and would give us standing among the larger colleges of the country.
George W. Hoskins.

Seniors Victorious in the Class Tournament.

On Friday, June 5th, the first class preliminary tennis tournament was played between the teams of 1905 and 1903 on the Sigma Alpha Epsilon court at 2:00 p. m. Orr and McCain for 1905 and Harris and Williams for 1903 started the game. 1905 started out by taking the first game played, but the Seniors soon took the lead away from them and although the score was twice tied and the Sophomores were once ahead, 1903 won the set 6-4. The early part of the second set was very interesting. Most of the games were close but 1903 managed to win the last four games, after the score was two all and take the set 6-2. In the third set the Sophomores showed their game spirit by defeating the victors of the previous sets, 7-5. However here 1905 went to pieces and fairly gave the last set to 1903, 6-1.

At four o'clock the same day, the Juniors triumphed over the Freshmen after a close struggle. The 1906 representatives lacked experience and could not hold their nerve at critical times though they did take one set very prettily. After winning the first game in the last set, and the first three games in the first, they went to pieces and lost both sets. 1906 was represented by Don Spangler and A. L. Taylor, 1904, by I. T. Shepard and H. Christ. On Saturday morning the finals were to have been played, but as the 1904 team failed to appear on the ground the referee declared the match in favor of 1903 by default. The score of the entire tournament follows:

PRELIMINARIES.
1903-6 6 5 6.
1906-5 6 2.
1904-7 2 6.

1903-Seniors by default.

1904.
The tennis clubs are asked to have representatives at a meeting to be held in Room 1, 1:15 Tuesday afternoon to arrange for the inter-club tournament.

LAST WEEK IN BASEBALL.

'Varsity Team Loses to Dickinson and Bloomsburg and Wins From Indians.

The 'Varsity baseball team had another disastrous week, losing two of three games played, all away from home. Games were lost to Dickinson and Bloomsburg by close scores, while the sole victory was over the Carlisle Indians, the latter being achieved by a great ninth inning rally. The game with Bloomsburg was lost in the ninth inning, which makes four such contests that Bloomsburg has won from Bucknell in the last three years. The normal school boys are evidently the hoodoo of the Orange and Blue.

DICKINSON 5; BUCKNELL 3.

The game with Dickinson on last Monday was won by the home players on their timely hitting. They made eleven hits off Jaekel, most of which came when they were most needed. Bucknell was unable to connect safely with Spencer's pitching when hits meant runs, their nine safeties being scattered throughout six innings. Bucknell's first run was scored on an error and a triple, the second run on a base on balls and two singles, while the third resulted from a base on balls, a sacrifice and a single. The fielding of both teams was poor.

BUCKNELL 9; INDIANS 8.

The game with the Indians on Tuesday was a ragged exhibition. The grounds are poor, and errors were frequent on both sides. Epler not being in condition to pitch, Jaekel essayed to do the twirling. He ceased to be effective after the fourth inning and gave away to Cockill who had poor control owing to lack of practice. The Indians were also compelled to change pitchers, Regan replacing Charles.

The lead alternated between the two teams. The Indians scored four runs in the seventh and in the eighth secured one more, which they thought clinched the game for them. But they reckoned without their opponents.

When Bucknell went to bat in the latter half of the ninth the score was 8 to 5 in favor of the home team. Teufel, who was first up, singled. Epler drew a base on balls. Cockill's single scored Teufel and sent Epler to third. Cockill stole second. Anderson made the first out on a short fly to left. Deats sent a grounder to Baker at second, who attempted to catch Epler at home. The latter, however, beat the throw home. Deats stole second. Jaekel struck out. When Bovard came to bat men were on second and third. Regan succeeded in getting two strikes and two balls on the batter, when he connected squarely with one and lifted it over the fence, scoring Cockill and Deats. As the game was over the instant Deats crossed the plate with the winning run, Bovard is credited only with a three base hit.

BLOOMSBURG 7; BUCKNELL 6.
Inability to bunch their hits was the cause of the defeat of Captain Jaekel's players at Bloomsburg on Saturday. They got two more hits than their opponents, but with two or three exceptions they were not timely.

The game was interesting and well-played in spite of the chilly atmosphere. In the fourth the home team got one run and in the fifth Bucknell went one better. In the sixth and seventh Bloomsburg solved the delivery of McKallip, who up to that time had pitched a nice game, and drove in five runs. A timely hit by Deats in the sixth and another by Bovard in the eighth each scored two runs and enabled Bucknell to tie the score. But the normal school boys made one of their ninth inning finishes and won out. Brader singled, and Aldinger sacrificed. Williams hit a clean single to center, on which Brader scored the winning run. With this issue the publication of the Orange and Blue ceases for this college year. We wish to thank those who have contributed to the paper this term. While we were fortunate in having a few who showed a great deal of interest in the paper by frequent contributions, the student body as a whole does not contribute enough to these columns. Often criticisms and expressions of sentiment of general interest, are heard from students, which if written down on paper would be welcomed by the college weekly. In that way the Orange and Blue would more nearly represent the students, and be a better expression of Bucknell sentiment. Above all others the staff should be loyal to the editor and this cannot always be asserted, truthfully. The work has been a pleasant one to us and is a valuable training to any college student.

Commencement Baseball.
On next Saturday afternoon the Freshman and Sophomore teams will contest for supremacy on the college diamond. As 'Varsity players will engage in this battle royal, a splendid exhibition is assured. It will practically be a game between two 'Varsity squads as there are few 'Varsity players outside of these two classes. It is an excellent commencement attraction. Monday afternoon we play Williamsport. A. C. which is champion of this part of the state. Defeated before in the early part of the season 2-0, our boys are anxious to wipe out the defeat with victory. Help them by your presence. For Tuesday no game has as yet been scheduled, but Manager Kester will secure a good team to play Bucknell on that day. Wednesday we close the season with the strong Bloomsburg team, which defeated us by the close score of 7 to 6 last week. This defeat also, we should alone for. Come all and cheer our boys on to victory and a glorious ending to a rather unfortunate season.

New Football Rules.

The changes in the football rules were made public by the Football Rules Committee last week. Although the changes are sweeping in their character they relate only to the offensive plays. The new rules apply only between the two 25-yard lines; outside those limits the old style of play may be reverted to.

The first change is that there must be seven men on the line of scrimmage. This leaves only four men, the quarter, the halves and the full-back, behind the line. The greatest innovation is a rule permitting the quarter-back to advance the ball.

To prevent the quarter-back plunging straight into the line and making a rapid mass play it is ruled that he must, in advancing the ball run five yards to either side of the snapper-back.

To add the officials in determining whether this has been done or not the midfield is required to be longitudinally marked with 5-yard lines as well as crosswise.

To further develop open play by forcing more kicking and the penalty for holding by the side in possession of the ball has been changed from the loss ball to being put back twenty yards. This practically forces a punt.

The College "Scrap."

With regard to the annual class scrap between the Sophomore and Freshman classes it was decided by the committee:

1st. That the scrap be in the form of and designated as, a Dummy Rush.
2d. That the scrap be held annually on the second Monday in October at 1 o'clock p. m.

With regard to the rules of the scrap, it was decided:

1st. That a dummy be placed in the center of the Athletic field with the classes stationed twenty-five yds. distant on each side.

2d. That the respective presidents of sophomore and freshmen classes toss a coin for choice of sides.

3d. That the fight be confined to the space which is bounded on the sides by the north and south stretches of the running track, and on the ends by the customary goal lines extended to meet the track.

4th. That if the dummy is carried by one class over the goal line of the other, it be brought back to the centre of field and two points scored for the side which carried the dummy over.

5th. That, if at call of time, the dummy lies in the territory of one class, the other shall score one point to its credit.

6th. That the side scoring the greatest number of points wins the scrap.

7th. That if the dummy be carried out of bounds it be carried in to the middle of the field from the point where it was carried out of bounds.

It was further decided that the two upper-class presidents appoint a committee of five to act as judges and also appoint two time keepers.

With regard to the rules governing next year's Freshman it was decided:

1st. That Freshmen will be compelled to wear blue skull caps until the 15th day of May, Sundays excepted.

2d. That Freshmen will not be allowed to wear the University colors or monogram or numerals of any kind until Washington's birthday. Varsity men excepted.

3d. That no Freshman will be allowed to call at the Seminary before Christmas day.

4th. That Freshmen are absolutely prohibited from smoking on the College Campus and pipes are forbidden at all times.

5th. That every Freshman must join in "roosting" at all Varsity games.

6th. That no Freshman will be allowed at any time, during his Freshman year, to sit upon the steps or stones in front of Main College.

These rules are expected to be enforced, to the letter, by the Sophomores, with the hearty assurance that both upper-classes will stand by them.

BUCKNELL'S FOOTBALL TEAM

Coach Hoskins at Work with Squad of Old and New Men.

It is too early in the season to venture much as to Bucknell's prospects in football. Much of the material with which Coach Hoskins and Captain Cockill have to work is new, and time must determine its value. The process of developing new and inexperienced men is, at best, slow.

The squad reported to Coach Hoskins on September 5. The old men who returned were Wilcox, '04, Johnson, '04, Cockill, '05, Smith, '05, Cooper, '05, Vorse, '05, Neill, '05, Howell, '05, Goldsmith, '05, and Shipp.

The new men are Brown, Sweitzer, Siegfried, Snavey, Lenhart, Roberts and Church. Since the opening of college the squad has been reinforced by the addition of Thompson, '05, Caruthers, '04, Adams and Winbiger, the latter of Peidie Institute, Smiley, '05, returned on Saturday and joined the squad at once.

The preliminary practice consisted of catching punts, running and tackling the dummy. The signals were given out last week and for several days the players have been put through various formations, several of which are original with Coach Hoskins. The first line-up was held on last Thursday.

Of last year's regular line men but Wilcox at center, Cockill at end, and Shipp, at tackle, have returned, which makes it necessary to develop two new guards, a tackle and an end. Cooper, who played several games last year, has shown up exceptionally well in the guard position, and he will probably be a regular man. Vorse is doing well at end, and he too is probably a fixture. Lenhart, the Lewisburg boy, has alternated at guard and tackle in practice and if his good work continues, he will likely be placed in one of these positions, most likely tackle. For the other guard position Snavey and Siegfried are being tried out. Smiley will likely be a candidate for that position, also. Sweitzer is being trained for both end and tackle.

Smith and Howard were the only regular back-field men to return. Smith will be regular at quarter again. Howard has his old position at halfback, and is also being tried at fullback. However, Johnson, who has done such excellent all-round work on the eleven during his course, will probably become a fixture at fullback.

For the other halfback position the candidate is Roberts, who was at Susquehanna last year, Goldsmith and Howell. Thus far Roberts has been played in the position most Howell and Goldsmith are both fast, but the former is handicapped by a bad knee.

Neill and Caruthers are being tried out at quarter and both show up well.

Of the other promising men in the squad Thompson, '05, and Adams are being tried at tackle, Winbiger and Goldsmith at halfback.

Up to the time of his injury Brown, of Mercersburg Academy, gave evidences of being capable in the back-field. He will likely rejoin the squad this week.

The following schedule has been arranged by Manager Thompson:

Sept. 26, Wyoming Seminary, at Lewisburg.
Oct. 3, Indians, at Williamsport.
Oct. 10, Watertown, at Watertown, N. Y.
Oct. 17, Cornell, at Ithaca.
Oct. 24, Sophomore-Freshman game.
Oct. 31, Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia.
Nov. 3, Election Day, Western University of Pennsylvania at Pithsburg.
Nov. 7, Gettysburg, at Lewisburg.
Nov. 14, Navy, at Annapolis.
Nov. 21, open.
Nov. 26, Thanksgiving Day, open.

Saturday's Line-up.

A fair-sized body of students and well wishers assembled at the athletic field on Saturday afternoon to witness a game between the regular eleven and the Reserves. Owing to the fact that there are several new men on the team much interest was shown in the work of Varsity. While it was evident that the old men not back will be missed, the showing of the new men was very encouraging to the spectators, who are confident of a winning team.

On the Varsity Johnson did good work at fullback. He carried the ball 65 yards for a touchdown. Smith played his usual good game at quarter, steadying the team with his complete mastery of the signals. He made two sensational runs for touchdowns, one of 75 yards and another of 40 yards. Captain Cockill showed, in Saturday's game that he has not lost any of last year's vim. He was constantly coaching and inspiring the men.

Roberts made a pretty good run for a touchdown, and Lenhart showed up nicely at left tackle. He also carried the ball over for a touchdown. Both of these men did fair to develop into good material. Shipp, Wilcox, Cooper and Snavey did good work on the line, repelling repeatedly the attempts of the Reserves to break through. Vorse and Cockill at the ends were too quick for their opponents. Howard made some good runs with the ball and tackled well.

On the reserve team Thompson put up a plucky fight at center. Siegfried and Winbiger also handled themselves well. E. Caruthers played well at quarter.

In the second half Shipp hurt his ankle and retired. Johnson and Smith also retired in the second half. With these men out of the game the Reserves did better work, giving the Varsity a hard tussle to carry the ball over the line for a touchdown. The final score was 29-0.

THE LINE-UP:
Varsity.
C. Caruthers left tackle.
Heidenreich left guard.
Wilcox center.
Thompson right tackle.
Wolfe right end.
R. Winbiger quarter-back.
F. Caruthers left half-back.
Sheppard right half-back.
Goldsmith full back.
Howard full back.

Time of halves, 15 minutes. Touchdowns, Smith 2, Johnson, Lenhart, Roberts, Goals, Johnson 4. Officials, Prof. Wolfe and Brown, '05.

The races at the Lewisburg Fair on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week promise to be the best in the history of the association.

ORGANIZATION OF THE HALLS

New System of Government in The College Dormitories.

The following rules and regulations relating to the organization of the halls were adopted by the faculty in June, 1903:

1. The students residing in the East Wing, those in the West Wing, and those residing in West College shall each form an Association for their improvement and better regulation.

2. Each Association may form its own Constitution and By-laws and elect a secretary and treasurer and such other officers as may be thought necessary.

3. All new students assigned to rooms in a hall will be regarded and classed as "guests" of the hall for the period of two months. When upon recommendation of the Committee on Membership endorsed by the President of the Hall, they may by a majority vote of the members of the hall be elected "residents" of the hall.

4. Residents of the Hall may after a period of four months be elected members of the Hall by a majority vote after recommendation of the Committee on Membership endorsed by the President of the Hall.

5. Any "guest" failing of election to residence and any "resident" failing of election to membership shall withdraw from the Hall.

6. No students shall change from one Hall to another except by consent both of the President of the Hall from which he withdraws and of the President of the Hall to which he enters; in which case, he shall retain his status as resident or guest, but for membership, election must be held.

7. If a student withdraws from a hall to room in town, he will, if readmitted by the President of the Hall, have the same status as a new student; but the association may upon the recommendation of the Committee on Membership endorsed by the President of the Hall withdraw the rights of a student as guest, resident or member, and in such case the student must withdraw from the Hall.

8. Residents shall have the privilege of attendance at the business meetings of the Association except

ALL OUT!

Vice President Hayes, of the Athletic Association, has called a mass meeting of the students to be held in Commencement Hall at 9 o'clock on Monday night for the purpose of organizing the cheering forces for the Indian game. Freshmen must be out. Upperclassmen guarantee them freedom from molestation.

ALL OUT!

those for the election of candidates to residence or membership and of participating in discussion, but shall not have the right to vote.

11. Those students who at the opening of the scholastic year September 1903, shall have roomed in any of the buildings for two terms shall be considered members of the Association of the Hall in which they at that time room.

12. All meetings shall be held upon call of the President of the Hall.

For the year 1903-4, Professor Hamblin will be President of the East Wing Association; Professor Phillips of the West Wing, and Professor Hulley of the West College. The various college halls will be organized under the new rules on Monday evening. The time and place will be posted on the bulletin board.

Fraternity Rules Amended.

The faculty has adopted the following amendments to the "Act for the Regulation and Improvement of the College Fraternities," passed March 11, 1898:

"No fraternity shall be formed, nor shall any fraternity or chapter thereof seek affiliation with or membership in a general fraternity without the consent of the faculty previously obtained.

"The names of all authorized fraternities in Bucknell College will be posted at the beginning of each school year; but no fraternity shall be posted as authorized, the members of which have fallen in their general average of attendance upon class work and in scholarship below a certain fixed standard for two successive years; nor will any person be permitted to join any fraternity which has not been posted as an authorized fraternity for that year."

The list of authorized fraternities posted at the beginning of the present year, in the order of their seniority, is as follows: Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Chi, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Theta Delta, Tau, Hand and Eye, Alpha Kappa Alpha, Phi Delta Sigma, Kappa Sigma; for women, Pi Beta Phi, Phi Alpha Zeta.

Freshies and Sophs Clash.

Although the "dummy rush" was designed with the intention of doing away with the indiscriminate "scrap" at the beginning of each college year, the two lower classes clashed on the campus after chapel on last Friday morning. The Sophs marshaled their forces at the junction of the paths and, advancing, met the Freshies just as they entered the campus from the chapel. After the first rush the "scrap" was confined almost entirely to individual work. When the fight had continued for 15 minutes the upper classmen separated the two forces without either having gained an advantage. The first annual "dummy rush" will take place on the football field on October 12, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Next Saturday's Game.

The first football game on Bucknell's schedule will be played on the athletic field next Saturday afternoon when the Varsity lines up against Wyoming Seminary. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock. Of late years Bucknell has had difficulty in defeating the boys from Kingston. The last time they came here, in 1901, the score was 5 to 0 in favor of Bucknell.

AN AUSPICIOUS BEGINNING.

Bucknell Commences 58th Year with Most Glowing Prospects.

Bucknell began the 58th year of its existence on last Thursday under the most promising conditions. The attendance is the largest in the history of the institution. The total number of students in all departments of the university is upwards of 700, of whom about 425 are in the college. The entering class numbers 125.

The rapidly increasing attendance each year has made necessary several additions to the corps of instructors. Charles Arthur Lichtenman, A. M., formerly professor of mathematics in Union Virginia University, has been added to the department of Civil Engineering.

Paul Emil Weithaus, formerly an instructor in Syracuse University, is a new instructor in the department of Latin. A new instructor in the department of modern languages.

Floyd George Ballentine, Ph. D., late of Harvard, is a new instructor in the department of Latin. A new instructor in the department of modern languages.

Manfred French Forbels, A. B., is instructor in Eloquence and History.

In the School of Music Miss Harriet Tracy, a graduate of the Chicago College of Music, is a new instructor.

Miss Von Lee Goodenough, a talented vocalist, will have charge of the vocal department.

Prof. G. C. L. Reimer, of the department of modern languages, has been granted a year's leave of absence which he will spend in post graduate work in Leipzig, Germany. He is accompanied by his wife.

Prof. Thomas Morris has resigned from the department of Latin, to take a post graduate course in Latin and Greek in the University of Chicago, having secured the Charles Miller fellowship.

During the summer months several improvements were made on the college property. General repairs were made in the main building and West College, and in the basement of the latter building the shower baths were made ready for use. The apparatus is modern, and hot water will be supplied through a 500-gallon tank.

Fifty new lockers were placed in the gymnasium, and the bathing facilities were greatly enlarged and improved.

Y. M. C. A. Reception.

On Saturday evening the Y. M. C. A. held its annual reception to meet the new men and welcome them to Bucknell. There was a large attendance.

The reception lasted from 8 to 8:30 p. m., after which Prof. Wolfe made a short address on "The Physical Development of the Student," followed by Prof. Hamblin on "The Intellectual Development of the Student," and Dr. Harris on "The Spiritual Development of the Student." G. G. Mahy, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Scranton, concluded that part of the program with a short informal talk. After the speaking a committee served cake and lemonade.

There seems to be an added interest in the Y. M. C. A. work this year, and surely, if the valuable advice of the evening's speakers is heeded by the student body, the Y. M. C. A. work of the year will be a success.
